

Colorado Plan

C 12203

12

Under the Industrial Representation Plan in Colorado, various matters which could not be adjusted by Company's representatives have been taken up promptly by higher officials. No more valuable service is rendered the Company than in connection with the prompt, thorough, and exhaustive attention which is being given to every grievance as it arises, whether trivial or important. The main thing is to get together officials and men on a common basis of manhood and justice.

Antagonisms may be changed into rapprochements between parties concerned if rightly handled.
