Dr. Chapman, in Opening Campaign at Massey Hall, Makes Plea for Religion of the Kindly Heart-Conductor Alexander's Methods Infused Needed Life.

Segregation is not a successful policy when applied to revival meetings. The great Massey Hall meeting last night was by no means as great as had been anticipated, and no tickets of admission were needed to restrain the crowd. The meeting was announced to start promptly at 7.45, but at two minutes to 8, when the first hymn was given out, there were 22 people in the top gallery, riadiction over the provinces in this there were 22 people in the top gallery, risdiction over the provinces in this there were 22 people in the top gallery, which on former occasions had been jammed to the roof, and the first balcony and floor with the choir, numbered at the outside 1500 persons.

In Massey Hall this had a frosty effect. Had the inaugural meeting brought together all those who were scattered over the city at the dozen other meetings held, the effect would certainly have ben more impressive. Those who wished to attend Massey Hall were commended to their own churches. If the revival is to reach the unchurched sinner, Massey Hall is the place to get him into. He is less likely to respond to the lures of congregational pew.

Apart from the attendance, the Massey Hall meeting had many encouraging elements. The music provided the greater part of the stimulus, and Chas. M. Alexander has lost nothing in songcraft since the Mg revival of five years ago. His very presence generates a warmth of atmosphere which would kindle the dullest.

Substantial Oratory.

Rev. Dr. Chapman has been heard here before. He is distinctly of the Totrey School of Oratory and makes two syllables out of words like "true." Avein of genial humor would assist his appeal, but he relies on a heavy substantial manner to make his impression and constitutes the heavy fare of the revival menu. Of course, he is in deadly earnest, for dealy earnestness and inexhaustible reiteration form the

J. N. Shenstone, chairman of the central committee, presided, and made central committee, presided, and made the announcements. These included the arrangements for to-night, when Dr. Chapman will state the new method under which he wishes the meetings to be conducted; and the meeting on Sat-urday night, which will be the only one held on that night, at the close of which stereopticon views of the Auswhich stereopticon views of the Australian tour of the evangelists will be shown. Mr. Alexander was anxious to have this understood, so that people might not expect a picture service.

The collections are entirely devoted to local expenses, nothing of the proceeds going to the evangelizing visit-

The platform had rather a skeleton-ized look with the choir of 120 behind and a dozen or so clergy and ministers at one side. Among them were Principals Gandier and O'Meara, Dr. W. F.

Wilson and Dr. Thomas.

The hymn, "Crown Him With Many Crowns," was announced. At the second verse Mr. Alexander came for-

"'Crown Him the Lord of Love.' I thought you all knew that. That's why I asked you to sing it." I asked you to sing it."
The singing still dragged slightly.
"Crown Him the Lord of Years, the Potentate of Time," he read. "That's a good verse for this time of year.
Then Rev. Dr. Rose offered prayer, with petitions that expectation might be crowned with realization; that there might be largeness of vision and in-crease of power; that they might have A Unique Campaign. 'This is one gathering in a campaign unique as far as Toronto is concerned."

declared Chairman Shenstone. The campaign covered the whole city and the suburbs as well. No single denomthe shourds as well. No should be pas-mation was engaged in it, but the pas-tors and clergy of all evangelical churches, thirty or forty in number, Mere banded together for the occasion.

Mr. Shenstone understood that Rev.

Dr. Chapman aimed at strengthening the churches and to leave the people more active and happier in the service of the Lord. The plan was to work thru personal service. If the Christian men and women of Toronto gave themelves up to it, he expected there would be conversions at every meeting.

"Let us rise and sing the hymn that will be the keynote of all these ser-vices," said Dr. Chapman, as he gave out: "All Hall the Power of Jesus' Name." "When the Lord turned the captivity of Zlon," was the passage which Dr. Chapman read after the hymn, in

"We'll reseat the house to begin with," said Mr. Alexander, as he took hold of the meeting, and began to infuse a little life into it.

Some Lively Raillery.

"Nothing kills a meeting like dead timber. Come all you preachers and sit on the front seats of the platform. There's nobody else to sit on them. And if there are any preachers in good standing in the audience, come up, too, and bring your hats and coats with or you may never see them Then came the first laugh, and the revival had really begun.

"Now, Mr. Harkness, begin! Listen to him! He knows just how to play it, for we have told him. Now then."

A CORRECTION.

Inadvertently, the name of the Hamilton Bridge Co. was mentioned in yesterday's account of the Oxford County "graft" investigation, while that concern has had no dealings whatever with Oxford County Council. The Blenheim bridge was erected by Jas. Vance independently and in his evidence he said he was unable to secure the contract until after he had handed Charles Sutherland, then chairman of the good roads committee, $50 in five $10 notes. Mr. Vance, it appears, purchased some material from the Hamilton Bridge Co., but he was acting as an agent for the company.

The news of the intended trip came first from Toronto, and was given in such positive terms that no doubts were expressed.

the Camadian war vessel would meet the governor-general at the mouth of the Mackenzie, but there is the everpresent danger in these latitudes that ice may delay her return. A more important consideration, however, is the fact that these coasts have never been properly surveyed or charted, and, accordingly the danger to a vessel drawing so much water as the Rainbow, would be very great. It is stated that the government would not assume any such risk.

Earl Grey will go to the coronation of King George, and will return in June, and it is possible that, if the governor-general is then bent upon the trip, he may be accommodated on the Hudson Bay Co.'s steamer, which goes to the outlet of the Mackenzie River each year, and he might return by the same vessel. While the story of the trip would not sound so romantic as if made by came and warship, the same object, a trip to the Arctic Ocean, would be accompilished, and he would be certain of getting back on schedule time.
