TRYING TO ARREST HIM

Police Forced To Use Gas Bombs To Effect Capture of Frank Sayes, Suspected of Hold-Up in Which $9,000 Was Stolen.

WOMAN COMPANION TAKEN IN BATTLE

Associated Press Despatch.
Jersey City, N. J., May 22.—Two police were shot to death and two seriously wounded today when they attempted to arrest Frank J. Sayes, alias Miller, as a suspect in a hold-up in which $9,000 was stolen from the Public Service Corporation.

Killed Outright.
Detective-Sergeant John Black and Patrolman Clarence Ware were killed outright. Lieut. Harry Otis of West New York and Detective James Walton were wounded. The shooting took place at No. 19 Manhattan avenue, this city.

After the shooting Sayes and a woman known to the police as May Miller, a dance hall girl, were driven from the two-story frame building where Sayes lived by gas bombs, and placed under arrest.

Bearing a warrant for Sayes' arrest, six officers surrounded the suspect's home early this morning. Sayes opened fire from a rear window. Detective Walton was the first to drop. Lieut. Otis, Sgt. Black and Patrolman Ware rushed the building, but without another shot being fired until after they had been inside for a minute or two. Then there was a volley from the second floor. The two officers outside gained entrance and found Otis, Black and Ware, the latter dead, lying outside the door of Sayes' bedroom.

Reserves were summoned and police lines drawn to keep back the crowds, as Thomas Wolfe, deputy chief of police, having determined that Sayes was still in the building, renewed the attack. He led several men in a search of the building, but Sayes was not found. Finally an open trapdoor in the ceiling of a hallway was discovered. Warning his men to keep away from it, the deputy chief sent to headquarters for tear bombs.

Tossed the Bombs.
The deputy himself tossed the bombs through the aperture leading into the attic of the house, then withdrew. Shortly afterward Sayes started to clamber down. As officers rushed forward to capture him, he put up a stiff fight, but was subdued after he had been severely beaten.

The woman already had been taken from the building. Police were certain Sayes fired the shot that wounded Walton, but the woman's hands were powder-stained, they asserted. She refused to talk.

ASKS LENIENCY
FOR MAN CHARGED WITH STEALING

Frank J. Purdom, Who Misappropriated Employer's Funds, Remanded.

$422.65 INVOLVED

J. M. Donahue Tells of High Character Given Accused by His Employer.

Frank J. Purdom, an employee of the Hoover Vacuum Company, charged with misappropriating funds belonging to his employers, was remanded in police court for a week this morning.

Purdom, who pleaded guilty and elected summary trial, appeared to feel his position very keenly. J. M. Donahue, speaking on his behalf, stated that the prisoner was a married man with two little children, the younger less than three years old. It was, he said, the old story of temptation overcoming a young man with a family to provide for.

Purdom was paid a commission on his sales. He did not receive a salary, and he had pleaded guilty to converting this money, $422.65, to his own use for the sake of his wife and family, and believed he could soon be able to pay it all back.

His employer, said Mr. Donahue, had given him a fine character, the best he had ever heard of any employee give to a man in this position, and in view of the extremely unfortunate position of the boy and together with the character given him, he asked for leniency in dealing with him.

The crown attorney spoke of the increasing commonness of this kind of thing of a good record of the prisoner and of the respect that had engendered in the men for whom he had worked. Nevertheless, he said, "any man wanting for his wages who lives outside his income and who takes other people's money on which to do it, is not acting honestly."

The court remanded Purdom a week so that the young man's record might be gone into further.

Joseph Leonard, a drayman, appearing today charged with using abusive language toward Ezra Marshitsky. In his own defense, prisoner entered into a long statement, chiefly consisting of promises to lead an altogether new kind of life if given the opportunity; in fact, he promised to leave the city.

Chief Birdy stated that Leonard had been a nuisance for some time in London, and that if any further complaints were made he would ask the police commissioners to cancel his drayman's license. In any case, he promised that no new license would be issued when the old one became void.

Magistrate Graydon allowed Leonard to go on suspended sentence on the clear understanding that this was the last time.

Fred G. Owen, charged with reckless driving on Mount Pleasant avenue, was fined $5 and costs.

MEDALISTS' CONCERT TO BE SEASON'S TREAT

London Press Club To Present Meritorious Program Next Monday Evening.

The medalists' concert to be given under the auspices of the London Press Club at the Masonic Temple on Monday evening promises to be one of the most outstanding treats ever offered to London's music-lovers. The program has been arranged after careful study of the inclinations of the musical people of this city, and the Press Club feel confident that Monday's concert will satisfy the most fastidious. The artists participating are all of high class, and the fact that London's medalists in the recent provincial test at Toronto are to take part gives an idea of the quality of the whole program. Miss Margaret Laing, Miss Grace Lillian Needham and Leon Adams are the vocal medalists, who will participate, while the medal-winning Askin Street Orchestra will round out the program with several selections. Other artists taking part are Miss Ethel McGinley of London, and Mrs. Christina Dennis of Toronto.

A comedietta, entitled "The Boston Dip," by the press club players, promises to measure up to the high standard already established by this organization, which it will be recalled scored in their production of "Thirty Days."

MEETING WAS STORMY
BUT ALSO IMPORTANT

Matters of Long Standing Are Cleared Up at Monday's Council Session.

