

FAREWELL TO MGR. FALCONIO

Papal Ablegate, on Leaving Canada,
Tendered a Banquet by Catholics of Toronto.

CARRIES AWAY GOOD OPINIONS

Regards Canada as a Land of Promise—Premier Ross Leads Work of Clergy.

A cordial and feeling farewell was extended to Mgr. Falconio, Papal Ablegate in Canada, by the Canadian Catholic Union, at a banquet in the Catholic hall, on Tuesday evening. It was the eve of his departure for Washington, he having been appointed ablegate in the United States, and he was assured in the most unqualified terms of the high esteem in which he is held by the people of Canada and the excellent appreciation that exists of his services during the three years he has been in this country. Owing to the train from Ottawa being delayed it was 10 o'clock when His Excellency reached the banquet hall. His entrance was the signal for enthusiastic applause.

A choice menu was served, and orchestral music was dispensed during the evening. On the table of honor was a rich display of chrysanthemums and of pontifical colors—yellow and white. His Honor Judge MacMahon, president of the Union, occupied the chair, on his right being the guest of the evening, Mgr. Falconio. The others at the guest table were: The guest's secretary, Father Solanus; Hon. George W. Ross, Mayor of Toronto; Archbishop O'Connor, Bishop McEvoy of London, Father Conboy of Peterboro, Eugene O'Keefe, Vice-General McCann, J. F. White, H. T. Kelly and Senator McHugh of Lindsay.

Then the King was honored. When the toast had been duly honored that of "His Holiness the Pope" was proposed, and was enthusiastically received, the gathering arising and singing the National Anthem. The toast of the guest of the evening was then proposed. In doing so, Judge MacMahon stated that the presence of the hierarchy, the clergy and the laity was an indication of the high esteem in which the Catholic of Ontario held His Excellency. While regretting his departure from their midst, they would extend to him their heartfelt wishes for every happiness in his new home to the south.

Falconio's Happy Reply. Mgr. Falconio returned thanks for the expression of good-will towards him, and for their demonstration of love and fidelity to the Holy Father. He said: "The Holy Father was pleased to give him a higher position, not upon any merit of his own, but because he had been the bottom of his heart that he regretted to leave Canada. [Applause.] The three years I have spent amongst you," he said, "I have learned to love Canada above any country in the world. [Applause.] I admire your beautiful country, with its great expanse of land and all the gifts that nature can bestow upon any land. I admire the high character of the people. Altogether, different nationalities and creeds, yet there is a feeling of love and unity among you that must lead to prosperity and happiness to the whole country. When I write His Holiness, I shall be pleased to tell him that he has such children here that perhaps cannot be found any place in the world. [Applause.] You shall always be present in my mind; I shall pray for Canadians through all my life, and I hope that God will hear my prayers and bestow upon you his choicest blessings. [Loud applause.]"

Bishop McEvoy spoke in a happy strain on behalf of the hierarchy. He said that the diocese of London was deserving of congratulations, for it not only supplied bishops, but also prelates for the world.

Premier Ross was there. "Canada our Land" was proposed in patriotic terms by the chairman, concluding with the toast the name of Hon. G. W. Ross.

The Premier said that when he met Mgr. Falconio, he looked at a great personage. Behind what a great change had taken place in his life. He was quite at home with Canadians, and there was not a citizen of Canada but who was interested in his words of love and affection for our country as expressed by him. His Excellency had come with a message of peace and good-will to Canada, and he had fulfilled his duty. It had discharged that duty, and he had been a blessing to the people of his own church, but to all other who bore the name of Canadian and who were interested in the peace and prosperity of the country. We in Canada realized that two-fifths of our population were Roman Catholics, and we did not measure the degree of prosperity upon racial or religious lines. We had learned to be one people, devoting our energy to make "Canada great and good." In conveying his message of peace and good will to Canadians, His Excellency had done a great service. In wishing His Excellency farewell, they would ask him to remember his relations with Canada and tell our brothers to the south that we were not a people to be despised, but a people worthy of their regard and esteem. It was hard to say farewell to His Excellency, but he would remember his relations with Canada and tell our brothers to the south that we were not a people to be despised, but a people worthy of their regard and esteem. It was hard to say farewell to His Excellency, but he would remember his relations with Canada and tell our brothers to the south that we were not a people to be despised, but a people worthy of their regard and esteem.

