—The sleighing is leaving us with long strides.

—One drunk was discharged at the Police Court this morning.

—Mrs. James McQueen, city, is visiting her Loxington friends.

—Petitions were placed in the lobby of the various city churches yesterday asking for the proposed reduction of licenses in this city.

—Miss Holmes had sufficiently recovered from her recent illness to be able to preside at the Askin Street Methodist Church organ yesterday.

—The Italian Band rendered fine music at the Queen's avenue rink Saturday afternoon, and many young people gathered around to the sweet strains.

—Robert T. Clinch, formerly superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company's lines in the Maritime Provinces, is dead. He entered the telegraph service in 1849.

—All day Saturday Mr. Taylor's committee rooms were crowded with energetic supporters. Every part of the riding was represented and glowing reports were handed in from all quarters.

—A little son of H. A. Stringer, Elmwood avenue, fell on a hay fork the other day and had the flesh of his arm torn to the bone. Blood poisoning was threatened, but his recovery is hoped for.

—Mr. Knowlton, of Williamstown, Conn., a former well-known Londoner, is in the city on a visit to his sister, Mrs. Samuel Paul, York street. He looks well, though the grip used him pretty badly.

—Yesterday was a red-letter day with East London Methodists. Three months ago, the pastor, Rev. J. Philip, B.D., astonished the people by announcing that he wished them to bring cash contributions amounting to $2,000, and place them in the collection plate in the interests of the new church on Sunday, Dec. 13.
