Information.

The best plan when sending us orders by post for Goods advertised, is to send the part of advertisement which gives description and price of the articles required.

Should the Goods wanted not be advertised please give as full a description as you can of the Goods, stating about the price you wish to give, and say what the Goods are to be used for, as it helps us to select the right makes, then you are sure to get the right Goods and at the right prices.

Thank You.

We beg to thank our customers at distance, whom we have never seen, but who regularly favor us with their orders. You are just as well served as if you selected the goods personally.

Our order trade is increasing every week, and the fact that the same people keep sending their orders every season, is a proof that we give much better value than can be had elsewhere.

We have regular customers eastward as far as Chicoutimi, Gaspe, and St. John, N.B., and westward as far as we are able to send parcels by express.

Samples! Samples!

To save time, trouble and expense, we may say that we

DO NOT SEND SAMPLES.

It would cause too much trouble and would cost too much money; besides, samples generally misguide people more than anything else, as they cannot give a fair representation of the goods.

Customers will have to, and do, place confidence in us, as it is useless sending their orders if they cannot rely on our doing the right thing.

Surplus, Surplus.

Should the money sent be over the amount of Bill the change is returned in the parcel. We never send more goods than ordered, but sometimes we may send an article a few cents under or over the price quoted. We always select the very best value as near the prices as possible. Of course when goods are ordered from the Advertisement the prices will always be exactly the same as advertised but as many customers send orders for goods not advertised, in such cases we have not always the goods at the act prices ordered but can do them within a few cents.

Our country and city customers can be assured of one thing, viz.—That we guarantee our prices to be lower than any store in Canada for the same quality of goods.

Flannels, Flannels.

Good Canton Flannel, from 8c to 10c per yard.

Very good quality Canton Flannel, at 13c and 14c per yard

Extra quality Canton Flannel, from 17c to 23c per yard.

BRIEF SKETCH OF THE COLLEGE OF OTTAWA.

Immediately after the consecration of the Right

Rev. J. E. Guigues, D. D., Bishop of Ottawa, in 1848, his enlightened zeal urged him to found a "diocesan college in the interests of higher education, an institution that would open to the youth of his diocese the avenues to the Sanctuary and the various liberal professions. In this arduous undertaking he felt that he could count upon the devoted zeal of the members of the religious order to which he himself belonged, the congregation of the Oblate Fathers of Mary Immaculate, fourteen of whom, aided by twenty scholastic Brothers of the Order, a secular priest, Father O'Reilly, who is an able scholar and writer, and eight lay teachers, all under the very able Presidency of Rev. J. H. Tabaret, O.

M. I., are at present engaged at the work then inaugurated.

The College of Bytown, for thus the new institution was incorporated by Act of Parliament in 1849, opened its classical and commercial courses in September, 1848, in a wooden building on Church street and the Cathedral grounds. Since then the following Oblate Fathers have been in succession Superiors of the College:—Rev. Father Chevalier

Rev. Father Mignault, Rev. Father Tabaret, Rev.

Father Ryan, Rev. Father Tabaret, Rev. Father

Pullier, Rev. Father Tabaret. The last named reverend gentleman, who is now President, has since September, 1853, taken a most active part in the direction of the College, as President, as head Director of the studies and of discipline, or as Provincial of the Oblate Fathers in Canada, for while occupying the high position in the Order he never lost sight of the College, where he had laboured so long and devotedly, and whose interests he now could, and did forward in many ways. No one who knows him will dispute his right to the praise bestowed upon him by one of our Dominion journals:

"The Rev. Father Tabaret, one of the most distinguished scholars in the Dominion, is at the head of the institution, and is recommending the Ottawa University to our friends," &c. (Ed. True Witness, June 9th, 1876.) In 1854, Mr. Blake, Chancellor of the University of Toronto, informed him, on the part of His Excellency the Administrator of the Government, that he, the Superior of the College of Bytown, had been nominated Senator of that University. While the Council of Public Instruction for Ontario lasted, he was also member thereof.

Father Tabaret may indeed well be styled the corner stone and second founder of the College of Ottawa.

Sixty-five students answered the first summons to class in the College of Bytown. This was a fair beginning for the time. Soon the modest dimensions of the wooden structure, alluded to above, were found to be limited. Accordingly the building which the Christian Brothers now occupy on Sussex street was erected, and in September, 1853, the college students were transferred thereto. Here they remained until the present spacious, healthy and comparatively retired location on Wilbrod street was purchased and the main part of the noble structure now occupied was ready for students of the college, for those of the Diocesan Ecological Seminary and for the Oblate Fathers in charge of both of these important works of zeal and enlightenment. This was in 1856. The following year the new parish church of St. Joseph was erected on lots adjoining those of the college, and given in charge to the Fathers of the college, who, owing to their numbers and the proximity of the seminary and of the college, have all the requisite facilities to give entire satisfaction to the parishioners of St. Joseph's. Two wings have since been added to the main college building. The wing last erected is very extensive, lofty and finely finished. Its towering aspect and graceful cupola and roof differing from the rest of the building denote that the energetic, enterprising Oblate Fathers intend if possible, to give symmetry to the whole by raising the rest of the building and giving it the fine finish of the new wing. What a pity some generous souls whom fortune favours do not lead them a helping hand. They have, unaided, already done perhaps far too much for their slender means. Debt now weighs heavily upon them, and yet though Government aid, so needed, has been withdrawn, education taxes would still more cramp their laudible efforts. The devoted Fathers of the college receive no salaries. Were it otherwise the college could not stand a single year
