

The Canadian Colleges'

MISSION

In December, 1891, Jas. S. Gale, B.A., who had been our missionary in Corea for two years, severed his connection with the Association. Thus was formed on April 1st, 1892, The Canadian Colleges' Mission, which has grown in numbers and influence each year, and now includes thirty-five organizations in the Colleges of Ontario and Montreal. Among these are the University of Toronto Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.; the Toronto Medical Students' Y. M. C. A.; Womens' Medical College; Normal Schools of Toronto and Ottawa; Ontario Agricultural College; McGill College Y. W. C. A.; Ontario Veterinary College; Ontario College of Pharmacy; Coligny College, Ottawa; Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby; Demill Colleges at Oshawa and Toronto; Western University London; Brantford Young Ladies' College; Presbyterian Ladies' College, Toronto; thirteen Model Schools and two Collegiate Institutes.
