PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

ABORN OPERA COMPANY.

Many popular-priced grand opera organizations have come and gone, the existence of some beginning and terminating within a single week, and others operating for longer periods, during the sixteen successive seasons of the Aborn Grand Opera Company, which comes to the Royal Alexandra Theatre next Monday for a visit of two weeks.

"BEN HUR" AT GRAND.

Klaw & Erlanger's original production of "Ben Hur," with cast, scenery, equipment, horses and camels, begins a week's engagement at the Gand Opera House, beginning this coming Monday. The chariot race is probably the most vividly thrilling "moving picture" that the stage has ever known.

"Mammy Jenny's Jubilee," a merry miniature musical comedy, with a sextet of clever girls, headlines the bill at the Hippodrome next week. Wilfrid Lucas will be seen in "The Love Sublime," féature photo-play. Mr. and Mrs. Allison have an amusing playlet, entitled "Minnie From Minnesota," and several other acts complete a bright bill.

LOEW'S. The headliner at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre next week will be a one-act dramatic episode, "The Man in the Dark," with Robert T. Haines and company. The second big attraction is the popular musical comedy star, Billie Seaton, while Roatino and Shelby present "Rose, the Fruit Vendor." Warren and Templeton, Cornelia and Adele, Lazier Worth Trio, and Ferguson and Burns will also be included. Virginia Pearson, in "Bitter Truth," will be the film feature for the week.

GAYETY.

If advance announcements are realized, patrons of burlesque have a genuine treat in store for them when the "Maids of America" bring their production of the "Girl From Nowhere" "to the Geyety Thestre, commencing with the Monday matinee. It is said that in the entirely new show that has been arranged many decided novelties have been provided.

Mi sic-lovers will find the musical score of the "Pacemakers" very enjoyable, for it contains some of the latest hits, together with many original compositions, that are tuneful and full of syncopated rhythm. These are all good numbers, which are rendered with snap and vim. "The Pacemakers" comes to the Star Theatre next week.

THE REGENT.

"Blind Justice." being shown at the Regent this week, is one of the best pieces of melodrama seen on the sorren. Patrons are advised to see the beginning of the feature, so they will not miss any vital part of the story. "Blind Justice" will be shown at 12.45, 2.50, 5.10, 7.10 and 9.15 p.m.

"INTRIGUE" AT THE STRAND.

Vivid and realistic in the extreme is the Vittagraph blue ribbon production "Intrigue," a drama of court life in the Balkans, which will form the feature photo play at the Strand Theatre today, to-morrow and Saturday. Peggy Hyland, so notable for her magnetic charm, is splendidly supported by the rest of the cast, which includes Marc MacDermott and Bobby Connelly.

MUSICAL COMEDY AT MASSEY HALL.

Brilliant Opening Assured for Perform-ance Under Auspices of 9th M. H.

Amusing parodies of recent events form the theme of "The Passing Show of Toronto," whose swirging choruses and hilting love songs make it a happy successor to last season's most popular musical comedy, "The Belles of Boo Loo." Massey Hall will be quite transformed for the premier performance on Friday evening, March 23rd, for which a brilliant audience is already assured. The stage has been built out to twice its usual size to accommodate the large cast which includes over fifty of the best singers and dancers of Toronto's younger set.

set.

The three performances are under the auspices of the 9th Mississauga Horse and the distinguished patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor Sir John Hendrie and Lady Hendrie, the Premier of Ontario and Lady Hearst, Mr. Justice and Mrs. Riddell, Mrs. A. J. Arthurs and His Worship Mayor Church.

MEET IN VICTORIA.

The annual meeting of the Daughters of the Empire will be held in Victoria, B.C., on May 29, 30 and 31. A large delegation is expected. Mrs. A. E. Gooderham of Toronto is the national president.

THE TROUSER AND MANLY

What a multitude of infirmities does the trouser-leg cover. In the spacious imes og Elizabeth, men revealed their calves to the public eye because they had calves to reveal, things of sinew and muscular curve. For almost two centuries thereafter man walked up-right on two unashamed legs. Then gradually the period of decadence set in and fashion was quick to hide the nether limb and its waning physical beauty from the critical eye of mall and boulevard. In a spirit of charity application. the tailor dropped the trouser over the ungraceful shank. Limbs that have all the beauty of number 11 now stalk

Many is the man of today boidly promenading with daintily creased trousers the crowded thorofare, who, if fashion demanded that he wear hose and doublet, would slink up alleys or stuff his limbs like an anemic chorus girl.—Cincinnati
