UNITED CHURCH HOCKEY LEAGUE BEING ORGANIZED FOR THE COMING SEASON

Senior Group Of Six Teams Now Ready To Begin Play—Managers Secured And Personnel Of Teams Arranged—Schedule Drawn Up—Club To Be Represented In Town League If One Is Formed This Year—Rumors of Trophy Heard.

Arrangements for an active and most interesting season of sport are being completed by officials of the United Church Hockey Association here. The new club is divided into two playing sections, senior and junior. The first section is comprised of boys from 12 to 15 years of age while the latter is made up of young hockeyists of from 15 to 18. Organization of the senior league is already completed. The schedule has been drawn up, players have been chosen and coaches secured for each of the six teams in this section.

Practices are being held this week prospects are good for an engaging season of sport. If it is found necessary, changes may be made in the line-ups of the different squads, but this will only be done where such rearrangement is deemed expedient for the good of the club.

It further announced that a skeleton of picked players will be chosen from the senior section to represent the club in a Town Hockey League, if one is formed this winter in Campbellton.

Open-Air Rink

Officials of this new hockey organization have also got well started on the proposed open-air rink. This is located at corner of Andrew and Aberdeen Streets and will shortly be in shape.

Trophy Suggested

This week it is rumored that a local organization has under consideration the presentation of a trophy to the winning team of this group. Nothing definite has yet been announced but the possibility that a cup may be put up for competition is being discussed with much interest.

The schedule of the senior section of the United Church Hockey Club appears below. A list of the teams, their managers and their personnel also follows. Similar information concerning the junior group will appear immediately it is announced.

SIFTING FAKE NEWS FROM THE TRUTH

News Gathering Have Great Responsibility and Nobly Live Up to it.

"Fake News and the Public" is the title of a very interesting article in Harper's monthly. It is from the pen of Edward McKernon, superintendent of the eastern division of the Associated Press, that famous organization for gathering news which has nerve centres in almost every habitable portion of the globe. Mr. McKernon essays to tell his readers "how the press combats rumor, the market rigger and the propagandist." His article deals for the most part with the experiences of the Associated Press, but he gives us this little word picture of what is going on continually in the editorial offices of newspapers all over this continent.

As an instance of the persevering manner in which news-gathering organizations seek for absolute verification or denial of sensational rumors before sending their stories broadcast, Mr. McKernon relates this dramatic incident which happened in the New York office of the A. P.

The rush of the day seemed to have ended in the New York office of the Associated Press on the afternoon of June 8, 1924. The wires hummed monotonously with Wall Street's price of pork, tomorrow's weather. In about 20 minutes, the final editions in the east would go to press. The night shift was nearly due. The day editor, that autocrat of the news room, looked at his watch and yawned.

Suddenly out of the air flashed an S. O. S. followed by "Struck an iceberg off Newfoundland. Leaking." There was no signature, the name of the vessel in distress having been lost somewhere as her cry for help was picked up by the British liner Orduña and relayed to the wireless station at the Charlestown Navy Yard. Now this measure in itself might have caused no great excitement except for the coincidence that during the preceding night, the French line steamer Rochambeau, had lessened the offices of the line in New York that she had "sighted ice off the North Atlantic coast."

The Rochambeau was known to be in the general locality from which the S. O. S. had come. Instantly the two messages were associated. As quickly, members of the Associated Press staff were communicating with the offices of the French line. Others were locating by sea charts and shipping reports, every large vessel in the ice-berg zone and ruffing wireless inquiries to the commanders. The wiremen were connecting the news from North Sidney, Nova Scotia, by direct cable in order to pick up any wireless messages intercepted there. Ten minutes passed. They worked fast. But rumor worked faster. Telephone calls choked the switchboard. "What about the Rochambeau?" "We hear the Rochambeau struck an ice-berg." Have you any word of a collision at sea?" To all went the same answer: "We do not know of any disaster."

The day editor took out his watch. He knew some papers were going to press with the rumor. If it were true it was news of the first magnitude. The A. P. might be licked, but it was the same editor who had released the first news of the Titanic horror, and now the spectre of that tragedy of the sea rose before his eyes. The peace of mind of many was in his keeping. "We'll wait," he said. Twelve minutes of suspense—thirteen—fourteen—fifteen—then a flash from the cable: "Rochambeau reports all well." The evening, apparently in no danger of foundering, to St. John's; also that the French liner, Rochambeau, westward bound, reported sighting ice in the North Atlantic.

JESUS OF NAZARETH WAS NOT A MYTH

Says Rabbi Wise—Jews Must Embrace His Teachings.

New York, Dec. 21.—Standing before a capacity congregation in Carnegie Hall, Sunday, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of the Free Synagogue, asserted that the contrary to Hebraic teaching, Jesus of Nazareth was not a myth, but a man and that the Jews must embrace the teachings of Jesus. Christianity is practical and unattainable, as the Jews say it is, said Dr. Wise, then it is because the Christians have failed to live up to their teachings of Jesus. He declared these teachings comprise a code of ethics unparalleled in any writings in history, being the very foundations of morality.

On Saturday the 19th, the continuing Presbyterian Church held their Christmas entertainment and Christmas tree which was a decided success. The tree was loaded with presents and gave a very brilliant appearance which delighted the little tots. The down hall was filled with people, Santa Claus was also present in his usual good humor and shook hands with everybody. Much credit is due the teachers and others who helped make this a success.

Discusses the Situation

Rebursed to New Brunswick

Fredericton, Dec. 21.—"We as a temperance people have, I believe, expended too much on the fighting process, throwing people in jail and fining them, instead of depending upon the building of a process which must be educational," said Dr. G. J. Trueman, president of Mount Allison University, Sackville, during the course of a speech yesterday morning at the 73rd anniversary service of the dedication of the Wilmet United Church, formerly the Methodist Church of Fredericton.

Dr. Trueman said that the educational method required careful study of facts, showing the actual effect of liquor as revealed through vital statistics and the records of life insurance companies. These facts, instilled into the hearts of young people during their youth, he claimed, would have the desired result, although a slow process. The present method was, in his opinion, an attempt to bridge a period of years in the world's progress, to gain a result quickly.

ONE TIE THAT BINDS CANADA AND THE U. S.

Two Countries Brought Together in Harmony by Railway Lines.

Toronto, Dec. 19.—The task of drawing the United States and Canada closer together in neighborhood harmony with bonds of steel was begun by the railway officials of the New York Central Lines, speaking before the Transportation Club at the annual banquet at the Carlton Hotel last night.

"In uniting our countries with eternal bonds of steel we have cemented a union of sympathy and understanding unique in history," said Mr. E. H. Riddle, "The railroad is the tie that binds us most closely together."

E. JEAN MacDONALD

La Tuque, Dec. 21.—The provincial police and the federal police, with the aid of the local police, have been searching for a bottle of whisky which was found in a house in La Tuque, Quebec, during the early spring.

Up to then no trace had been found of the bottle which had contained the poison which is alleged to have been the cause of Abraham Gallop's death and Detective Egan, of the provincial police, has been endeavoring to trace the bottle which Mrs. Gallop is said to have obtained from a doctor in Roberval or some other nearby town or village. An investigation had revealed that the bottle had been sent to some person in New Brunswick, but when the police arrived at the latter's place of residence they were informed that he had left for a number of days at La Tuque, Quebec. Egan went to the latter place and met the man he was looking for and he was returned from the bush.

This man then told him that he had the bottle in his possession but that he would not give it up until he was paid $500. Egan then went to the latter's place and met the man he was looking for and he was returned from the bush.