Continuing, Hon. Mr. Ross spoke of the excellent services of the Roman Catholic clergy in Ontario in promoting the cause of education, and in conclusion, hoped that when the statesmen of to-day passed away they would leave for those coming after them a land of perfect freedom, with a tolerant spirit among the people, a land where the bench was held sacred and every position of trust occupied by men who

BERESFORD HITS BRODRICK

Upholds British Navy and Says Latter is Going Round the Wrong Turning.

BRITAIN'S FLEET HER SAFETY

With It Defeated, 10,000,000 Men Could Not Prevent Disaster.

London, Nov. 18.—Some recent speeches made by the War Secretary, Mr. Brodrick, showing a tendency to belittle the importance of the navy as a national defence, have brought forth a strong attack by Lord Charles Beresford, who, speaking at Portsmouth to-night, argued that 10,000,000 of the finest Britons under arms could not prevent the cutting off of Great Britain's food supplies if her fleet were beaten. Then, after repudiating any intention to find fault or adversely criticize Mr. Brodrick, whom he said he admired for taking up a work bristling with difficulties, Lord Charles Beresford declared: "What good man as he is, he is going the wrong way with the British army, and there is nothing in the world so dangerous as a good man going round the wrong turning."

PART IN PARNELL TRAGEDY.

Incident in the Life of Late Rev. Price Hughes Recalled.

London, Nov. 18.—Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, who died yesterday, recalled the incident in the life of the late Rev. Price Hughes and William T. Steel, the loudest clamor for the banishment of the Irish leader from the island of Great Britain. As a result of the incident, the non-conformist section of the Liberal party, he declared at St. James' Hall, on the subject of the banishment of the non-conformists would never support a party that was led by Mr. Parnell, the leader of the Irish party, and that the Liberal party would be defeated at the next general election. It was asserted that these threats of secession induced Mr. Gladstone to write his famous letter commending Mr. Parnell to Mr. John Morley, which led to the break up of the Irish parliamentary party under Mr. Parnell's leadership and the great political tragedy in recent British history.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

An Indian Arrested for Crime Committed Oct. 15.

Rochester, N.Y., Nov. 18.—A special despatch to The Democrat and Chronicle says that Ely Farmer, an Indian, living in the town of Carrollton, in Washington County, was arrested and taken to the county jail at Little Valley to-night, charged with murder. His arrest is the result of an investigation into the death of Emma Shonkowsky, a girl, who was found dead in a heap of rubbish at Vaughan's Hotel, in Carrollton. Coroner Sullivan conducted an autopsy and found that the woman's skull had been fractured. Farmer and the woman had lived together, and the day before her body was found had been together. At 8.50 o'clock that night Farmer returned home without his gun, and in the morning her body was found. He will be turned over to the civil authorities of the county by United States Deputy Marshal Manley, who made the arrest.

UNIONISTS' HUMAN DEVILS

Dayton Man Calls Them Union Brutes and Says Perjury is Their Golden Rule.

STAND FOR SOCIALISM AND ANARCHY

Toronto Employers Urged to Stand Together to Resist the Tyranny of Labor.

Toronto Employers Urged to Stand Together to Resist the Tyranny of Labor. Trades unionists received a scolding at the hands of John Kirby, Jr., president of the Employers' Association of Dayton, Ohio, who delivered an address in the rotunda of the Board of Trade on Tuesday evening before the members of the Employers' Association of Toronto, about eighty of whom were present, with John P. Murray in the chair.

The speaker did not mince matters. He described some trades unionists as "human devils and union brutes," and said perjury was their golden rule.

Employers Must Organize. Mr. Kirby maintained that the arbitrary, dictatorial methods used by leaders of organized labor made it necessary for employers of labor to also organize and adopt some method of protecting themselves and offset the effects of organized labor.

As for the remedy, he said the only one was a threefold one. First, employers of labor, whose objects would be to instruct and encourage an employee to dispose of his labor wherever he liked, and to protect him and also to void these advantages if he joined a union.

Where will non-union men find work where unionism reigns? was an inquiry Mr. Kirby made. He said that organized labor got the better of the employers when they stationed themselves in the door of the employer's place, and that the employer's hands which enabled them to beat out their brains.

Duty of Every Employer. The duty of every employer of labor, said Mr. Kirby, was to contribute his time and money towards the utter annihilation of organized labor, with its vicious practices. He thought that if the Declaration of Independence of the United States had been read, and if the ones in authority had said: "Thou shalt not," there would have been abundance of coal.

