War Time Drama is Revealed

The name of Pte. E. H. Waverley of this city appearing in the casualty list this morning as wounded, serves to reveal one of the countless dramas underlying the surface in the present war, many of them never to be brought to light. Word was received yesterday by Mr. S. J. Schelly, the well known market gardener of the St. George road, that his son, Edward Schelly, of the 20th battalion, had been admitted to No. 13 General Hospital, Boulogne, France, suffering from concussion and gunshot wound in the back. Nothing would at first appear to connect these two casualties, yet inquiries made by The Courier revealed the fact that Pte. Schelly and Pte. E. H. Waverley were one and the same person. At the time of his enlistment some 2 years ago, Pte. Shelly was slightly under the military age, and accordingly enlisted under an assumed name, that of Waverley, in order to be enabled without difficulty to serve his country. After more than a year spent in the trenches, he has now received his first wound.

ADDITIONAL GAINS

 ritory comprised a strongly defended farm.
 On the Macedonian front, the Bulgarians have resumed their efforts to drive the Serbians from their Kaimakalan position, near the Serbian border in the region north of Lake Osrovo, but according to Paris, this latest attempt during which four attacks were made, failed.

MOST EGOTISTICAL

 ized the troubles of the people coincident with the war and that he shared the deep sorrow for the fallen and mutilated. "I bow my head," he went on, "before the heroism with which women and men without distinction of rank or class bear their sacrifices, united in an ardent love for the fatherland. Still more sublime and still greater is the defiance of death with which our sons and brothers in the field withstand the violent assaults of the enemy who, superior in numbers, are fighting with the utmost bravery. World history—human history—has never before seen the like."
 The chancellor declared that the German people again had an opportunity to show their appreciation of the heroism of the army by subscribing to the new war loan. He asserted that the nation firmly believed in the assurance of victory and was ready for any sacrifice. "I know we can also rely on the fighters behind the front," he said, "to give all their available money to support the gigantic work of our fighters in the field. With clenched fists, but open hearts we will stand behind them, one man and one people."

Concluding his speech the chancellor exclaimed:
 "Germany will not be permitted to think of peace while her house is burning. She must first extinguish the fire."
 After the chancellor had concluded the Reichstag adjourned until Oct. 5th.

To the Grave
