Every mention of Senator Cummins' brilliant fight for lower duties brought cheers from the throng which crowded around the speakers' stand. A picture of the senator bearing the inscription, "Cummins for President in 1912," was carried through the crowd and caused much enthusiasm. Mayor A. J. Mathis created another burst of enthusiasm when he expressed the hope that Des Moines might some day be able to welcome Cummins home as president instead of senator.

In response to the speeches of welcome Senator Cummins made a short address, in which he stated briefly his reasons for voting against the Payne
