STANDING CROPS
The Department of Agriculture is announcing prizes for standing crops, and it is hoped our farmers will enter into the spirit of the competition.

The prizes are substantial, ranging from $9.00 for the best acre of wheat to $500. There are forty-six prizes in all.

Announcement of these prizes should have been made a year ago, so that farmers could prepare their land and plan to enter the competition. In this way farmers would be encouraged to improve their crops. We trust the Department will make the announcement that this competition will be a yearly affair hereafter.

A NEW VOLUM
With this issue the Graphic begins another cycle in its existence.

The past year has been a most trying one to most newspaper publishers and was no exception as far as the Graphic is concerned. Early in the year the demand for paper became greater than the supply and consequently was difficult to procure and the price advanced rapidly. The price of every other commodity which enters into the make of a newspaper has risen so in price that in order to keep up the high standard set by the publishers, it was found necessary in common with papers in most centres, to increase the subscription price to $1.50 per year in advance.

We are pleased to state that our readers realize the justice of this increase and are paying up at the new rate.

We expected to make marked improvements in our paper with this issue, but unfortunately material ordered for delivery on July 1st has not yet arrived, so the improvements will be delayed a few weeks.

We trust that the next year will see peace restored and business return to normal condition.

PATRIOTIC FUND BONDS
The impression has gone abroad that Restigouche, like some other Municipalities, have in the issuing of bonds to pay its grant to the patriotic fund, handed down to its children the duty of paying the contribution. This is not the case.

At the meeting of the Municipal Council held in January last, it was agreed that the county's contribution towards the Patriotic fund would be $10,000 for the year. At the time $5000.00 was voted for six months with the understanding that $5000.00 additional would be voted at the semi-annual session in July.

At that session a resolution was adopted providing for the issuing of bonds to the amount of $10,000. The bonds are so made that $3000.00 mature yearly so that the entire issue will be paid in less than four years. $3000 was included in the present year's as-

HEADACHE?
Thousands of persons who have never known a day's sickness in any other form are subject to frequent attacks of Headache that almost drive them mad.

Whatever the nature may be and the cause, the immediate condition that produces the pain is a congestion or filling up of the blood vessels of the brain with blood, thus causing a pressure on the brain cells and nerve filaments.

In treating all forms of Headache the first thing to do is to relieve the congestion of the blood vessels of the brain. Abbey's Effervescent Salt in laxative doses does this promptly.

Sold everywhere at 25c. and 60c.

Full blooded people who are subject to frequent attacks of Headache can be entirely relieved by taking laxative doses of the Salt every morning.
Headaches from Indigestion and Biliousness are also entirely banished by continuing the use of the Salt until the normal action of the liver and stomach is restored.

document to provide this years payment of bonds.

This is a much better way than handing the debt over to the next generation to pay.

THE ROADS
Mr. F. B. Carvell and Mr. E. S. Carter, speaking in Charlotte county last week, referred at some length to the plank in the opposition platform which makes provision for permanent roads in the province, pointing out that the opposition had pledged itself to take the highways out of politics as soon as it had the power to do so and to set aside money collected from automobile licenses together with an equal appropriation from provincial revenues to pay the interest on the bonds necessary for permanent road building. The money thus provided would amount to more than $1,000,000.

BLACK CAPE
The Brothers Assembly General meeting took place on Thursday evening and continued till Sunday evening.
The principal speakers were Messrs.
Stewart and Moier, while others also took part. Quite a number of visitors from outside places were present, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Charles Major, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Campbellton, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas St. Croix, Hopetown, Mrs. John Ray, New Carlisle, Mrs.
Fred Munro and Mrs. Hocquard, Paspebiac West, Mrs. Alexander Campbell, Cullen's Brook, Mr. J. E. Couell, New Carlisle and Mr. John Campbell, Cullen's Brook. All the meetings were well attended.

Miss Sadie Fairservice of Portland, Maine, is home on a two month's vacation.

Miss Ida Fairservice returned on Monday from Matapedia, where she has been teaching school.

Mrs. William Johnston and Miss Ruby Steele attended the Presbyterial which was held in Bathurst last week.

Mr. Hugh Johnston left on Friday for Chandler, where he is in the employ of the Atlantic, Quebec and Western Railway Co.

Mr. J. H. West has gone on a trip to Quebec.

Mr. David McColm paid Campbellton a flying visit last week.

Mr. Samuel McEwen of Chandler, who has been here attending the general meeting, returned on Monday to his home.

The many friends of Mr. John Campbell, who has been in poor health for some time, will regret to learn that he is becoming much weaker, and is confined to his room by times.

We are pleased to note that Mr.
Ruston McColm is erecting a new residence.

AIR RAID ON SALONIKI
ZEPPELIN BROUGHT DOWN
—A Wonderful Sight—
The Globe, through Mr. Edward S.
Casswell, has received the following graphic story of an air raid on Saloniki from Nurse Stagg, with the No. 4 General Hospital at Saloniki. The account of the raid is taken from the British army paper published at Salon-iki.

