bettom of the beat, and she was fast filing.

"Bale out the water," cried the old man. "What trachery is this, and who can have done it?"

And as if in answer to his words a wild, derisive, mocking laugh fell upon their cars, and glanelag shorewards a number of forms were seen congregated at the margin of the loth. They were danding and shouting with the wildest glee.

"The Caterans! Heavens, they have sattled the boats!" exclaimed M Leod, in a tone of heatfelt anguish.

It was indeed true. A number of the Caterans had made their way down the fen, and had discovered the boats of the M Leods. Their first idea was to ide or destroy them, but upon second oughts they fit upon a more inhuman, bre diabolical scheme. To shave with eir claymore the bottoms of the boat till they we not the thickness of awa—to perforte the thin bottom with less and fill them up with stiff clay—is, would kee the water out until they fore some distance from the shore, then it was washed out no power keep the toats from sinking. The st was indeed a malevolent one, its urtue best that it seemed likely to eed. Real Aberdeen Winceys worth 30c, 35c, 40 and 45c, we will sell for 23, 28, 33 and 37 tc.
