Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn. No letters can be answered privately.]

A Faithful Reader.
Dear Miss Grey, I am a faithful reader of your paper. My sister and I turn to your page first. We get many helpful hints from your corner. Please answer the following questions:
1. What is the meaning of the following names: Bruce, Annie, Ethel, Jeanette, Thomas, Louis and Vernon.
2. I am thirteen years old and am very tall. How long should I wear my dresses?
3. At what time should I go to bed at night?
4. Hoping to see this in print soon, I remain, SPRING MORNING.
Ans.—1. Bruce, a chief; Annie, grace; Ethel, of noble birth; Nellie, light; Jeanette, Thomas, Louis and Vernon, are clear-eyed; Ethel, of good report or pleasant speech; Jeanette, gift of God; Thomas, a twin; Louis, bold warrior.
2. Since you are unusually tall, it might look better for you to wear your skirts within two or three inches of the tops of your shoes.
3. Be in bed by 10 o'clock if possible; 9:30 would be better.
4. Hoping to see this in print soon, I remain, SPRING MORNING.

Mail Box Cover Again.
To Dear Miss Grey: As cover is closed, and that is why we write. Our names are not exposed. We're simply "out of sight."
We tell Miss Grey what's wrong, and what we think is right. We ask her for a song. She helps with all her might.
And so we love our page. Where human hearts and hands, No matter what our age, Respond to our demands.
And though a pessimist should write, We feel a little pity; It will not hurt us all a mite, We wish she were more witty.
Than waste her time in finding fault At what we find a pleasure; But here, if I don't call a halt, You'll squeeze down my good measure.
DING-DONG.
Wee unto that one, that everyone speaks well of.

Oyster Supper Menu.
Dear Miss Grey—Would you please answer some questions for me?
1. My brother is having an oyster supper for a few of his friends—about twenty boys and girls—what would be nice and not too expensive to serve?
2. What to put on plates keys to keep them from turning yellow?
3. My hair is short and dry. Could you tell me something to make it grow?
4. Yours truly, MARIE.
Ans.—1. People are usually hungry when they go to an oyster supper, perhaps because they have "saved up" for it. I think you would find this an acceptable bill-of-fare after the oysters: Chicken timbales, potato salad, custard pie, cherry jelly containing sliced bananas, small cakes, coffee. The timbales are made thus: Three cups of minced chicken, 1 cup of soft butter, 1 cup of milk, 1 teaspoon of salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon of minced parsley, 1/4 teaspoon of onion juice, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons of melted butter. Cook the crumbs in milk till puffy. Add to chicken with seasonings, oyster and parsley. Separate eggs, beat yolks light, add to chicken; then fold in egg whites beaten stiff. Turn into buttered oyster or timbale cups, set on many folds of paper in a pan of hot water and bake till firm (35 minutes) in a moderate oven. The parsley sauce is made like any milk sauce, with the addition of two tablespoons of minced parsley before serving.
2. I do not think there is any preventative, unless I wipe them once a fortnight or so with a cloth wrung out of water containing lemon juice, or a very little salt of lemon; follow by rubbing with a cloth squeezed out of clear water, dry and polish.
3. Stimulate the roots and scalp by a vigorous nightly rubbing, followed by oil and regular brushing; this tonic is used with good effect when the hair is dry. One part glycerine, one part alcohol or bay rum, one-quarter part castor oil, one-twentieth part tincture cathartidis. Rub into the scalp with the fingers.
Seventeen, Too Young.

