The Canadian Courier

A National Weekly

Subscription - - $2.50 a Year.

Editorial Talk

THE second issue of this journal was received with even more enthusiasm than the first, and the entire edition of 10,000 copies was quickly exhausted.

The subscription price has been placed at $2.50. The introduction price was $2.00, and any person sending in a cash-with-order subscription may still get it at that price, if the letter is mailed within one week of the receipt of this copy.

TOM O. MARTEN

The issue of December 22nd will be a Christmas number of enlarged size. It will be embellished by a special cover design by Tom O. Marten, whose excellent

British Columbia character study is one of the features of this issue. It will have other special features which will make it the best five-cent Christmas number ever issued in Canada.

JOHN INNIS

There will be a double-page colour picture by Mr. John Innis in this Christmas number which alone would make it notable.

We have said little about the policy of the paper, and many questions along this line have been received. It will be our aim to publish a national weekly which will truly represent the Canadian people in their best moods and their most laudable activities. It will aim to entertain as well as to inform, to present a weekly summary of events and utterances and to illustrate with picture and drawing that which seems most worthy of special consideration.

After this week all communications, manuscripts and photographs should be addressed to 81 Victoria St., Toronto.
