

AROUND THE CITY

Trades and Labor Council.
A special meeting of the Trades and Labor Council will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

Football Practice Today.
The Harrier football players will practice this afternoon on the Marathon grounds. The team will probably go to Moncton on Thanksgiving Day.

Relatives Are Grateful.
The brothers and other relatives of the late Harry Doody wish to thank the general public and the hospital staff for their kindness during the illness and also for the sympathy shown.

Changes On S. S. Yarmouth.
Mr. Crosby, who was, until yesterday third officer of the S. S. Prince Arthur, has accepted the commission as second officer on the S. S. Yarmouth. Mr. Inglesfield has resigned that commission on Monday last.

Public Utilities Commission.
The public utilities commission held its regular meeting in the government rooms on Church street yesterday afternoon, but only routine business was dealt with. All the members of the commission with the secretary, F. Robertson, of Fredericton, were present.

Lecture in St. Mary's.
There was a large attendance in the St. Mary's church schoolroom last night to listen to a lecture given by Archbishop Benson on the missionary work among the Eskimos in Baffin Bay. The lecture was greatly enjoyed and at the close the lecturer was tendered a vote of thanks moved by J. N. Rogers.

LANCASTER CONSERVATIVE CLUB.
The Conservative Club of Lancaster No. 1, which was organized last Friday evening, will hold its second meeting in Orange hall, Fairville, at 8 p. m. next Friday, to complete organization and receive reports from all committees. All members who can possibly attend are invited to do so, as there is important business to be brought before the meeting.

Y. M. C. A. Activities.
The boys of the junior division of the Y. M. C. A. had a discussion on departmental work yesterday afternoon. It was decided that two of the boys would go each Monday night to the Industrial Home to teach the boys there physical drill. The leaders of the Y. M. C. A. bowling league will meet Thursday night and a schedule will be made up.

Art Club's Annual.
The St. John Art Club's annual meeting will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the large room of the C. M. B. A., 140 Union street. The programme will be: Reports of last year's work, election of officers and appointment of committees, music and refreshments. Those who are interested in the work of the club will be present and those wishing to become members are invited to attend. Mrs. J. M. Barnes will play a pianoforte solo and music will be given by Miss Valerie Steeves, of Fredericton and E. M. Armitage, of Sherbrook. Mrs. Barnes and Miss Mary Tapley playing the accompaniments.

Dog Day Today.
About two hundred citizens who have neglected to take out licenses for their canines, were yesterday summoned to attend court today and give an account of their failure to comply with the city bylaw. A large number of people are of the opinion that the magistrate is bound to let them off if they say they do not own the dog, that poor Fido merely happened in the backyard one day looking very hungry and forlorn, had been fed by the children and decided to attach itself to the premises. But this excuse is not accepted as valid. The law provides that anybody who harbors a dog is responsible for it and must pay for a license.

High School Reading Club.
The Reading Club in connection with the High School Alumni has arranged a pleasing and varied programme for the winter, meetings which will be held on the first Thursday of each month. The first of these will take place on November 2nd, at the residence of Dr. Thomas Walker, Princess street. The programme for the series is as follows:
November—Musical evening.
December—Robert Browning.
January—History and legends of St. John.
February—Shakespeare (King Lear).
March—Famous Men and Women of the present day.
April—Social evening.

St. Rose's Festival.
The fall festival in St. Rose's hall last evening proved a popular attraction. The attendance was a record one. The beautifully decorated booths appealed to the large crowd and for those who had not previously visited the hall they proved a pleasing surprise. The amusement features of which there are many received generous patronage, and there is every indication that the festival will prove as much of a success financially as it has been in point of pleasure. The voting contest for the most popular dramatic society went with a merry swing and a large vote was polled with the odds slightly in favor of the A. O. H. This evening will see the close of the fair and also of the voting. The St. Joseph's orchestra will provide the musical programme for the closing evening of the festival.

