

door, to know whether I had any thing for him to do in the garden, or a message in the town when he was going out for a walk.

“He looked very nice, lying in his silver-white coffin, covered with flowers, and a bunch of lilies and wild pear-blossoms on his bosom. We trust that he was one of the blessed meek who shall inherit the earth. We were all with him when he breathed his last, the Bishop, and the Principal of St. John’s College, commending his soul to his faithful Creator.”

It is proposed to inscribe a record of Kalli, and of other deceased students of St. Augustine’s College, on a tablet in the crypt under the College Chapel. A memorial stone will be erected over Kalli’s grave in St. John’s, Newfoundland.

With reference to the decease of some hopeful students of St. Augustine’s, who, after giving promise of much usefulness in the cause of missions, had been removed from this earthly scene, Mr. Phelps observed in a letter printed at the St. Augustine’s College Press:—

“The whole College is again reminded, that ‘all flesh is grass,’ and that our life ‘is even a vapour that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth
