In the Methodist church in Milltown, N. B., on Sunday evening last, Rev. R. S. Crisp, pastor of the church, spoke on the labor question. The reverend gentlemen stated that Great Britain was more democratic than either the United States or Canada because the laboring men were represented in parliament by men from their own ranks, which was it irritating to most of them, it should be diluted with rose water or pure water; one part of glycerine to three parts of rose water. If about one-dram of acetic acid is used to one ounce of glycerine it helps to remove any stains from the hands.
