The inquest being held by Corone Johnson to enquire into the death of Arthur Brooks, who died in the Tor onto General Hospital as the result of injuries sustained when the automobil in which he was riding crashed into a tree on the highway about three. quarters of a mile east of Cooksville in the early morning of Sept. 25 was again adjourned last evening until Tuesday, adjourned last evening until Tuesday, Nov. 4. No evidence was given at last night's enquiry that could throw any further light on the real cause of the accident. Much of the evidence given previous-ity was heard again last night. Lovell Mickles, owner and driver of the first car, stated that those in the Nordheimer car had said that they had passed the wrecked car between the time it had struck the tree and toppled over, but he could not explain how the two cars had passed each other when cuestioned by Crown Attorney Greer. Waiter Jones, who was one of those seated in the rear seat of the wrecked car, along with Brocks and Thombs, thought that the car had tilted side-ways a short while before it struck the tree. He was of the opinion that the wheel coming off or the breaking of the rear axle would cause this, but could not say whether either of these had occurred. BRITISH POLICY

It was shown that the Nordheim It was shown that the Nordheimer car had been damaged on the same day as the Cooksville accident, but no evidence was produced to show that it had anything to do with the accident. Much argument arose over Arthur Visick giving evidence, Mr. Wright, who was acting for those who had been in the accident, wanting to know whether he was offering expert evi-dence. Coroner Johnson satisfied him that Visick was merely a witness for the crown. Despite this fact, however, Wright objected several times when Visick's evidence verged on that of an expert. The accepted evidence of Visick was merely the identification of pictures taken at the scene of the acci-dent and of the wrecked machine.

iaw submitted to the voters on January 1. The reports of John MacKay and H. H. Couzens will be ready in a few days, and then a special meeting of the council can be called to decide if expert counsel will be provided to help the civic legal department pass upon the agreement of purchase drawn up by Mr. Geary. Mayor Hocken states that the agree-ment of purchase will really be a bill of sale, for it buys outright the pro-perties required for a clean-up of the franchises. As the agreement of pur-chase is reduced to the simplicity of a bill of sale, the preparation of the document should not prevent the sub-mission of the bylaw on January 1.
