F. Whitson Went Over the Ground

In the Very Early Days.

In the Very Early Days.

In J. F. Whitson, chief surveyor and engineer for the Provincial Department of Lands, Forests, and Mines, was elected president of the Association of Ontario Land Surveyors the other day at the annual gathering of that sun-burned, black-flybitten legion of explorers and wilderness tamers.

ering of that sun-burned, black-flybitten legion of explorers and wilderness tamers.

For twenty-two years Mr. Whitson has served in the Crown Lands Department, entering the civil service in 1899, when he was put in charge of certain explorations, surveys, and simber estimatings in the Rainy River District. Since that date he has seen a great deal of the north country, and handled the details of a great many of its affairs. He, indeed, may well be regarded as one of the prime authorities on New Ontario, and an expert on the raw, vital resources pertaining thereto—miscellaneous products ranging through a list of items such as rocks, timber, mineral deposits, survey posts, snowshoe claims, and husky dogs.

Like plenty of others of the earlier explorers of this province, Mr. Whitson never chanced upon a rich mineral discovery, though he traveled over or camped upon the sites of future Cobalt, Porcupine, Gowgands, and other places since metallurgically famous, long before they became so.

It was away back in 1896 that his

It was away back in 1836 that his first trip was made into the Temiscamingue region. He traveled up the Ottawa by cance as far as modern Haileybury, where at that time the bush stood heavy and umbroken. Very little lumbering had yet been done on Lake Temiscamingue, though considerable square timber had been taken out from the Montreal River. The Ontario territory of the New Teanscontinental Railway was familiar to Mr. Whitson long before average optimists even dreamed of the actual road. He has, in fact, traveled most of the main water highways of the north in this province, and camped on many a lonely little lake in that great hinterland above the C.P.R. And in thirty years of cance travel, never has he suffered serious accident. Many times has his cance been swamped, but always has his party managed to safely reach the shore.

at all seasons of the year.

Mr. Whitson tells how one time on the Mississaga River, traveling by dog team and toboggan, an Indian was appealed to for a map of the route. It seems as a guide he was a failure, because he made too many stipulations about "extras," and wanted to leave his family with enough provisions for the winter before he would make serious preparations for a start.

for a start.

So Mr. Whitson bought his dogs at top price and asked for a map to proceed without the Objibway's aid. That map turned out to be a curiosity too big for a Geographical Society Museum, though entirely worthy.

Legan on a piece of brown paper, was continued on the bark of a birch tree several paces away, produced eight feet upon a toboggan, where it ran off at the tail end and disappeared into four feet of snow.

Mr. Whitson is said to have allowed the next instalment of the map to go by default, and, judging by its start it may be going yet.

it may be going yet.

A quiet, modest, undemonstrative sort of a man is J. F. Whitson, with an inherent objection to figuring in the despatches. But it's those quiet fellows who carry the biggest packs.

Canadians With Mexican Rebels. A Toronto man whose people are spending the winter in Southern Colorado, in the area affected by the in-surrection in Mexico, received a let-ter recently telling of the eagerness displayed by the rebels in securing ecruits for their ranks.

It is of interest to learn that there are a good many roving Canadians in that country, who seem quite will-ing to join in a Mexican insurrection or try a hand at any other game. It or try a hand at any other game. It is said that on a recent occasion a arty of 120 men. Americans and Conadians, left Pueblo for the front.

Lovie of the Canucks who took part in the uprising in its early stages must have given a good account of themselves, for the leaders of the movement in awarding land script to recruits—which will be honored if the uprising succeeds—are giving s canadian twice as much land as they award to each American. When asked why this was so, the agents who are looking for men replied that they valued one American as equal to eight Mexicans, and one Canadian as equal to two Americans.

It isn't often that we get an un-biased outside estimate like this, and we must confess that it is highly flat-

Sir George Simpson, the old Hudson Bay governor, held the cance record for the trip between Moose Factory and Abutibi at eleven Moose Factory and Abutibi at eleven days. Father Paradis, the famous priest-prospector of Porcupine camp, claims to have broken that record, reducing it to eight days and a half. For four days and a ghts of that trip they paddled thout food. His Indians killed a gad, ronsted it on the brands of the fire for a few minutes, and devoured it, feathers and all. Two days later they found a dead pike on the bank—and that went the same way. Otherwise they subsisted on water only and a few will cherries. Father Paradis has endured the test of the trail, right enough, in his time. of the trail, right enough, in his time

DEATH OF MRS READY

The death of Mrs Benjamin Ready. which occurred at the home of her father, Mr Norman Merriman, Crosby. on April 23, caused sincere sorrow in that district. Deceased, who was aged 21 years and 11 months, was married on Sept. 14, 1910. On March 26th she returned to her father's home ill with appendicitis and peritonitis, and despite the best of medical treatment and skilled nursing she passed away. She was a great sufferer, but bore it all with Christian fortitude and that quiet spirit that had characterized her life. She was ready when the Master called. Her whole life had been spent in that neighborhood and she was very highly esteemed by all.

The funeral service, which was very largely attended, was conducted by the Rev. Mr Humphrey of Newboro, who preached an impressing and comforting sermon from Rom 14:8.

Among the many beautiful floral tokens were a spray of lilies from Mrs Delong, cala lilies from Mrs E. Gallagher, lilies and emilax from Miss L. Leggett, pillow from husband and brothers-in-law, spray of roses from father and mother, wreath from Sunday School and League, spray from Mr and Mrs W. A. Singleton. Following the service the remains were conveyed to Elgin and deposited in the vault. The grief-stricken husband and other relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their great sorrow.

$60,000 IN PRIZES

Septem er 11th, which is being distributed, shows that the prizes have been increased in nearly every depart- FROM BROCKVILLE ment, till the grand total reaches including admission to $60,000.

As no prizes are given for manufacturers, the whole of this amount oes to live stock, dairy products horticulture, women's work, educational exhibits, and similar lines of Canadian Industry.

The increase in the amount given to live stock is particularly noticeable. Nearly $5 000, has been added so the orses alone, while special prizes of $500, each for the best animal in the Holstein and Shorthorn classes, show that the cattle have not been neglected. Poultry also gets an additional $1.000.

In women's and children's work and education d exhibits new classes have been added, and in short every deparlment shows the exhibition is keeping pace with its wonderful increase in attendance,

The prize list can be had by writing Manager J. O. Orr, City Hall, Toronto. That the management fully expect to reach the million mark this year is evidenced by the announcement that the spectacular attraction will be The Festival of Empire, a reproduction of the glories of the coronation ceremonies in which 1,500 performers will take part, while the Coldstream Guards Band, musicians to the Royal Household, will be the musical feature.

* Women's Pains

"I received your sample of Zutoo Tablets, and book them for severe pain (monthly) at the badache. At the end of 30 minutes have entirely free from pain and experienced no more throughout the period. I suffer a great deal at these times and feel grateful that I now have a remedy which affords quick relief. Every woman in the land should know about Zutoo Tablets and what they will do."
