

At the other end of the road there is a large building which is a library. This building has a large entrance and a large sign above it that says "Public Library". Inside there is a large room with many books on shelves. There are also some tables and chairs where people can sit and read.

There is also a smaller room next door that contains more books and a few tables. This room is used for quiet reading or studying. There is a small entrance to this room from the main entrance. The main entrance is made of wood and has a glass door. The door is open and you can see inside. There is a small sign above the door that says "Library".

The building is very old and has a lot of character. The walls are made of stone and the roof is made of tiles. There is a small entrance to the left of the main entrance. This entrance is made of wood and has a glass door. The door is open and you can see inside. There is a small sign above the door that says "Library".
