

Is It War? NAVY HELD In Readiness

The following message indicates how acute matters are in regard to Moroccan affairs—
Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, To-Day.
That the Moroccan difficulty has become acute is indicated by sudden orders issued by the Admiralty, cancelling the projected visit of the Atlantic fleet to Norway. The battle-ship squadron under Rear-Admiral Elliot should have left yesterday for Norway waters, but instead has been ordered to remain at Cromarty until Friday, and then proceed to Portsmouth. It is asserted that crews and ships have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for emergency service. Premier Asquith has promised a statement to Parliament regarding the Moroccan situation. According to advice received from Berlin, negotiations between France and Germany were proceeding smoothly until Lord George's speech on July 21st, which was interpreted as warning Germany in the present Moroccan controversy. German newspapers now declare it is impossible for Germany to meet her demands in face of the threat implied in that speech because of German public opinion.

Last Night's Procession

The procession through the streets last night in honor of Bishop Power began shortly after 9 o'clock. His Lordship sat in a carriage with his father, and several other carriages containing visiting priests and the clergymen of St. Patrick's followed. The city was once again, particularly in the West End, ablaze with illuminations. Private houses and arches were prominent with lights, Greek fire, flags and other decorations. The bands of the C. C. C. and T. A. & B. S. headed the parade, and hundreds of citizens fell into the ranks as the procession came along. Reaching St. Patrick's Church, the young Bishop, accompanied by Fr. McEnam, Fr. Phipps, Fr. McGrath, Rev. Fr. Nolan and Rev. P. W. Finn, ascended the steps at the main entrance and addressed the multitude. He thanked them heartily for their warm reception and praised their faith and enthusiasm. Cheers were given for Bishop Power and the clergy and for His Holiness the Pope. The ranks were then lined up and the parade continued down town to the Cathedral, being cheered again and again along the route. At St. Patrick's Hall, the Lordship, who was a former pupil of the school, there, was given an enthusiastic greeting. A large number of the members stood at the entrance and gave cheer upon cheer as the Bishop and his father passed along, while fireworks were set off from the steps. The band played appropriate Irish airs. Arriving in front of the Cathedral Bishop Power again addressed the people. He stood up in the carriage and thanked the people for their grand reception and for their evidences of the strength of their faith and loyalty to the Church and His Holiness the Pope. He particularly thanked the Protestant people of the city who had so generously helped them to celebrate on this occasion. He wished that the Roman Catholics would ever remember this and that all would live in love and harmony. "As for myself," he continued, "I am only a humble servant of the church, and as I have no great capabilities I would ask the prayers of the Catholic people all over Newfoundland to enable me to worthily fulfil the duties of a Bishop." Cheers were again given by the gathering, after which the Bishop and party returned to the Palace and the crowd dispersed.

McMurdo's Store News.

WEDNESDAY, July 26, 1911.
You will find McMurdo's Citrak of Magnesia a delightfully cooling saline drink, cooling the skin and blood during this hot weather. It prevents hives and heat eruptions, stimulates the liver and skin, and keeps the bowels in order. Good sized bottle, 25 cents.
Borax is a good thing to carry in the pocket against insect bites, scratches and abrasions of the skin. It has considerable power in subduing local inflammations of various kinds. Price 20 cts. a tub.

Before blacking my stove I rub soap on my hands, as if washing them, letting the soap dry in. When washing my hands after the work is done, the blacking and the soap come off together easily, leaving no stain on the hands.

FROM MARY DUFF.

Shortly after 4 p.m. yesterday the barqin Mary Duff arrived here after a passage of 36 days from Barbadoes, molasses laden to Harvey & Co. The ship had the Union Jack at her mainmast at half mast as she entered port, showing that something of a serious nature had occurred, and when she came to anchor it was learned that one of her crew named James Hollihan had been lost from her. The accident occurred on Thursday last when the vessel was nearing the Gulf Stream and during the progress of a terrific storm of thunder, lightning and rain. It was almost as dark as night and the wind blew a gale from the S. W. Capt. James had the wheel at the time, and the crew were getting in the foremast when suddenly she shipped a big wave which washed from stem to stern and threw the crew about the decks. When they came to themselves and regained their footing poor Hollihan was nowhere to be seen nor did any of his shipmates see him go overboard or hear any cry. Capt. James thinks that he might have been dashed against the pin rail and rendered unconscious if not killed, and then washed over the side. It was impossible to launch a boat or look for the young chap under the weather conditions prevailing. Most of the canvas which the vessel carried, except the lower topsail, was either torn or carried bodily from the bolt ropes and much damage was done the bulwarks. A seaman named Lawrence was also washed against the foremast to which he however clung tenaciously but for which he would have shared the fate of Hollihan. He was bruised about the arms which were swollen and could not be used by him for days. Hollihan was a fine young chap, aged 19, and resided with his parents on Flower Hill. His brother on seeing a vessel come into port went down on the water-front and making enquiries was abruptly told who was drowned. He broke the news to the relatives at home, and needless to say his parents and friends are grief stricken, and the sympathy of the whole community in which the Telegram joins will go out to them.

Attends Operetta.

Papal Delegate Attends Operetta in the T. A. Hall.
His Excellency Monsignor Stagal attended the operetta, entitled "Golden Jubilee of Nuns at St. John's, N.B.," produced by the pupils of the Mercy and Presentation Convents yesterday afternoon. The performance, which is the composition of His Grace the Archbishop, was very cleverly rendered. Nearly all the clergymen in town attending the Consecration were present, and they evidently enjoyed the acting and singing of the young ladies of the Convent schools as well as the dancing of Mr. F. Walsh and the Mount Cashel boys. The young ladies who took part were Misses Mollie O'Driscoll, Belle Barry, Monnie Mansfield, Monica Long, Anna May Dyer, Laura Barnes, Annie Murphy, Phine Jordan, Rose Donnelly, Eva Alsopp, Cathina Power, Kitty Murphy, Jennie Christopher, Genevieve Payne, Mary Farrell, Marjory Gleeson, Eva Harris, Nellie Lang, Clara Smyth, Mary Doyle, Lizzie Brown, Chrissie Keough and Mr. Walsh; the soloists being Misses Fitzpatrick Jackman and Donnelly. They all performed their parts well and in a way that reflects credit on themselves and the Convent schools.

