

Summons Made 3rd June 1820.

Sir,

I have the honor to inform you that we are again placed in a very awkward situation with regard to the Indians visiting this Post. The approved Estimate for this season being quite inadequate to the demands, it has again become necessary, tho' every precaution has been taken to Economize and reduce the quantities usually issued to each individual / for the Commandant to purchase an additional supply on his own responsibility. Had the Requisition framed at this place last year, been carried into effect, it would have supplied all the demands, a complete list to each individual / as per enclosed scale / might have been given and the surplus, if any, would have remained in store, and been taken an account of the next years Estimate, this however not having been done, and having received

To The Honorable William Law
