The hands are not soiled or disfigured by the wringing of a filthy, greasy cloth. As the cloth is not torn or disfigured as in ordinary mopping no special preparation is required.

DR. A. WILFORD HALL'S HEALTH PAMPHLET.
Health Without Medicine.
Read the Following Testimonial:

"DEAR SIR,—I was among the very first to order Dr. Hall's Health Pamphlet on seeing its announcement in the Microcosm. I was then in Washington City, and proceeded immediately to put the new treatment in practice personally and with others, more especially to test its physiological and therapeutic effects. I have become so well convinced of its value for the alleviation of many forms of disease, such as dyspepsia, lung troubles, constipation, kidney derangements, and in fact all forms of disease which have their origin in an impure state of the circulation, that I am ready to give it my unqualified endorsement as a potent adjuvant in the treatment of such cases."
—Jas. F. Danter, M.D., late of Toronto, now of Fresno, Cal.

Memories.
Arise, ye by-gone memories—
Sweet memories of the past,
Return the tuneful melodies
That once were round me cast;
Return the heart-felt harmonies
Of each enraptured theme,
And all the golden galantries
That round childhood's life that gleam;
The softly-sighing summer breeze
That whispered thro' the pines,
And yellow needles from their trees
Cust down on beds of vines;
The wild-bird's tuneful minstrelries
That waked the woodland bowers,
The murmuring hum of busy bees
Among the summer flowers;
Return the joyful ecstasies
That filled fond childhood's heart,
The sweet intense felicities
Of boyhood's guileless art;
Return, ye golden memories,
Fond Youth's delightful dream
That filled the soul with melodies
Far sweeter than they seem;
Return, life's sacred symphonies,
The cherished friends of yore,
Youth's spirit and its sympathies,
And I would ask no more.
Alas! ye treasured memories,
Sweet memories of the past,
Ye are the echoing elegies
Of joys that could not last.
Ye are the mournful melodies,
Too deep for human tears,
That tell in measured melodies
The death of Childhood's years;
Ye are the sweet sad mysteries
That blend the here and there,
That tell in human histories
We are not what we were.

Life, as we call it, is nothing but the edge of the boundless ocean of existence where it comes upon soundings.—[O. W. Holmes.