Bright Little Girl Dead

Their many friends in the city and outports are expressing their deep sympathy to Mr. E. J. Devereaux and Mrs. Devereaux, of Military Road, on the death of their bright little girl, Dorothy, who passed away yesterday at 1.30 at the early age of 12½ years, having succumbed to eye and brain trouble. Dorothy was a great favorite among the schoolmates of the Mercy Convent. The Telegram extends its sympathy to the parents. The funeral will take place at 3 p.m. to-morrow.

Will Visit Bell Island.

His Excellency the Papal Delegate, accompanied by the Archbishop and party, will visit Bell Island to-morrow, going across in the s.s. Fife, placed at their disposal by the Reid N.B. Co. Rev. Fr. McGrath has prepared a royal reception for the party, and His Excellency will be presented by the parishioners with an address. The mines will be visited and luncheon served, after which the party will embark on the Fife and sail to Harbor Grace, where a day or two will be spent.

ARRIVED WITH COAL.—The Nina L., four days from Sydney with a load of coal, arrived at Croable & Co. yesterday. Fog delayed her on the way down. The schr. Arclight also arrived from Sydney yesterday with a cargo of coal for the Cabot Whaling Co. at Shook's Arm. She will sail for that port to-morrow.

Dinner to the Visitors.

His Grace the Archbishop gave a dinner last evening in the Episcopal Library to the Bishops, the Monsignor and priests in town attending the Consecration. The event was specially in honor of His Lordship Bishop Power, who was seated at his right. His Excellency Monsignor Stagal, Papal Delegate; Bishop March of Harbor Grace; Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche; Rt. Rev. Monsignor Velch, Monsignor Brown, Monsignor Reardon and about 40 priests, including Rev. Dr. McPherson, Rev. Dr. Thompson, Rev. Fr. McAdam and Rev. Fr. McKenzie, the visiting priests from the Diocese of Antigonish were present. The only toast was that of "Bishop Power," proposed by His Grace the Archbishop.

Welcome and Farewell

The ladies representative of the Missionary societies of the city Methodist churches held an "At Home" yesterday, welcoming Mrs. Rodgers and daughter to Gower St. Parsonage and taking leave of Mrs. Pinnent, who will soon resume her mission work in China. The affair was held on the beautiful grounds surrounding the residence of Mr. C. H. Hutelings, LeMarchant Road, and a very enjoyable time was spent by the many who participated. The devotional exercises were hearty, pleasing conversation was indulged in and refreshments were served on the lawn.

One-Sided Criticism.

Editor Evening Telegram:
Dear Sir—In this morning's News a most one-sided criticism of the operetta given yesterday by the pupils and ex-pupils of the different Convents who took part was given. Only those of Littledeale were given credit. It shows poor taste on the part of the person who gave or dictated the item.

Cable News.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, July 25.
Lansdowne has sent a circular to all Unionist Peers asking whether they are prepared to support him, and up to date one hundred and ninety have replied in the affirmative. Londonderry, in a letter to the press, urges his party to support Lansdowne, on the ground that acceptance of the parliamentary bill would still leave the Lords power to amend the Home Rule Bill for two years, while if the Peers were created wholesale, an Irish parliament might be established in Dublin next year, and if once established could not be abolished without difficulty and danger. The Daily Telegraph supports Lansdowne and severely denounces the insult offered the Premier yesterday as a disgusting exhibition of bad temper and worse manners. The Post, Standard and other Unionist organs, representing the insurgent side, however, exhibit not the slightest compunction; instead they attack Asquith in most bitter terms as an unscrupulous political adventurer for what they describe as shameful abuse of his powers in obtaining the King's consent to create Peers. Evidence accumulates of increasing strength in the insurgent movement, many letters from peers, members of the House of Commons and others advocating no surrender policy, appear in the papers this morning. It is learned that Balfour's meeting has been postponed because the committee in charge has been unable to agree on the terms of motion to be submitted at meeting. On the other hand, organizers of a banquet to Lord Halsbury are so overwhelmed with applications for tickets that they have been compelled to engage a larger hall, capable of seating 700 guests. Another Chamberlain's promise to attend the dinner has been strengthened by the insurgent movement. The crisis is causing general disorganization of political and social engagements, even the King has postponed his intended visit. The Times says the gravity of the crisis cannot be exaggerated. There is no doubt that Balfour is in absolute agreement with Lansdowne, and will take early opportunity of making public announcement; but continues the Times, in best informed Unionist circles it is now feared that the creation of Peers can scarcely be avoided, unless there is marked change of opinion within the next few days. It is estimated, says the Times, that 120 Peers will support Earl Halsbury, and it is now expected when the Bill comes before the Lords again that Lansdowne and his supporters will abstain from voting, in which case the Bill would be rejected, unless sufficient Peers have already been created.

Special to Evening Telegram. PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, July 25.
General Leonce reached Cape Haitien yesterday, and has been proclaimed Commander-in-Chief. In a resolution adopted by the great majority of revolutionary forces, an advance guard of the revolutionary army occupied Croix Des Bouquets, when revolting peasants ran down and murdered all former military leaders.

Special to Evening Telegram. BAY CITY, Mich., July 25.
