

EARLY CABLES.

DE VALERA'S ARMY IN AMERICA.

MONTREAL, April 17. The Army of Eamonn De Valera is across the Atlantic, says a special dispatch from New York to the Montreal Star. Seven hundred and fifty men admitted to be such by several of their number, reached this country on the Carmania. Two hundred left the ship at Boston. All carried British passports countersigned by the Free State Government, which the immigrant confessed, was glad to see them. Many of them said they were too hot for them. The Republicans were cornered. The men were anxious to get going while the going was good. Those who refused to give their names were met with vengeance by insurgent sympathizers on this side. The party, it was said, was taken aboard the Carmania at Queenstown under cover of darkness.

DAN BREEN CAPTURED.

BELFAST, April 17. Dan Breen, noted Irish irregular leader, has been captured by Free State forces, it was announced in a dispatch received here this afternoon.

LAWRENCE GINNELL DEAD.

WASHINGTON, April 17. Lawrence Ginnell, who called himself the envoy in the United States of the Irish Republic, representing De Valera, was found dead in his hotel here. Death was due to natural causes.

CHALLENGER LAUNCHED.

ESSEX, April 17. The boat with which Gloucester next fall to lift the International Fishing Vessel Championship Cup, held by the Canadian Bluenose, was launched here to-day, and christened Columbia. She was built at the works of Arthur D. Storey and christened by Gertrude Carey, of Lawrence, who smashed a bottle of champagne.

no against the bow of the vessel as she slid off the ways. The Columbia is under thirty feet beam, and fourteen feet nine inches draught, and built from designs of W. Sterling Burgess, designer of the Mayflower.

IRISH OLYMPIC POSTPONED.

DUBLIN, April 17. The General Council of the Irish Olympic games decided to-night to postpone them until the first fortnight in August, 1924, owing to the condition in Ireland. It had been the intention to hold them in August of this year.

GERMAN CONTROL IN RHINELAND OVERTHROWN.

COBLENZ, April 17. The Commissariat of the Empire, the Berlin Government's highest authority in Rhineland, has been abolished by the Inter-Allied Rhineland High Commission.

HORSE FLESH IN BERLIN.

WASHINGTON, April 17. Five hundred horses a week are being slaughtered in Berlin for food, according to reports of the Commerce Department. The meat sells for two thousand marks a pound, or about ten cents Canadian money.

BOLSHEVISTS BARRED.

LONDON, April 17. The Soviet Russian Government has not been invited to participate in the renewed conference at Lausanne. This was confirmed yesterday in the Commons.

IRREGULARS KILLED.

DUBLIN, April 17. The sweep by Nationalist troops in County Tipperary continues, and today in an engagement with Irregulars near Rosegreen, Cashel District, two Irregulars were killed and three captured.

A CALL TO THE NATIONS.

PARIS, April 17. A call on all the nations of the world to break all relations with the Soviet Government of Russia is made by the Russian National Committee here in the form of a public statement which was drafted in connection with the forthcoming trial of Archbishop Tikhon, former Patriarch of the Russian Church.

ALBERTA AND PROHIBITION.

EDMONTON, April 17. The people of Alberta will, within the next month, be called upon to say whether beer shall be sold in Alberta hotels under provisions of the Temperance Act submitted to the Legislature last January, with petitions carrying fifty-one thousand names asking that a referendum be held under the direct Legislation Act.

EXPULSIONS CONTINUE.

COBLENZ, April 17. The Inter-Allied Rhineland Commission yesterday ordered expelled from the territory on the left bank of the Rhine 1638 German functionaries, most of them railroad men.

COKE FROM THE RUHR.

PARIS, April 17. It is announced to-day that shipments of coke from the Ruhr amount now to ten thousand tons daily.

JUGO SLAV CABINET RESIGNS.

LONDON, April 17. The Jugo Slav Cabinet headed by Nikola Pachitch, as Premier, has resigned, owing to inability to accept the Coalition Republicans' conditions regarding the proposed revision construction.

GUAYAQUIL THREATENED.

GUAYAQUIL, April 17. The volcano Tunguragua is in a state of strong eruption. Huge flames are rising from the crater and showers of melted rock are thrown high into the sky and falling on the environs of the city, which is covered with ashes and fine sand.

MORE EXECUTIONS IN RUSSIA.

MOSCOW, April 17. The trial of eighty-six Government employees, tradesmen and commissioners, has just ended. Charged with bribery and corruption, eleven officials of the Moscow housing department have been sentenced to death, twelve to ten years imprisonment; fifteen, five years; and twenty-four to three years; all sentences carrying with them confiscation.

