Yes, they're ever bending o'er her, Eyes that weep; Forms that to the cold grave bore her, Vigils keep

When the summer sun is shining Soft and fair, Friends she loved in tears are twining Chaplets there.

Rest in peace thou gentle spirit,
Throned above;
Souls like thine with God inherit
Life and love!

Love Defined by A Cockney Groom.

"Love I'' observed venerable Joe, surcastically, "Love's a himposition. There's been more people imposed upon by that air vord than by all the professional swindlers in natur'. It's a gross, a universal himposition; and its on'y werry wonderful to me that it nin't long ago been hexpunged. A gal says she loves yer. Werry well; but are you consequentially obligated to make a fool o' verself? No: you've only got her bipsy-dixy, and what's the good o' that. Marry her; and you'll werry soon see ''ow sweet's the love as meets return.' But arout that look 'ear on'y jist for hinstance: a gal loves a soger—vich they all do; it's regular: he's a private; still she loves 'im—oh! hout an' hout! Werry well; don't yer think she'd give 'im up for a hofficer? In course she vood! And why? Why, cos it 'ud be a better chance. Has for love, it's the vickedeest, the swindlinest himposition as is. The chances is vot gals looks out for. The o'ny question with them is, 'I sit a good chance?' If it is, they'll have it; if it ain't, they von't—onless they can't get nothin' better. It's the deadest take-in is that love ever heered on; a deader never vos himwented. You take my adwice, and don't be foozled. Venever you 'ear the vord love always view it as a gross himposition. Hif yer don't you'll be done, and only find out the difference ven it's too late."—[Stanley Thorn, a novel.]

Love and Law.—A young lawyer, who had long paid his court to a lady without much advancing in his suit, accused her one day of "being insensible to the power of love." "It does not follow," she archiy replied, " that I am so because I am not to be won by the power of attorney." "Forgive me," replied the suitor, "but you should remember that all the votaries of Cupid are solicitors."

TRAIN UP A CHILD.—One of our exchanges has the following capital hit:—Yesterday morning an unbreeched urchin, not quite three years old, said to his sister, while munching a piece of gingerbread, "Sissy, take dis half ub cake, to keep till arternoon, when I get cross!" This is rather better than the story of the child who bellowed from the top of the stairs, "Ma! ma'! Hannah wont pacify me."

Man's Ingratitude.—Lord Gondomar and his daughter, Lady Beatrix, are walking in their grounds, when a snake is perceived on the path:—"Ob.! stop! there is a reptile—how like a scrpent—in your path,' cried Lady Beatrix in alarm.—"'Animals of all descriptions are harmless, unless you encroach upon them,' remarked the Peer, stepping over the snake. 'It is men, and such as live among, who, with the serpent's cunning, hatred, and malignity, sting and bite, repaying kindness with ingratitude."—From a novel by Lady Stepney.

Patent Medicines, &c. OLDRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA FOR THE HAIR.—Its positive qualities are

FOR THE HAIR.—Its positive quantites are as follows:

1st. For infants' keeping the head free from scurry and causing a luxuriant growth of hair.

2d. For ladies after child-birth, restoring the skin to its natural strength and firmness, and preventing the falling out of the hair.

3d. For any person recovering from any debility, the same effect is produced.

4th. If used in infancy till a good growth is started it may be preserved by attention to the latest period of life.

ing grey.

6th. It causes the hair to curl beautifully whe lone up in it over night.

85 No ladies' toilet should ever be without it.

7th. Children who have by any means contracted retain in the head, are immediately and perfectly ured of them by its use. It is infallible.

Vaughan and Peterson's Red Lini-

Superior Concentrated Extract of Celebrated Worm Tea and Salve. Celebrated Worm 1 ea and Sarve.

The proprietor in recommending this long tried and celebrated medicine to the public, is supported by the infallible test of experience which it has stood for a great number of years with unexampled success, as well as by the testimony of most respectable citizens, who have used it in their families.

The action of the medicine is not only to expelworms, but by its Tonic powers to prevent a return of them, by removing the weak state of the digestive organs, on which their production mainly depends.

INDIAN'S PANACEA. DEPILATORY POWDER,

For removing all superfluous hair. TO PHYSICIANS AND PA-

TO PHYSICIANS AND PATIENTS.

The Bind Piles, said to be incurable by external applications. Solomon Hays warrants the contrary. His Liniment will cure Blind Piles. Facts are more stubborn than theories. He solicits all respectable phycicians to try it on their patients. It will do them no harm, and it is known that every physician who has had the honesty to make the trial, has candidly admitted that it has succeeded in every case they have known. Then why not use it? It is the reject of no of their most respectable members, now deceased. Why refuse to try it? Because it is sold as a proprietary medicine? Is this a sufficient excuse for suffering their honest patients to linger in distress? We think not. Physicians shall be convinced that there is no humbug or quackery about this atticle. Why then not alleviate human suffering? If they wont try it before, let them ofter all other prescriptions fail. Physicians are respectfully requested to do themselves and patients the justice to use this article. It shall be taken from the bottles, and done up as their prescription, if they desire.

BALDNESS.

BALDNESS.

A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR

Is the grandest ornament belonging to the human frame. How strangely the loss of it changes the countenance, and premuturely brings on the appearance of old age, which causes many to recoil at being uncovered, and sometimes even shun society to avoid the jests and sneers of their acquaintance; the remainder of their lives is consequently spent in retirement. In short, not even the loss of property fills the gouerous thinking youth with that heavy sinking gloom as does the loss of his hair. To avert all these unpleasant circumstances, OLDRIDGE BALM OF COLUMBIA stops the hair from falling off on the first application, and a few bottles restores it again. It likewise produces eyebrows and whiskers; prevents the hair from turning grey, makes it curl beautifully, and frees it from scurf. Numerous certificates of the first respectability in support of the virtues of Oldridge's Balm sre shown by the proprietors.

THE HUMAN HAIR.

Where the hair is observed to be growing thin, nothing can be more preposterous than the use of oils, grease, or any other fatty matter. Their application can only be recommended through the grossest ignorance, as they hasten the fall of the hair, by increasing the relaxation of the skin. When there is a harsh, dry, or contracted skin, and where the small blood ressels which carry nourishment to the bulb are obstructed, then the oil, &c., may be good, as they tend to relax the skin; but alone they are of no avail. There must be a stimulous to rouse the vessels from their torpor, and quicken the current of the blood.—Extract from Clirchugh's Treatise on the Hair.

The Balm of Columbia is the only preparation that can have that effect, being entirely free from any oily substance.

A CASE IN POINT.

I had unfortunately lost nearly all the hair from the top of head, when I commenced the use of the Balm of Columbia, bave, by the use of two bottles, had my head covered with ine growth of hair. There can be no mistake in the matter, any of only friends can see by calling on me.
