Doctor Who Removed His Own Appendix Now Doing Nicely.

Kane, Pa., Feb. 18.—(Special).—Dr. Ewan O'Neill Kane, the 60-year-old surgeon of this place, who late yesterday removed his own appendix in one of the most remarkable surgical operations on record, spent a comparatively easy night and sent word from his bedside today that he is further on the road to recovery than is usual the day following an operation for the removal of the appendix.

"Just say that I am getting along all right," said the doctor thru his nurse. "Maybe, a little later, I will have a statement that will be of interest."

It was stated that Dr. Kane, since the operation, has directed a number of letters and given directions regarding the conduct of his personal affairs and practice.

Dr. Kane felt so well this afternoon that he was removed to the hospital, where he performed the operation, to his residence. He withstood the trip very well, he said, and experienced no shock whatever.

It is recalled here that four years ago a child was accidentally shot and the bullet lodged in his brain, with the result that it was paralyzed and blind. Dr. Kane watched the child a few days and then performed an operation which restored the little one to its normal health and strength.

RED ARMY MENACES GEORGIAN CAPITAL

Russo-Armenian Soviet Causes Flight of Government from Tiflis.

Constantinople, Feb. 18.—Tiflis, capital of the republic of Georgia, is threatened by a Russo-Armenian Soviet army. The Georgian government has fled.

The republic of Georgia is practically surrounded by Bolshevik forces and advances from Tiflis late in December would have been expected that it would be absorbed at any moment by the Soviet hurricane.

An official statement issued by the Georgian government several weeks ago said that the withdrawal of the Russian Bolshevik forces from the Georgian frontier had been completed.

Demoralized and war-torn Bolsheviks had deserted to the Georgian forces and been disarmed.

Demand was made by the Armenian government in a note sent last December to the Georgian government that a plebiscite be held in the province of Akhalkalaki, the population of which was claimed to be 70 per cent. Armenian.

EXTENSIVE RAID IN DUBLIN BEGUN

Two Square Miles Isolated for House-to-House Search.

Dublin, Feb. 18.—The most extensive series of raids yet carried out in the city of Dublin began early this morning. One thousand troops participated, being equipped with motor lorries, machine guns and armored cars.

Districts around the city square and the approaches to that section of the city were barricaded and machine gun posts were established. A close search for arms was instituted, and the extent of the preparations made for the raid indicated there was no expectation on the part of the authorities of finding anything.

The military isolated about two square miles of the city for an exhaustive house-to-house search. Popular rumor attributes the operation to a search for Frank Teeling, who escaped recently from the Kilmalham jail, but it probably was only a repetition of a similar raid which lasted 36 hours some weeks ago, during which the Church street district was investigated in a search for arms and ammunition. Other districts it is thought probable, will have the same experience later.

Permit offices were set up by the military in the investigated area and permits were issued to persons living in the district to proceed to and from their work. Permits were also given for bread vans and milk carts to enter with supplies.

A large body of Sinn Féin attacked a party of shipyard workers in the dock district of Belfast last night. Serious fighting ensued, with the result that there were no casualties, although serious fighting ensued. Police and military forces were called in to disperse the combatants.

Speaking slowly he told reporters that he had been ill for a month.

One of the chief features of the sickness, he said, was a double vision. "I can see two of you in front of me," he explained.

New Plan for British Columbia—Government to Share Revenue.

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 18.—(Can. Press).—Further light was shed upon the coming liquor control bill in the legislature here this afternoon when Premier Oliver discussed in committee some of the salient features of the government control, and gave his views with regard to the best method of handling certain features of the question. The premier said that the municipalities would have to enforce the laws; that in his opinion fifty per cent. of the revenue to the act, and a commission of one or three, subject to removal for cause, would be appointed with full powers and control of the operations in the liquor department.

A uniform price for liquor sold by the government will prevail all over the province, but he did not state how many government stores there would be, however, for any one locality, but the price of government liquor would be the same to all, with express charges paid by the commissioner.

Special regulations will be made governing the use of liquor by doctors, dentists, veterinarians and manufacturers.

