

Adj. and Mrs. Hargrove Presented With Addresses

On Sunday Night, at S. A. Barracks, Departing Couple Were Signally Honored by City Council and Patriotic Society.

There is seldom a crisis in the history of a nation or a city but that some men are discovered, who possess to an eminent degree the necessary qualities to cope with the situation. The City of Brantford has passed through perhaps the most critical period in its history and it has been found necessary to call into existence several new organizations to adequately meet the many extra functions of civic management, also the public spiritedness of the community has been severely tested. Very prominent among those responsible for the great amount of executive work necessary under these extraordinary circumstances will be found the name of William Hargrove of the Salvation Army. As a member of the Patriotic Association and as a member of the Social Service executive the adjutant has occupied positions entirely outside of the ordinary duties of a Salvation Army officer, and it is recognized that in no small measure, the success of both these important organizations is due to his untiring efforts and fine executive ability. In addition to this, finding that the financial stringency was rendering many men homeless, the adjutant assisted by the generous help of a number of friends founded and equipped an institution to meet the demands of these unfortunate, which he, with the assistance of his wife, maintained until the emergency was passed. In view of this record of public service, the Mayor and Council decided that an official farewell be accorded to adjutant and Mrs. Hargrove.

The Army Hall was crowded to capacity on Sunday evening, many late comers being forced to stand in the entrance. The first part of the meeting was taken up by various speakers from the ranks of the Salvation Army soldiers, who briefly but earnestly testified to the spiritual uplift they had received during the adjutant's term of office.

COUNCIL ARRIVES.

At 8:30 p.m. the Mayor and Mrs. Spence accompanied by representatives of the council and other bodies arrived. The Mayor in his opening remarks emphasized the importance of the Army work in Brantford, and expressed his pleasure in being called to preside at a function without precedent in this city. Representing Mr. Lloyd Harris, Mr. W. N. Andrews, read and presented an illuminated address from the Brant Patriotic Association to which the adjutant, though deeply moved, replied suitably.

On behalf of the citizens of Brantford, Mayor Spence read a resolution passed by the city council, representing a number of business men, also had a testimonial to present.

Mr. MacBride made reference to the fine qualities of heart and mind which had so endeared the adjutant and his wife to their many personal friends, and at the conclusion of his remarks, Mrs. Spence presented a handsome Bible to Mrs. Hargrove, suitably inscribed.

Mr. T. L. Wood as president of the Y. M. C. A. brought greetings from that institution.

The Rev. Mr. Woodside endorsed the remarks of the previous speakers, and also voiced the regret of the Ministerial Alliance in losing so valued a member.

Messrs. Winegardner and Carter expressed the sentiments of the Brotherhoods and the meeting was brought to a conclusion by the singing of "God Be with You Till We Meet Again."

Adjutant and Mrs. Hargrove left for New Brunswick yesterday.

The following address was read by Mayor Spence:

Dear Sir:—Upon the eve of your departure from our midst to some other field of activity, the city council upon behalf of the citizens of Brantford, beg to express a grateful acknowledgment and appreciation of the noble Christian service you have so cheerfully given during the two years you have been in command of the local Salvation Army Citadel.

Brantford, in common with other cities in our beloved Dominion, has felt the economic effects, caused by the present European war, and both advice and judicial action were needed to successfully cope with conditions.

We found in you a wise counsellor, an energetic worker, and a true, gallant soldier in the great army you so worthily represent.

In our municipal social problems, you did much to alleviate conditions by the establishment of the Salvation Army shelter, and by your excellent work in connection with our Social Service and Patriotic Leagues.

Your service in our city has been one of unselfish devotion and cheerful obedience to duty.

We sincerely regret your leaving, but wish you and Mrs. Hargrove, God-speed in your next command.

Signed on behalf of the Brantford City Council,
The following address was read by Mr. W. Norman Andrews, Adjutant William Hargrove, Salvation Army Barracks, Brantford.

Dear Friend and Fellow Citizen,—On this the occasion of your departure from Brantford we desire to express our sorrow, in your removal, and wish you and your family God-speed, and for the future, an even greater evidence of Divine favor.

As officer within the religious body to which you belong, we believe, you have proved yourself both efficient and painstaking, never wearying in the constant demand made upon your resources of mind and of body and heart.

In the great national stress through which we have been passing, you have shown yourself a man of appreciation and sympathy, and have rendered a distinct service to the community by your valuable work within the administration of our Patriotic funds, for which our whole citizenship is grateful.

We trust your future may be as bright as the memory you leave. And if in the providence of God your lot should again be cast within our city, we shall welcome you back as a true friend, a worthy citizen and a faithful servant of God.