The results obtained by employers' organizations were referred to. As a result of the non-unionists' organized labor, in fact, the speaker said, the laborer in the United States had been turned inside out. He then gave an account of the position of organized labor in Dayton, of the fight between capital and labor there, and expressed his belief that the employers now controlled the situation.

Means Socialism and Anarchy. Then Mr. Kirby vehemently declared that the duty of every employer of labor was to contribute his time and money towards the utter annihilation of organized labor, with its vicious practices. He thought that if the Declaration of Independence of the United States had been read, and if the ones in authority had said: "Thou shalt not," there would have been abundance of coal.

In concluding, Mr. Kirby quoted from a speech delivered in Chicago by President McConnell of the Machinists' Union. He had said that there was no reason why the employer should have as many hours for social pleasure as the employee, and if they would only fight for they would get it. He (McConnell) believed that no man would go into Heaven unless he were a unionist.

WILL LIGHT THE ST. LAWRENCE.

Mr. Prefontaine Expects Work Will Be Completed by Next Summer.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—Hon. Mr. Prefontaine made the following statement to-day: "The canal which I have made of the channel has convinced me that there is no reason why it should not be so lighted at night as to make it as navigable during the hours of darkness as it now is in the day time. I intend to ask my associates in the government to permit me to place a sufficient number of light-buoys for this purpose, and I have no doubt but that parliament will be quite ready to vote the money which is required. I expect that the work of perfecting the lighting of St. Lawrence channel will be completed before the end of the coming summer."

USELESS TO URGE ITS REMOVAL

Because Disease Has Spread in the Past, the English Farmer is Eternally Opposed.

Montreal, Nov. 18.—"It is utterly useless for Canada to try to have the embargo on Canadian cattle to England removed, for it will be impossible to succeed." Such was the statement made to-day by Lieut.-General J. Winburn Laurier, M.P., of London, England. Lieut.-General Laurier, who was second in command during the Northwest rebellion, was formerly member of parliament for Shelburne, N.S., in which county he still owns a large stock farm. Since becoming a member of the British parliament he has taken a leading interest in all matters of special interest to Canada.

OTTAWA AGAIN MENAGED.

Dr. Bryce Surprised to Find Smallpox Prevalent in Plantagenet.

Ottawa, Nov. 18.—Dr. Bryce, Provincial Health Officer, was in the city to-day on his way to Toronto from Prescott, where he was a witness at a trial. While there Dr. Bryce discovered that smallpox was very prevalent in Plantagenet Township. He was greatly surprised, not having been informed of it. He left for Toronto to-night, and will send a man to his office to look after the stamping out of the disease. Dr. Bryce is approaching, and there is no disguising the fact that Ottawa City is menaced with smallpox from various quarters, although the city is apparently free.

GRAND TRUNK'S EXTENSION.

By Recent Purchase and Arrangement, Enters Southwest States.

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 18.—The Grand Trunk Railway will pay $1,500,000 to the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line, title to which will be acquired in about two weeks. To cover the extension of its lines into the territory of the Grand Trunk, it will issue $2,000,000 in bonds, paying for the completed portion of the Shore Line the amount stated and utilizing the remaining $500,000 to extend the road north from Trenton to Detroit.

The Clover Leaf is a minority party to the transaction and joins with the Grand Trunk in the purchase of the new $2,000,000 bond issue. It is estimated that the Grand Trunk's London owners are anxious to build a great transcontinental railway that will prove a formidable rival to the Canadian Pacific and the Great Western.

One of the plans of the future is to build a line from the Pacific to the Southwest American over the Clover Leaf tracks.

THIEVES VISIT DENTAL OFFICE.

Several Hundred Dollars' Worth of Instruments Stolen.

St. Catharines, Nov. 18.—When Dr. Killmer returned from a hunting trip yesterday he found that his dental room had been broken into and several hundred dollars' worth of instruments stolen. The most valuable of his collection were missing, with about 100 portions of individual sets of teeth and one complete set. His metals for filling had been locked in the trunk of the dentist's office, and the trunk was taken apart, as it had been the intention of the thieves to carry it away. Dr. Killmer thinks the robbery was committed by some tramp dentist wishing to complete his set.

The little animal was then let loose, and caused a wild scramble, in which both "bulls" and "bears" took part.