Threw Two Nephews Out of Window and Jumped Out Herself.

New York, Feb. 18.—Physicians at the Fordham Hospital tonight expressed belief that Celia Pargman, 30 years old, a Russian girl charged with throwing her two nephews out of a second-story window and then jumping out herself, was suffering from a form of insanity brought on by her experiences in escaping from the Bolsheviks.

Abel Pargman, one nephew, aged two and a half years, died this afternoon of a fracture of the skull, while the other, Harry, aged seven, was taken to a hospital in a critical condition. The girl herself has a fractured skull. She was arrested on a charge of felonious assault after having been taken to the hospital.

The doctors said they had been informed that the girl, who arrived here from Russia, had been treated by the Bolsheviks, and that she had been living with her brother and his family, suffering cruelly in fleeing from their native country.

Her treatment, they said, was of a form of insanity, caused by brooding developed during the war.

MUST GROW TREES OR USE NO WOOD

United States Threatened With Timber Famine — Needs Reforestation.

Boston, Feb. 18.—(Special).—With three-fourths of the primeval forest in this country gone, the United States is threatened with a timber famine, it is urged by the National Forestry Service, which has issued a report today.

He said less than five per cent. of the virgin forests of New England remain.

"Either we must quit using wood as a social and industrial development, or we must find a way to grow wood upon millions of acres of idle land. What we need is a reforestation program, the most universal structural material, a source of food and fuel, and a source of employment for the unemployed."

These are not theoretical questions, and their answer rests upon reforestation, which contains important natural resources.

Land which contains important natural resources, which can be viewed as the property of the nation, with obligations to the general well-being, but which is not being used for public utilities, are asserted.

BRITAIN'S RELATION TO THE DOMINIONS

Interesting Aspects of Question from Australia and New Zealand.

London, Feb. 18.—Interesting aspects of the question of the relation of the mother country to the Dominions are brought out by cables from Australia and New Zealand appearing in the London press today. Premier Massey of New Zealand, according to a Wellington cable to the Times, repudiates the suggestion recently made in some quarters that each nation within the empire is free to do as it likes. Mr. Massey also denies that the connection of the Dominions with the mother country have been in any way weakened.

The existence of the empire depends upon a united navy, Mr. Massey adds, and it will be necessary in time for the Dominions to assume a share of the burden of the upkeep of the imperial navy. The premier, however, does not wish to increase the expenditures of New Zealand at the present time.

An Australian cable quotes The Melbourne Age as saying that the belief which appears to prevail in various political and official quarters in England that Australia is anxious to have a more influential voice in imperial affairs is due to a mistaken impression of Australia's attitude.

The Melbourne Age objects to the apparent contention of Premier Lloyd George that the burden of the empire should be pooled among the states of the empire. The Australian Age, however, would not surrender any control of its own finances, and while ready and even eager to consult the imperial authorities on questions of defence it claimed the fullest freedom to decide what expenditure it might make on this score.

Several other records were played before the concert program was finished. The program was a head set. It was as if the phonograph were in the room. When the last number of the concert, which Professor Goldsmith had arranged as a demonstration of the receiving instrument perfected at the college, was approaching its end, he moved two of the needles on the dial slightly, throwing out the localizer and the amplifier, which are important parts of the contrivance.

In a jiffy the clear-cut strains of music merged into a jumbled murmur, which was a conglomeration of all the wireless gossip to be caught in the air adjacent to New York. The faint buzz of wireless instruments could be distinguished at times, but not with sufficient clearness to recognize any particular station.

Heard German Wireless.—Professor Goldsmith adjusted the length and amplifier to the wave length of the great wireless station at Nauen, Germany, and its crackling notes burst into the room immediately, untroubled by all the hum of the city which it had passed. All that was eliminated by the localizer.

"Now," said Professor Goldsmith, moving the localizer needle another fraction of an inch, "we will listen to St. John, New Brunswick."

As he finished speaking, the sharp crackling of a voice of slightly different timber, took up where the operator at St. John, N.B., had left off, and a message from Lyons, France.
