LONDON IS AMAZED.

Stage Svengali's Trilby Plays Any Piece Spectator Makes Known to Him-Repetoire 8,000 Times.

When "strong men" were wanted for one's entertainment they were forthcoming by the score. When Chi-nese jugglers became a craze in Lon-don music hall managers produced don music half managers produced them expeditiously and mysteriously, like rabbits from a conjurer's hat. It was the same with "strong women," with "living statuary," and now it happens with the so-called "thought transmission exponents."

We have three shows of this kind of this produced the strength purpose of entertainment.

The Zancigs Mystify London. Mr. and Mrs. Zancig, who were honored recently by a command to appear before the King and Queen at Sandringham, mystify the audiences at the Alhambra to such a degree that investigation of their meth-ods by the psychical research society and by Sir Oliver Lodge and other eminent scientists has been called for, and enthusiastic admirers have attributed to the performers powers more marvellous than any to which they lay claim.

Now recently have appeared a Shef-field working mechanic named Retsil and his 15-year-old daughter Myra, who give a replica of the Zancigs' per-formance. This is all the more as-tonishing as Retsil is an uneducated workingman. His daughter, a polisher in a brass foundry, saw the Zancigs performing for the first time last Saturday night, yet they were able to give a display of the same sort by the middle of this week. The girl is blindfolded on the stage and the father goes group the audience.

Happy Decembers and Mays. The marriage of May and December has passed into a proverb. In point of fact, these unequal unions have often proved most successful. The wedding of the late Marquis The wedding of the late Mirquis of Donegall, at the age of 80, made an event of December, 1902. He was born in 1818, and when about 82 took as his second wife the handsome dark-haired Miss Grace Blackburn. This union has proved an ideal one; husband and wife are deeply devoted to each other, and the story goes that at the time of the marriage the new Lady Wemyss would allow no jointure to be put on the estate on her behalf.

The Vote Was Secured. An ex-M. P. who contested a high-land constituency some years ago tells the following anecdote:

the following anecdote:
Once, after a long and fatiguing day's canvass. I tackled a dissenting minister, who was very keen upon the subject of getting the bishops out of the House of Lords, and in pursuance of his favorite hobby he ask-

"Well, sir, what are you prepared to do about the bishops?"

I was irritated and fatigued by my day's works, and I testily muttered, "Oh, hang the bishops!"

The minister bowed and replied: "Well, sir, you go rather beyond me there. I canna undertake to go altogether that length with you, but you shall hae my vote."

Speaking of the future of India, Capt. recent incident in Australia is related as showing how watchful a politician must be in this censorious age. Among other accounts of a deadhead nature on the books of the Westralia Railway was one setting forth that Miss Peacock had been franked over the lines to the value of $35, and instantly there was wide demands about it. People wanted to know why Sir Alexander Peacock's daughter was given these privileges. Sir Alexander himself, a former Premier of Victoria, was very much hurt when he heard of the matter, and hastened to assure the Westralian Government, firstly, that if his daughter had appeared in Westralia, it was entirely without his sanction; secondly, if she had made claims upon the Westralian railways she had done it without his authority; thirdly, that never during his long political career had he asked his own state, let alone any other, to extend deadheading privileges to a daughter of his; and, fourthly and finally, he had no daughter, and never had had a daughter.—Boston Transcript.

In filustrating a point a lecturer told of some woman who spoke of her worse half as "a model husband." "Yes." commented an old Irishman who knew the husband better than she did, "he is all of that. But look at the dictionary and see what a 'model' means. It is defined as a 'miniature imitation of the real thing.'" The lecturer also told of the same Irishman's definition of the world repartee. Said he, "It is the saying right off of what you think of the next day."

few weeks often get rusty, and the best way to prevent this is to rub a little warm grease over the surface and then wrap them up in brown pa-per. When taken out dip into hot water that has had a small piece of soda dissolved in it, rub dry and then put them to heat in the usual way. When they are ready to be used on the iron-ing board have a piece of brown pa-per with a little powdered bath brick on it and rub the surface of your iron with this. It seems rather a lengthy process, but it really does not take long to do, and housewives will be rewarded for the trouble they have taken by finding the irons delightfully smooth and easy to use, and when the like this the work can be done twice

IMPOSSIBLE TO STOOP OR BEND

SEVERAL DOCTORS COULD DO NO GOOD. PAIN IN BACK AND KIDNEYS.

People often say, "How are we to know when the kidneys are out of order?" The location of the kidneys, close as it is to the small of the back, which is not affected materially by other organs, renders the detection of kidney trouble a simple matter.

The note of warning comes from the back. Backache is the signal sent out by the kidneys the minute they become overtaxed. Those who heed the warning when it first comes, usually have but little trouble. The danger lies in delay. A few doses of
