Civic Responsibility Dr. Compbell

During the last six years, there were never so many deaths recorded in August among chiljumped to the astounding total Kathleen A. Morgan, Scoretary. of 41. While the causes given in Oporto Fish Combine certain cases may be regarded as unavoidable, the statement that twenty-six children died of complaints certified as Enteritis, Gastro-Enteritis, or Cholera Infantum, is a matter of grave this increased mortality has ever so untiring in their fight to save the children, much of their effort is doomed to failure as long as conditions remain as gested sections of the town. where festering drains and germ infested neighbourhoods. Here the house flies breed in W. J. Ryall, Miss G. Here the cooling breeze distributes the sun dried accumulations of refuse and poison, among those to whom it should bring health and relief.

The remedy lies in the removal of these filthy breeding grounds, in making it a punishable offence to use the drains for improper purposes, in insisting on householders making proper sanitary connections, and in reorganizing the system of col- "Wistaria" on or about the 17th Sep- Rideout, Miss A. The responsibility rests upon the citizens themselves for the state of affairs existing in St. John's, and until they awaken to this fact and pay more attention to the ordinary rules of sanitatation and insist that the Municipal Council shall do likewise, there can be but little improvement in the health of the city.