Yesterday morning, shortly after 1.30 o'clock, a Zeppelin crossed the Greek frontier bound for Saloniki.
Within a quarter of an hour of the receipt of the signal announcing the air-ship's flight towards the town, all lights were put out, and on the warships in the bay and at the various aerodromes. Every man stood to his post.

Coming from the northeast, the Ze-ppelin was first observed at about 2 o'- clock standing out against the clear starlit sky above the town. At once the powerful searchlights of the fleet and of the stations on the hills outside Saloniki were brought to bear on the monster, which now, as though blinded by the glare, began to steer an erratic course, sailing low down over the town without any apparent objective. Like a trapped animal it went hither and thither, trying to escape from the ring of bursting shells which now flashed out from the warships and the anti-aircraft guns ashore.

The searchlights clung to the Zepelin, and, twice and turn as it might, they would not let it go. As a sight the scene was magnificent. The great swarms of the searchlights flashed across the starlit sky, the shells provided a display that would make a Dante's benefit pale by comparison, while in the centre of the storm role the great incandescent monster, helpless and hopeless, seeking blindly for an outlet in that ring of fire.

Hit and staggering, it succeeded in reaching the estuary of the Vardar, hoping possibly to escape into neutral territory, and here above these marshes and mud flats occurred the last scene of all.

A well-aimed shot from a monitor brought the monster to a halt and as it sank to earth a torpedo-boat rushed it and ended the fight. There was a loud explosion when the crew of the Zeppelin, to save their skins, threw their own bombs overboard; next came a great burst of flames and then darkness. The silence then was suddenly broken by an unexpected sound. From every British warship in the bay came cheers—Hip-hip-hip-hip-hip-hip-hip-hip-hoorah! And again and once more it was the fleet celebrating its victory.

Of the Zeppelin's crew the bulk have survived, and at the moment, while a dozen have been rounded up, as many are in hiding in the mountains which mark the estuary of the Vardar. All day yesterday French aircraft were hunting for these men. What is left of the Zeppelin will be brought to Sal-

ROT-PROOF

Did you know that the ordinarily good fence post which you are accustomed to replacing every four or five years could be made to last 20 years? Creosote treatment does it. And Grade-One Liquid Creosote Oil brings this advantage right to your door because it is creosote in such form that the average home owner and farmer can use it.

Creosote Oil

The biggest point about Creosote Oil is that you can apply it by brushing or dipping. No cumbersome closed-cylinder method. Just as simple as painting. And it penetrates deeper than any other preservative. Strengthens and renews. Use this wonderful preservative on all wood work exposed to earth or dampness.

oniki and exhibited to the delighted inhabitants. For Saloniki was in high glue all day yesterday. Greek and Hebrew alike have come to regard the German airmen as their personal foes —and with good reason!

The Zeppelin was sighted bearing W. S. W. from H. M. S. Agamemnon at 2.15 a. m. She passed over the after part of the ship and then turned and crossed the bows. After crossing the bows, she was hit by a twelve-pounder shell from the Agamemnon, and possibly by others. She was immediately in difficulties and headed for the mouth of the Vardar River.

At 3.15 a. m. she was flying very low near the Boom. She then began to drop and the ship at the Boom fired two shots while the Zeppelin was falling, and one when it was on the ground, which happened at 3.37 a. m. three-quarters of a mile from the shore, N. W. of the northern end of the Boom defence.

A party from the ship at the Boom put off and secured the German flag.
The burned bodies of two men were found, and from various indications the probable carrying capacity of the Zeppelin was a crew of 50. From marks on the debris she is probably LZ55 or LZ85. The debris is now lying in a marsh in about one foot of water. The fabric of the Zeppelin was completely destroyed and merely the framework remains. A chart, recording instrument and various other articles were found.

It has been ascertained subsequently that four officers and eight men of the crew made their way to land, where they have since been found by the French troops.

The Admiralty have wired to the fleet outside Saloniki, "Well done, navy."

—Lonesome for Letters
From Home

Mrs. Clara Boudreau of Glen Levit has received the following letter from her son, Pte. Mansfield Boudreau, who has been fighting in France for some time.

May 26th, 1916.

Dear Mother:

Just a few lines to answer your letter which I received an hour ago and was glad to hear from you. It was about two months since I got any mail and I was writing every week. It is pretty lonesome when you do not get any letters. I am feeling fine and have been in the trenches four times.
It is too bad about Clarence Murray.
I sent you a lot of photos, did you get them? I sent them to you before I left England. They were taken at night in a barn. Hope you like them.

I know a lot of the boys in the 26th and they are all well. I passed a rather lonesome birthday and I did not have any birthday cake, but I will be home for next birthday, so don't worry about me. I will close for this time, from