Historic Carbonear

WILL ROUT OUT COAKERISM AL- SO.

Mr. James Moore Carbonear's Choice.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—In common with every other section of Conception Bay, this good old historic district of Carbonear is also laying siege to Coakerism and when the count is over on Polling Day you will find that it has routed Coakerism lock, stock and barrel from our native city. The many voters who like myself gave Squires a change four years ago to put Coakerism in its place, have found to our cost that Coaker got the upper hand of him so much that the country was practically ruined. How then in the name of common sense could anybody but unthinking men consent to give Coaker another few years to play duck and drakes with the mainstay of the people. Mr. Maddock is a nice suave quite old gentleman, but unfortunately, in swallowing Coakerism, he but lessens himself in the estimation of the people, whilst Mr. Moore on the other hand is rightly applauded for his patriotic interest in the people's welfare. Encouragement of business and no tinkering with the fisheries are more for the benefit of Carbonear people than all the Coakerite papers nonsense about down with merchants, suppliers, captain of industry and all that helps to set the wheels of commerce in motion. It looks to us as if Squires and Coaker want to banish all business people and their employees, all suppliers and supplied, merchants and fishermen alike from the country so that they could hold down big government jobs for themselves and rule over a half-starved population of old men, women and children. Any man of course, who prefers poverty and misery to good times and happiness will vote for Maddock, but as Carbonear people lay claim to at least an average degree of intelligence they will take the side of good times and so record a very large vote in favour of MOORE.

Yours truly,
CARBONEAR LIBERAL.

The Bennett Bounty

VERY POPULAR IN SPANIARD'S BAY.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—We are all interested here in the elections and longing for the day when good times will come back to us as of old, and this we feel sure will happen when the BENNETT GOVERNMENT is elected. The BENNETT BOUNTY to the fishermen will be a great thing for us all and give us some more encouragement to look forward to a fishery revival which will be of far more benefit to most of us than the HUMBER DEAL. This Deal is good enough in its way but we are not worrying about it so much as we are about our mainstay of the country, the fisheries, and anyhow we are quite satisfied the BENNETT GOVERNMENT will handle the Humber Deal better than Squires the spend-thrift, or Coaker the crank.

BENNETT, HICKMAN and ARCHIBALD are the favorites by ten to one in Spaniard's Bay.
Yours truly,
RESIDENT.
Spaniard's Bay, April 16th, 1923.

An unusually delicious sandwich filling is made with chopped marmoschino cherries and nut meats added to creamed butter, maple syrup and powdered sugar. Add a little salt and nutmeg and use between crackers.

About Anthracite.

Mysterious explosions in anthracite-burning stoves have been causing a good deal of excitement lately both in France and in England.

It was at first supposed that some of the explosives used in mining the anthracite had been left in the coal, but the real cause or causes of the explosions are still shrouded in mystery.

At any rate, in America, where whole cities are heated with anthracite, explosions of this kind are almost unknown.

New York never has black or yellow fogs like those of London. This is simply because the city burns anthracite, and though more expensive than ordinary coal, it goes much further.

It is almost pure carbon, and has in it very little of the pitchy matter contained in ordinary coal. It is also free from arsenic, which is given off by some brands of ordinary coal, and so is particularly suitable for heating greenhouses and for drying malt.

The best anthracite known is mined in Wales, where some five or six millions of tons are raised yearly, but the thickest seams are found in Pennsylvania.

The United States raises something like one hundred million tons of this sort of coal in a twelve month—and burns it all at home.

Household Notes.

Potato omelet is made by mixing a white sauce of two-thirds cup of milk with two-thirds cup mashed potatoes and yolks of two eggs. Into this fold stiffly beaten whites of eggs and bake.

Instead of pinning a pattern to the material, use several tiny straws, haws filled with sand to weigh down pattern. The pattern will not be so badly torn, and the cutting can be done very quickly.

Fried salsify is especially good. Wash, scrape and cut into two inch lengths into acidulated water. Rinse, dry on towel, then roll in seasoned beaten egg, next in fine crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat.

Left over biscuits can be halved and dipped in an egg beaten light with a quarter of a cup of sugar, and the same amount of milk. Saute them in hot fat and serve hot with butter or maple syrup.

Feather pillows may be washed in the washing machine. Rinse them thoroughly and hang in sun and air to dry. It is best to wash one pillow at a time, and to run the machine about fifteen minutes for each.