Dear Miss Grey.—This is my second letter to your Mail Box. I like your page just as well, only I like to see the questions printed. We tried one of the reader's recipes for sweetening hair; it improved the hair a great deal, although I did not think it quite as good as when fresh. I will send a recipe for keeping tomatoes good:
Put water on in a stew kettle with a handful of salt in it; peel tomatoes, drop them in whole; have cans scalded; take a live coal out of stove and put on top of each can; then seal.
1. Is there any way you could find out whether some of the Red Cross fund? I am in the neighborhood of the Red Cross fund?
2. What do you think of my writing?
3. Is a girl too young to be engaged, if she would not be married for three years?
4. How long should a young man stop dancing, when his uncle just died?
I remain, BIRDIE.
Ans.—1. Yes, write the treasurer of whichever branch of the society (presumably London or Toronto) the money was sent to. If London, write to Mrs. George T. Brown, 661 Talbot street. If Toronto, address your letter to Treasurer Red Cross Society, 77 King street east, Toronto.
2. Too irregular to be considered good.
3. Depends very much upon the girl; some girls at 17 are very mature and fitted to make a decision; others are only children. Frequently the man who proposes to one at 17, does not do so at 20, and still less at 25. No, taking it all around, I do not think she should be engaged yet. But, of course, it is a personal matter, and one in which your parents should guide you for the best.
4. Three months should elapse before he enters public galleries again.

Between the Lights.
Dear Miss Grey—Could you kindly advise me where I might obtain a copy of "Between the Lights," by Isabel Ecclestone McKay. I have tried Wm. Briggs, but could not obtain one.
F. McL.
Ans.—This is a little "X" of miscellany.

Advertiser Patterns

1180

1180-1178. A Charming Gown for Street Calling.
The newest of skirts topped by the smartest of waists, make up this attractive combination. The waist shows several new style features. It has a vest and girdle in one, and a deep tuck over the shoulder. The sleeve is close-fitting and finished with a flaring cuff. The skirt measures about three yards at the lower edge.
This illustration calls for two separate patterns which will cost 19 cents for each pattern in silver or six ups.

When Travelling.
Dear Miss Grey—Will you kindly answer the following questions for me?
1. What will soften hard water for washing the hands and face, as when I am travelling my hands and face get rough and sore?
2. What day and date did October 3, 23 years ago, come out?
3. Do you know of any good dark cake recipe that you can put nuts in (not fruit cake)?
4. Are the skirts going to be worn as long as usual this winter, or a little shorter (something that won't make the hair grow)?
5. What will make the face soft and white (something that won't make the hair grow)?
6. A good idea is to carry with one a small box of borax, or a little white ammonia, sold at drug stores for this purpose.
7. According to my figuring (which I hope is correct), the date would be 1892, the day, Monday.
8. Half-cup shortening, 2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup sour milk, 2 eggs, 2 1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in the milk, 1 teaspoon each of cinnamon and cloves, 1 cupful chopped nut meats; bake in a loaf tin.
9. Judging by what I see in the shops, they will be much shorter this season (than has been the case for two or three years); many of the street skirts are scarcely below the tops of milady's boots.
10. Many find it very helpful to make a paste of almond and lemon juice and spread this on the skin just before retiring; in the morning wash the paste off with warm water, followed by a good dash of cold to close the pores.

"The Glory Song"
Dear Miss Grey—In what year was the "Glory Song" first published? I think it was about ten years ago.
2. What would you say to go into a store one day, stopped and said that he would like to speak to me. When I came out, and I was in the store for about ten minutes, he had gone. I had not seen him for some time, nor have I seen him since.
We are, JANE AND SAL.

Ans.—1. This song was introduced first, I think, in the Welsh revival, in the spring of 1904.
2. No doubt the ten minutes seemed much longer to the man waiting outside than they did to you; he probably wished to speak on some trivial matter and decided that it could wait until he saw you again. Or perhaps he wished to ask a favor of you, and his courage failed during the ten minutes.
In regard to your other query, I do not know. Why not ask at the theatre?

WOMEN OF KOREA

RESPOND QUICKLY TO GOSPEL MESSAGE

Miss McCully, Presbyterian Missionary, Tells Women of Work There.
Christian effort among the women of Korea formed the basis of a most interesting story told yesterday afternoon to an audience of Presbyterian women in New St. James' Church parlors, by Miss McCully, a missionary now home on furlough from that far land. The Korean women were rather discouraging subjects to begin educating along any lines, the speaker stated. She believed that she never saw any one so dirty as the Korean women; their clothes and their persons were filthy about twice a year. This they believed a sign of respectability, and a mark of the best kind of housekeeping. The only women in the country who paid attention to making themselves attractive, and about the only women who could read, were the dancing girls. The average Korean woman seemed to be as far removed from the ways of these dancing girls as possible and erred on the other side. They dragged and slaved in order that their husbands might be well clothed.