AMONG NERVOUS OPERATORS

Extraordinary Condition Which Prevails Among the Local Stock Speculators.

ARE THE LOSSES REALLY SO HEAVY?

Some Strange Scenes Witnessed Around the Local Tickers and the Street.

These are days of anxiety for the average Toronto stock speculator. And yet adverse conditions have prevailed so long for the local crowd, as one detected representative put it, "we ought to be used to it by this time and stop worrying." Not in the history of speculation in Toronto has the calamity been more general. All efforts to estimate losses are unreliable, but it is generally conceded that they will total $10,000,000. The only ray of sunshine for the crowd is the reflection that the depression followed a period of unexampled prosperity. A year ago the market began to go up, and it kept up until past the middle of summer. As the locals are invariably buyers, without exception they made immense gains. The same weakness caused the great loss following the persistent slump in every line dealt in on this market.

"How do you account for this general disposition to buy?" enquired The World of a well-known broker.

Young Men Optimistic. "I attribute it largely to the young crowd in the market. The great majority of our customers are young men under forty. Young men are naturally optimistic. It is difficult to make them see the reverse side of things. Sentiment largely predominates in their composition. With the vast majority here it becomes contagious, and they hold on and on and on when it is perfectly clear to the 'old heads' that the bottom has dropped out of the market and everything must touch the rocks."

"Of course, if a man has an unlimited bank account which the young crowd has not, and is not too heavily loaded up, he can select a stock of approved value, say A.P.R., when it is running and hold it with the certainty that in spite of combinations and the pounding of the market the stock will eventually get back to its normal price. This is true of any dividend-paying stock, but before the stock gets back to normal proportions there may be a marginal difference of from 30 to 50 per cent. of the original cost. No man of small means can stand such a slump, and this philosophy does not apply to them."

Some Old 'Tude Caught. "Of course, the 'old heads' have been caught, too. This time, but the great majority of the losers is composed of young fellows. The average loss, as I figure it up, is about $700. That is a pretty stiff sum for a salaried man to lose. Of course, more than this during the boom in the market, but with the average speculator this is the old 'tude' which wins the money is 'velvet,' and he feels like indulging in luxuries, and when the market is down he loses it all in the vernacular of the exchange."

There is something over forty legitimate brokerage firms, members of the local exchange, in Toronto, and as many more "bucket shops," as the talent terms the non-exchange members. Some old speculators insist there is no essential difference between the two, but the legitimate broker actually buys the stock for his customer and stands ready to deliver it at all times. This does not mean, however, that the stock is merely the fluctuations that the

HEAVED COAL TO MUSIC.

How a New World's Record Was Made in Pacific Ocean.

Honolulu, Nov. 18.—The cruiser New York broke the navy record for coaling here yesterday, putting in 550 tons of coal in six hours. This remarkable speed was due to the fact that the ship was coaling at a new station, the whole time that the "jacks" were running coal aboard. It seems that the employment of the band was suggested to Capt. MacKenzie by 18 hours' leave of absence from the ship, and got away from the day and night of coaling. Instead, the captain ordered the band to play for 18 hours. It was a record, and the band was playing the coaling and reeling off martial airs. Two rival gangs of "jacks" were coaling, one getting coal from a lighter alongside, and the other from the wharf. They trundled the wheelbarrows of coaling in the morning and finished at 1 o'clock, thus breaking the world's naval coaling record.

Woman Tells Queer Tale

Three Anarchists Have Been on the Trail of the President for Some Time.

New York, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Lena Doxheimer, of Hoboken is reported to have related a story of alleged anarchist plottings against the life of President Roosevelt. According to Mrs. Doxheimer there have been in the last fourteen months three persons assigned to the task of "removing" the President. One of these a Frenchman named Melov, she persuaded to return to Paris, where he was killed by a street car. She professes to believe that he put himself in the way of death in order to spare his relatives the humiliation of regarding him as a suicide. Next, according to Mrs. Doxheimer, the second man was assigned to a man named Mueller, living in this city, who a few days later died of polio. The third man, one of the three designated for the murderous work, Mrs. Doxheimer alleges, was Mrs. Schuyler of Hamilton, who was ended her life by means of poison. Mrs. Doxheimer asserts that among the persons who were several millionaires. Her conception of what constitutes a millionaire is indicated by her statement that these men "owned houses" and "lived in palaces."
