(Special Staff Correspondence.)

London, July 4.—A few weeks ago escribed to you the manner in which bank amalgamations are progressing in this country. There was an interestng race between Lloyds Bank Ltd. and the London City and Midland Bank-ing Co., Ltd., to see which of the two should first reach a position in which its deposits were over one hundred nillion sterling.

Both concerns were trying to amalamate a well-known west country bank, known as the Wilts and Dorse Banking Co. Ltd., and when the anouncement was made that Lloyds had succeeded and so brought its deposits figures up to £105,210,059, everybody expected that its energetic rival would ot long be left behind.

Incidentally the struggle of two great financial concerns for the banking bus-iness of counties that are almost purely agricultural showed that there was not much wrong with agriculture in this country.

Now the London City and Midland Bank has taken over the business of the Metropolitan Bank (of England & merce, Wales), Ltd., which has one hundred and sixty-five branches and agen-cies. Some of these are in towns where the London City & Midland is FOR FIRST PLACE, where the London City & Midland is already established and it is unlikely that both offices will be kept open in London City & Midland, who was created a baronet in 1900, is a Lancashire man born in 1848. He received his education at Owens College in Manchester, and is fond of recalling the early days when he started at the bottom of the ladder. Thus, the chairman of our biggest bank next to the Bank of England is a self-made man, and, like so many of our self-made men, he is a strong Liberal and Free Trader.

The hull sustained only slight damages, and the necessary repairs will not be extensive.