Patrol Wagon Was Stolen.
There was an incident on Charlotte street yesterday morning that caused some comment. A man was chased from Union street to the corner of North Market and Charlotte streets and captured by Policeman Silas Perry and placed under arrest. The officer held the prisoner near a pole while he requested some person to telephone for the patrol wagon. The hurry up wagon was a long while coming and while the officer was standing there with his prisoner a large crowd gathered about. The prisoner made a number of remarks and the crowd laughed. Finally as the wagon did not put in an appearance the policeman escorted his prisoner a couple of blocks to the Central police station. When he had almost reached the station the patrol wagon arrived but was then not needed. It has been suggested that under the present circumstances when an officer makes an arrest he send a postal card for the wagon and he can await its arrival at leisure.

CONFUSION IN THE UNION DEPOT

Lights Accidentally Extinguished Just Before Arrival of Late Train Last Night—Passengers Groped in the Dark

The Boston express arrived in the Union depot on time last night and the only thing unusual was that the train arrived in the dark.

About ten minutes before the express arrived the packing was blown out of the engine and the result was that all the lights in the train shed, the depot and the offices went out. The place was left in darkness.

There was dismay among the older travellers while the younger ones did not mind it so much. The ticket agent and the train dispatcher hurried for oil lamps and while they thus had a chance to continue their work, the other persons in the depot had to grope their way about in the darkness. Finally the Boston express arrived and it was no easy thing for any person to pick out their friends as they left the train. One man took hold of a woman's arm and in welcoming her home found that it was not his wife. Another passenger who wished to go to Halifax found himself on Pond street, and there were very many amusing occurrences.

There seemed no person about the depot who could tell a reporter (who was afraid to be alone in the dark) just what was the cause of the sudden darkness and then it was necessary to proceed to the power house and find out. There was the usual stumbling over tracks and railway tracks until one of the employees with a lantern was located and the power house was found. There it was ascertained that no person had been injured, but that with some minutes of work on the engine matters would be straightened out.

MR. HYATT IS WILLING TO SUFFER FOR CAUSE

Socialist who Aspires to Oppose Mr. Hazen will Conduct Campaign in Open Come What May.

"Even should I be placed in jail for it, I shall come out and speak in the open, if I am nominated as the candidate against Hon. Mr. Hazen." Such was the announcement of F. Hyatt, made to his comrades and fellows of the Socialist party at a meeting held in their hall last evening. Prepared to bear all things for the cause, yet even the martyr's crown as did F. Hyatt and those other illustrious named by Chairman Taylor following the self offering of the future candidate of the party.

The meeting was held in the new hall on Dock street. The attendance was not a record one, about thirty-five showing up. It was marked, however, with some interesting moments, snatches of fiery oratory and frothy appeals to the audience to come forward in defence of their rights and emancipate themselves from the shackles with which the capitalists bound them hand and foot. The press was rapped with a vengeance, and the Standard reporter's ears tingled as that journal was arraigned for its naughty conduct. Having used the meetings of the Socialists to further its own ends, in return for all this, with sneers, it chronicled the proceedings of last Sunday's meeting of the party and "most unkindly cut out all" marked the failure of the party to raise the necessary funds to name the Socialist candidate in the coming contest. The legal profession too, came in for their share of the big stick.

Chairman Taylor opened the proceedings with an apology pro causa. He gladdened the hearts of his audience with the announcement that the Socialists are not bomb throwers, and that they are harmless, whereupon the audience breathed freer. A lengthy historical sketch of the origin of slavery followed, its subsequent development down to the present, where it has reached the millennium. The candidate was then eulogized and his virtues lauded while the orator wound up with a list of the ills for which the tenets of Socialism are a panacea.