Response to Teaching.
A great difference was now perceived among the Korean women. They responded to the influence of Christian teaching very rapidly, and were eager to bring new converts to the church, when the women came to know, they progressed marvelously, could relate almost any incident in the life of Christ, telling which gospel the event was recorded in the Old Testament history, too, they were well versed. This was after the training at the bible institute, a course which covers the twelve months of each year being spent in consecutive study, and the remaining nine months in work among the natives.

A Large Parish.
The first band of Canadian Presbyterian missionaries went out to Korea in 1885, where they found established Presbyterian and Methodist missions from the United States, a body of Episcopal workers and a branch of the Salvation Army. These different groups of workers agreed to divide the territory to prevent overlapping. To the Canadian missionaries was assigned the coast line territory on an address on receipt of 19 cents for each pattern in silver or six ups.

THE WORK OF THE DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE IN LONDON.
An examination of the report of Mrs. C. T. Campbell, the treasurer of the Municipal Chapter. This body, which is the supervising chapter for the city, raised during the year ending March 1, the sum of $5,535.50—all of which, with the exception of a few dollars, has been expended in the most patriotic purposes. The principal items have been $1,144 towards the hospital ship fund, and $925 for comforts for the Canadian soldiers.

In addition to the work of the Municipal Chapter, however, the various primary chapters have spent a large sum of money in the past year. The following is a list of their contributions:
Lord Roberts Chapter, $495.40; Trafalgar, $564.50; Victoria, $1,200; Princess Patricia, $719; Seventh Regiment Chapter, $405; Children's Chapter, $18.50; Sir John Carling Chapter, $25; Hamilton Chapter, $27.10. The last two chapters were organized in February. The contributions of the primary chapters were thus $2,934.

It's all very well to look the world straight in the face, but remember that the world often takes a side glance at you—so make the most of your profile.

The profile, as any artist will tell, is more important than the front view of the face, for the sparkle of the eyes, the arch of the brows, the curve of the nose, the line of the chin, the shape of the mouth, the regularity of your features for its charm.

Therefore, study your profile; study the shape of your nose, the curve of your mouth, the line of your chin, the shape of your mouth, the regularity of your features for its charm.

MOLLY McDONALD

A TALE OF THE FRONTIER (By Randall Parrish.) Copyright 1912 by A. G. McClurg &amp; Co.

"This is so strange I can hardly realize the truth," he said gravely. "But, dear one, we must talk elsewhere, and not here. Life was never before worth so much as it is now, and every instant we waste here may mean capture and death. Come, there are two ponies at the mouth of the valley."

He snatched up the blanket from the ground and wrapped it about her in such manner as to enable her to walk; stooped over Hughes, loosened the revolver from his stiffened fingers, and then came back to where she waited.

"You can walk? It is not far."
"Yes, the numbness is all gone."
"He was all seriousness now, alert and watchful, the pathfinder and the soldier. When come all your trails?"
"Where is the Indian village?" she asked, her voice trembling slightly.

"Beyond the hills, at least," Hughes thought so. We saw their pony head in the valley below, mere dots against the snow.

Ten minutes later, plowing through the intervening drifts, they came forth to the broad vista of the valley and the two patient ponies standing motionless.

CHAPTER XXXIII.
Molly's Story.
The two riders, following the trail left by Hamlin and Hughes earlier in the morning. As they had been in the snow, the tracks left by the two ponies were easily followed. As they skirted the ridge, the Indian pony herd could be distinguished, sufficiently close to this time to leave no doubt as to what they were. Hamlin cautiously kept back out of sight in the breaks of the ridge, although his keen eyes, searching the upper valley, discovered no sign of pursuit.

He was visible puzzled as he might not have attained the Indian camp. He was visible puzzled as he might not have attained the Indian camp. He was visible puzzled as he might not have attained the Indian camp.
