The phenomenal success which has attended the operations of the Manufacturers' Life is largely owing to the fact that its Plans of Insurance are adapted to suit the requirements of all classes of the community and presents many inducements to intending insurers peculiar to itself. For example, a man insured on the ordinary life plan, has the privilege of withdrawing the full accumulations attaching to his policy at the age of Sixty-five, thus an ordinary Life Policy in the Manufacturers' is a partial endowment. The premium rates are as low as from Twenty-three Cents a Week per $1000.

Are you a man with a wife and children so much dependent upon you that the stoppage of supplies, necessary for their existence consequent upon your death would reduce them to pauperism? Have you failed to avail yourself of the advantages offered you by insuring in the Manufacturers' Life? Do so now. Pay your debt to them.

Are you a man whose business standing is so precarious that a rumor of your serious illness would affect your line of credit to your financial ruin, and have you failed to drop your best bower anchor for your own security and that of your wife and children in the shape of a Life Policy in the Manufacturers'? Do so now. Pay this debt.