In the opinion of Mayor Wenige and members of his council last night's gathering was the most important for many years past.

In the first instance they considered that the elimination of the street railway issue, after years of useless controversy, is a master stroke, particularly in view of the fact that the transportation authorities had been endeavoring for years to impress upon the city the need for such action.

In the second instance it is now on record that the council proposes to construct a new city hall on the McCormick property. While the mayor does not propose that the new administration building should be completed in 1923, he contends that as great a portion shall be undertaken as speedily as possible, and the remainder completed in 1924.

Last night witnessed also the finishing stroke toward the establishment of the juvenile court, when a sum was voted for maintenance purposes.

RUSSIA PLANS REPLY TO BRITISH ULTIMATUM

Official Circles Believe Note Will Be of Conciliatory Nature.

Special Cable to The Advertiser.
Moscow, May 22.—Russia is preparing a reply to the British ten-day ultimatum, to be delivered tomorrow, which is believed to be conciliatory. The three main points, fulfillment of which Britain's demand are:

1. Withdrawal of Raskolnikov and Shumantzyk from Persia. Britain alleges they are spreading propaganda.

2. Withdrawal of the note, signed by Gregory Weinstein, in which Britain's plea that church men be spared was summarily rejected.

3. Compensation for British subjects who have suffered loss through Russian action without reciprocity for Russian citizens. News of resignation of Bonar Law, and the fact that he was succeeded by Stanley Baldwin caused a feeling of pessimism here.

LOOK FOR U. S. ACTION
OVER CHINESE BANDITS

Cabinet Members Urge Paying Ransom To Gain Prisoners' Release.

Special to The Advertiser.
Washington, May 22.—Direct action by the American government and possibly other powers in the crisis with the Shantung bandits in China was expected here today.

A tense situation exists as the last ultimatum from the bandit camp, threatening to kill at least two of the foreign captives unless the brigands, the Chinese situation, the failure of the attempted negotiations between the Chinese Government authorities and the bandits to bring about the release of the captives, was thought here, may cause this government to guarantee that Peking will carry out the terms for the prisoners' release.

The bandit chiefs are insisting that the foreign powers stand back of an agreement with the Chinese Government on terms for the release of the captives, since there is mutual distrust between the Chinese Government and the bandits.

The cabinet today was to consider with President Harding what steps this government ought to take in the Chinese situation. Several members of the cabinet favor immediate direct action, namely orders to Minister Schurman at Peking to pay the ransom for the captives and demand and to issue guarantees to them in the name of this government.

The statement from Mayor Cook of Sarnia that Charles R. Pennsylvania Students

Youths Stage Second Riot in One Week—Destroy Priceless Treasures in Wild Charge Through Museum.

Special to The Advertiser.
Philadelphia, Pa., May 22.—More than 2,000 students of the University of Pennsylvania staged a second riot within a week last night after a sophomore-freshman rave feast. The riot began with the cremation in effigy of four unpopular professors, a snake dance followed, and the leader of the line charged towards the commercial museum where an exposition is being held.

In a mad rush they bowled over the door man and ran yelling and cheering through the building that was crowded with visitors. In their rampage a case was smashed and articles considered priceless because of historical interest were ruined. Two hundred policemen finally chased the students back to their dormitories. No arrests were made.

TO GET ON VOTERS' LIST

City Clerk Urges All Electors To Make Sure They Are Qualified.

While a number of rate payers in the annexed district responded yesterday to the warning, from City Clerk Baker to enter formal appeals for change or addition to the provincial voters' list, there is but little time left in which the people of the city proper may enter their claims.

The clerk warns again that it is the duty of every elector to go to the city hall without further delay and ascertain definitely if their name is on the list. This would apply particularly to those who have moved from one ward to another since the assessors toured the district.

No appeals will be heard by the court of revision, unless application is registered at the city hall within the specified five day limit.

REFUSES CANDIDATURE

Canadian Press Despatch.

Business pressure was given as the reason.

Stratford, Ont., May 22.—Jack Underwood, who some time ago was convicted of bigamy, was yesterday sentenced to five years in Kingston. The charge was laid that Underwood, being married, did go through a form of marriage with Ethel Brown of this city on October 17, 1922.

The information laid by the crown was based on documents secured from England that Underwood married there in 1920.

GUNMEN TRY TO ROB
TORONTO STOREKEEPER

Henry Briggs, Bloor Street, Scared Off Bandits by Yelling.

Special to The Advertiser.
Toronto, May 22.—Two gunmen armed with automatics attempted to hold up Henry Briggs in his store at 444 Bloor street west at 10 o'clock last night. Despite the fact that they threatened to kill him, they ran away when he yelled for help, and Harry Cohen, 448 Bloor street west, hearing Mr. Briggs' call for help, ran out and gave chase to the gunmen. They turned on him and shot at him as he raced after them.

Mr. Briggs today related his experience. He stated the two men walked into his furnishing store and flashed an automatic at him, saying, "The thing we want is your money. Make it quick and be snappy." But Mr. Briggs started to yell, "I didn't do what they told me to do, and they struck at me several times and just let me about, then started out of the store," he declared.

One man turned around just as he left the store and made a lunge at Briggs and said, "I'll get square with you; we will be back again," was his parting shot.
