The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it is in fact, the most Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation.

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

Fifty Years in The Ministry.

"The grand old man" of London Methodist Conference is Dr. Alex. Langford, of Stratford, who a few months ago celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his entry into the work of the ministry, and who now retires to the position of a supernumerary minister, crowned with years of successful toil and standing high in the esteem of his colleagues.

Dr. Langford is a man who has defeated defeat. When he went on his first circuit at Belmont a few miles from London, in the year 1856, it was a rather general opinion that if he lived more than three or four years he would do well. At the end of a year he was put on what was known as the Warwick mission, which comprised about twenty preaching points and extended over half of the County of Lambton. Over this Dr. Langford rode on horseback through the woods and muddy roads—for Lambton still has a reputation for mud, and perhaps it was the very hardship—at any rate, he didn't die, as friends predicted, but, if anything, grew stronger.

"Those were days of hardship," he says, "of a very real kind, but in all my fifty years I have had no years which brought so much into my life as those on the Warwick mission."

When a man has labored for fifty years most people would concede that he has done well, and in Dr. Langford's case this will be universally admitted. That the years yet remains to him may be as happy as any in the past will be the hearty wish of not only the members of London conference, but of the thousands throughout Western Ontario who know the man, his work and his worth.

Such Weather.

When Polly packs her luggage now, To make a two-days' visit
"It isn't sense," says she, "to think 'Tis summer yet—now, is it?"
(A bathing suit and a big fur coat;
Low-cut shoes and a muff;
A fan and a big thick chamol vest.
A peck-a-boo and a ruff.)
Other things are in there too
Of light and heavier stuff—
Polly is off to spend two days
And she wants to carry "enough."

FOR BETTER TEACHERS.

Old Third Class Certificates to be Abolished—Summer Schools and Institutes.

The Provincial Government proposes to establish in every county a Teachers' Institute, which will meet for a few days in September of each year. All teachers will be asked to attend these institutes, which will be conducted on professional lines by professional men from the staffs of the new Normal Schools.

Third-class certificates are to be abandoned and teachers holding these qualifications are to be given opportunity to secure advanced certificates by an examination divided into four annual parts.

Such was the pronouncement of Dr. John Seath, speaking officially on behalf of the Minister of Education, to the gathering of York county teachers in the Normal School auditorium.

"The aim of the Department is to increase the salary and improve the condition of the teacher, particularly the public school teacher," said Dr. Seath. "It is felt that for the past ten or fifteen years this subject has not had sufficient attention. We desire to improve the qualification and the salary. The compulsory feature of the minimum salary has been abandoned for inducement, and I may tell you that the Minister has further in contemplation special recognition to schools who are paying their teachers well."

"Summer schools are to be held from time to time," continued the Superintendent, "and following the establishment of the new Normal Schools, it is proposed to establish Teachers' Institutes in every county in which professional work will be conducted by men of experience. Provision will be made for the teachers to attend these institutes for some days in September."

Interviewed by The News concerning the announcement, both Hon. Dr. Pyne and Dr. Seath said nothing further could be stated at the present time. The plans are now having Government consideration.

County Council Association

The annual meeting of the County Council Association, which was inaugurated a few years ago, will be held in Petrolia on Friday, June 21st. This association is comprised of all the municipal officers—past and present—of the county, and meets once a year to talk over and take action on matters pertaining to county and municipal politics. John Farrell is President of the Association, and it is expected there will be one hundred and fifty members in attendance. Arrangements are being made to give a banquet to the visitors on that date.

Rosy Cheeks for Pale Girls.

Don't be debarred from strength and spirit, don't give in to idleness and despair. Ferrazone supplies tone and vigor through which all functions of womanly life are maintained and fortified. From New Richmond, Que., comes the following statement from Mrs. Isidore Boissonneault: "I take deep pleasure in testifying to the powerful influence of Ferrazone. For years my daughter has been pale and sickly—showed signs of advanced anæmia. Her lips got so white and her cheeks so devoid of color I feared consumption. I can certify Ferrazone made an excellent cure, and today my daughter's health is the best." 60c. per box at all dealers.

Ploughs up Mastodon.

While plowing in a field near Duart T. T. B. H. unearthed a bone of a mastodon and has every assurance that the rest of the skeleton will be found lower down. The bone discovered is three feet long and about ten inches in diameter at the points, and is in a good state of preservation.

About a foot of black loam covered the mud in which the bones were found. The villagers are awaiting with keen interest the excavation that will bring the rest of the bones to light. Judging from the length of the bone, already found, the animal must have been one of huge proportions and must have stood fully nine feet high.

Canadian Boy Who Made His Millions.

Woodstock, June 1.—Thomas Dunn, of St. Louis, is a visitor in the city today on his way to England. Mr. Dunn was born a few miles from this city in Blandford Township.

In 1864, when a young man, he left to make his fortune in St. Louis, and it was characteristic of him that he would take from his father only enough money to buy a single ticket. At first he worked as newsboy on a train, then bought out the news department; gradually got into mercantile pursuits, and is now said to be worth, on a conservative estimate, three or four millions.

Most of his money was made in real estate and stock speculation. He is ex-Mayor of the city, and a prominent citizen. To the people of this district, however, he is still plain Tom Dunn, and there is nothing he likes better than to come back and shake hands with all his old friends.

Councillor Jackson, of Forest, has resigned.