Comrade Hyatt then addressed the comrades and fellow workers, assuring them of his determination to oppose the Minister of Marine and Fisheries, provided the necessary where-with in the form of the coin is forthcoming, and announced that he had already over half of the required amount subscribed, and as he could conduct his election campaign more economically than the ordinary politician, no very large sum would be needed after the nomination is effected. He then delivered his opinion of the politicians, took a rap at the Standard, and after a brief peroration on Socialism concluded his address.

After an address by Comrade Eastwood, an open meeting was held, the audience being invited to ask questions, which invitation was accepted by one of the number. As some of the audience started to leave they were invited to remain and discuss the tenets of the party; but as none elected to try conclusions with the orators of the evening the meeting adjourned. The chairman before the close informed the meeting that he would not again pass around the plate for contributions for the campaign fund.

Going Back to Greece.
The Greek colony turned out in force at the depot last evening to bid farewell to John Venetoulis, who was returning to his native land after a two years stay in St. John. Mr. Venetoulis has been engaged in the tailoring business and leaves two brothers in St. John. He has a mother and sister in Greece with whom he hopes to spend Christmas. He may return to St. John next year.

SAILOR PREFERRED HIS SHIP TO JAIL

Ernest Starr Will Go to Grindstone Island and Thence to Sea - Was in Court Yesterday.

Ernest Starr, an Italian sailor arrived in the city about 10 days ago and was arrested on the charge of drunkenness. He was adjudged guilty and sent to jail for the term of 20 days. Yesterday afternoon the sailor was taken into the police court and was brought face to face with the captain of an Italian ship which is loading lumber at Grindstone Island, in Albert county.

The captain with the aid of Boarding Master John Richards explained to the magistrate that Starr had shipped in Rio Janeiro for a voyage of eight months and when they arrived at Grindstone Island he deserted. The captain said he wished that Starr should be returned to the ship. The sailor had only been away from the ship about 24 hours when he was arrested in this city on the drunk charge. He informed the court that he thought that he should have been discharged when the ship departed for Grindstone Island, and when he was informed that if he did not return to the ship he was liable to a long term of imprisonment with work on the chain gang where he would receive no wages, the sailor decided that he would rather go before the mast on the Italian ship again.

He had a brief talk with the captain and was released from the jail and in company with the captain left early this morning on the steamer Harbinger for Grindstone with the idea of joining his shipmates and working before the mast on a voyage to Liverpool.

CHIPMAN MAN HAS NO USE FOR WEST

Charles Baird Prefers Chipman and Comfort to Vancouver and the Encumbrances that Go With it.

After three months spent in Vancouver, Charles Baird and family have returned to their home in Chipman. Mr. Baird is not pleased with the west. The climate did not agree with him and the great city of Vancouver has represented it to be.

Speaking of Vancouver he said: "It is, or will be, one of our greatest cities and has a large number of opportunities, but it did certainly shock me to see the greed for the mighty dollar. Anyone could see in a few days the main aim of the people is to get hold of the dollar and if they could not get it honestly, to get it."

"While there I met with a number of people, who when asked how they liked Vancouver would say, Oh fairly well, but I have to work harder here to make as good a living as in the east. They will tell you that when they left the east they had a home free of encumbrances with plenty of everything needed, and today you will find them shut in on a 25 or 50 foot lot living in a house owned by some real estate grafter, paying from $40 to $60 a month rent, with a large sign on the door, 'This house for sale.'"

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT CANCELS HIS VISIT

New Governor General Had Intended to Come to St. John, on December 9th, but Changed His Plans.

Yesterday morning the mayor received a letter from Mr. Lowther, secretary to the Governor General, stating that H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught would pay a flying visit to St. John on December 9th. Yesterday afternoon His Worship received a telegram stating that unforeseen circumstances had arisen which made it necessary for the Governor General to abandon his intention of visiting St. John on December 9th.

It is understood that the new Governor General planned on paying a visit to Halifax in December and stopping at the winter port on his way to Ottawa, but that circumstances over which he had no control had suddenly developed which prevented him from making his contemplated trip to the Maritime Provinces.