Signed on behalf of the Brant Patriotic and War Relief Association,
Brantford, Oct. 11th, 1915
Editor of Courier:

Dear Sir:—On behalf of my dear wife and myself, I desire to place on record our deep, heartfelt thanks, for all the favors shown us by the citizens of Brantford during the two years we have spent in this city. When we think of the many different ways in which the public officials and the general public have again and again helped us we feel unable to find words to express our gratitude. The farewell tendered us by His Worship the Mayor and citizens last evening, is to us a tribute far exceeding our deserts, but for which we shall always give God the glory. We desire to thank the press for the practical support we have received on all occasions; they have been almost too good to us. The Mayor has always acted as a true friend and helper, and the Council have accorded us favors unprecedented in the history of the Brantford Corps. The business men and manufacturers have done it has exceeded our expectations, while the citizens have been kindness and sympathy impersonified. We feel unworthy of the high honor which has been paid us, for we know that oftentimes the higher ground only the combination of luck and skill will secure a successful sheep. Every head brought down will represent honest hard work and straight shooting. A bighorn can no further over the rocks in five minutes than the best mountaineer can travel in twenty. It is a game, and its massive, wide spreading horns make a beautiful ornament. Of all Canadian game animals it is easily hunted, the mountains being of easy ascent, and one can ride within two or three miles of where the hunter there is absolutely no chance of approaching within shooting distance.

Yours sincerely,
Adjutant and Mrs. Hargrove.

THE HAUNTS of BIG GAME

(1) Trophies of the Rockies. (2) The Mountain Goat. (3) Grizzly in his lair. (4) In the native wilds. (5) A fine prize.

The best and easiest country for hunting the common bighorn is that portion of the Lillooet District north of which to reach the Kootenay sheep country which is probably the most accessible of any, though the country is rough and somewhat difficult, and is only recommended to those who like mountaineering. The Cuslar country is the most famous animal in the Province. The C. P. R. steamer from Vancouver makes connection at Wrangell with the River Route for Telegraph Creek, the arrangements made with the C. P. R. general offices. The bighorn is almost entirely a grazing animal. His natural feeding grounds are the high mountain meadows, which lie from a thousand feet below the timber line up to the snow line. He is not equal to the mountain goat as a climber, but the hunter finds impossible to traverse. Its flesh is pronounced by all to be the most delicious of any game, and its massive, wide spreading horns make a beautiful ornament. Of all Canadian game animals it is easily hunted, the mountains being of easy ascent, and one can ride within two or three miles of where the hunter there is absolutely no chance of approaching within shooting distance.

The patient hunter can scarcely fail to secure a trophy in this country. Michel, in the south, and Golden, on the main line, are good points from which to reach the Kootenay sheep country which is probably the most accessible of any, though the country is rough and somewhat difficult, and is only recommended to those who like mountaineering. Warden's Office at Vancouver, and from the sportsman's and tourist's associations at Fernie, Nelson, Revelstoke, Vancouver and Victoria, B.C. They are all well supplied with reliable information and have permanent offices and secretaries who will take pleasure in extending any assistance to the visiting sportsman.

The grizzly is a well-known species of the bear family and has always had the respect and admiration of all sportsmen. The Indian considered a necklace of the claws of the animal proof that the bear was worthy of the name, and was not like a square. The white hunter has always dealt with the grizzly bear with the utmost precaution, knowing him to be one of the most ferocious animals in the world when wounded. Exceedingly powerful, quick and cunning to a degree of almost human intelligence, the grizzly bear is a royal quarry for any sportsman.

Like the wolves, the grizzly bears of today are alive to the fact that man is an enemy to be feared. It is said that a wounded grizzly always runs down hill, and this may account for some attacks upon hunters which might not have taken place had the hunter been located above or on a level with the wounded animal. At most seasons of the year the grizzly is a solitary creature. In the berry season two or three have been seen together in the same berry patch, but this is a rare exception. It is said to take seven years for a grizzly to attain maturity, when he usually reaches a weight of from five to seven hundred pounds. As a rule the claws are long and curved and possessed of great strength. The fur in season is a splendid trophy.

CONSCRIPTION AGAIN TO FO IN ENGL

Winston Churchill and Curzon Are Making renewed Attempts

KITCHENER HIMSELF IS COMING RO

The Whole Dardanelles Campaign is Urged to be Inaugurated by a Committee

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Oct. 13.—The parliamentary correspondent of the Daily News says, that Earl Kitchener asserts that the conscription of the cabinet, headed by Spencer Churchill and Earl Curzon, will make a renewed attempt at day's cabinet meeting to force issue and obtain a definite ruling.

The conscriptionists believe that Earl Kitchener is more inclined to their view than a month ago, and they believe that if the British Government should announce adoption of conscription at the present time, when a new year is beginning in Balkans, it would have a striking effect on the military situation.

Several Liberal members of parliament are urging the government to appoint a committee to investigate the circumstances under which the Dardanelles campaign was begun in the manner in which it has been continued. It is considered doubtful whether the government will consent to such a committee.

WESTMINSTER GAZETTE.

IN THE new war in the Balkans, conscriptionists, and even the ministerial Gazette, which hitherto opposed conscription, warns the to-day that plans designed to increase the strength of the army at the Dardanelles and on the Franco-front may not be adequate to meet the demands of three war fronts.

States that additional men and troops probably will be necessary to the Balkan enterprise, and that the conscriptionists believe that the government will consent to such a committee.
