MANY ATTEND AT DEDICATION OF MEMORIAL HALL

Prominent Clergymen Join in
St. David's

It was a glad day in the history of St. David's church yesterday when the magnificent Sunday school assembly hall, a memorial to the members of the congregation who fell in the Great War, was solemnly dedicated and the project for the rebuilding of the church that had been destroyed by fire on Dec. 13, 1917, had reached completion.

The dedication took place in the afternoon when close to 1,000 people filled the spacious hall that was hung with flags and decorated with evergreens. The Sunday school pupils were largely represented. Rev. Hugh Miller, pastor of the church, presided and led in the ceremony of the solemn dedication.

Very Rev. Dr. James Harvey, of Edinburgh, ex-Moderator of the United Free Kirk of Scotland and principal clerk of its General Assembly, Rev. Dr. R. C. Armstrong, United church missionary from Japan, and Rev. H. A. Goodwin, chairman of the Saint John Presbytery, and Robert Reid, superintendent of the Sunday school, were the chief speakers, and others assisting in the devotional service were Rev. C. Gordon, and Rev. Dr. S. S. Poole, pastor of certain street Baptist church. The full choir of the church led in the singing and rendered the anthem "O God Our Help in Ages Past" very beautifully. Bayard Currie was accompanist and choir director.

SPECIAL GIFTS.

Among the special gifts for the new building which were acknowledged most gratefully by Mr. Miller, was a splendid Italian grand piano which was procured by W. M. Smith and with its seat was placed in the hall as a tree of charge. A group of men of the church has undertaken to repay Mr. Smith. A table piano, given by Robert Ewing, and a beautiful piece of furniture for the ladies' parlor received from T. H. Sommerville, were also gratefully acknowledged. The ushering at the service was done by the members of the Presbytery.

With the speakers there were seated on the platform L. Col. H. C. Spurling and Capt. H. A. Campbell representing military headquarters, and R. E. Armstrong, president of the New Brunswick Division of the Navy League.

Mr. Miller spoke of the hall as dedicated to the members of the congregation who fell and to all who served in the Great War, and dedicated also for the training of the young.

Dr. Harvey said that it was the first time that he had had the great joy and glory of addressing a company of the boys and girls of this country, although he had given many addresses in Eastern Canada. As a Scot from across the sea, he hailed "Young Canada." He paid a glowing tribute to the heroic service of Canadians in the Great War. The text of his brief address to the scholars was found in the words of the 12-year-old boy Jesus, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business." He spoke of God as nearer to his children than earthly relations and pointed out the children's obligations to do what God asked of them.

DR. ARMSTRONG.

Dr. Armstrong pointed out that it was only since the United Church was established that St. David's congregation had had an interest in missions in Japan and with that great church now carrying on missionary work in Korea, China and Japan, he believed there were better days ahead for the cause of Christianity in the Orient.

He spoke of having had as a traveling companion on his first trip to Japan, Miss J. Robb, who is St. David's church missionary in Korea. He urged the boys and girls to resist evil and to remember that the real boy in every country was an honorable boy.

Rev. H. A. Goodwin recalled the splendid work of the members of St. David's congregation for all of the soldiers passing through the port of Saint John in war time and declared that the hall should be also a memorial to that devoted service. He expressed warm appreciation of the fact that the memorial erected was one dedicated to service and that the church was prepared to care for the social and all other activities of its people.

MR. MILLER HEARD.

Mr. Miller congratulated all who had worked for the hall on the accomplishment of their purpose and regretted that the late John Rogerson, who had witnessed the dedication of the first St. David's church, had not survived to rejoice with the other members of the congregation in the dedication of the Memorial Hall.

Robert Reid expressed the thanks of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school for the fine equipment that had been provided and announced that the scholars' sale of bricks had realized $998.50.

MEXICO SENDS TROOPS TO CRUSH REVOLTING YAQUIS

Photos show a typical group of the Yaqui Indians, and General Joaquin Amaro, Secretary of War and Marine, who will take active charge of the Federal troops in their maneuvers against the rebels. Map shows Guaymas, where Federal troops will make their headquarters, within sight of the Yaqui's stronghold, and Nogales, near the American border, toward which small groups of the Indians are reported moving in search of food, arms and ammunition.

during the week, came forward and dropped their birthday pennies in the collecting box and after candles of the birthday cake had been lighted the primary school sang in unison "Jesus Hild Us Shine."

LARGE CONGREGATIONS.

Large congregations attended both morning and evening services in the church. In the morning 400 people partook of communion. Rev. Hugh Miller in the morning preached from the text Leviticus 26: 24, "For their sake I will remember the covenant." In the evening his text was, "What mean ye by these stones. These stones shall be for memorials." He spoke of the memorial as an expression of gratitude and as a reminder of a covenant. Dedication of life and service in war days had been a covenant, he asserted, and the home folks had promised to complete in times of peace what the men fought for, to end war.

He pointed out the church's responsibility in this regard. St. David's church memorial of the fallen was for the training of the youth he said, and there was with the congregation the responsibility to fulfill their covenant with the dead, to lead the young people by precept and example. He closed with a quotation from "Plunderer's Fields," appealing to the congregation to dedicate both the memorial and their own lives to the task.

Representatives of the military district had special seats at the evening service.

PORT ELGIN WOMAN FATALLY BURNED

Mrs. B. F. Wells Uses Kerosene
Cleaning House; Oil Explodes
on Stove

SACKVILLE, Oct. 17.—Mrs. B. F. Wells, of Port Elgin, died in the Ambler Hospital early this morning from burns received at her home on Friday morning when a can of kerosene, with which she was cleaning off her stove, exploded. The unfortunate woman was enveloped in a mass of flames, all her clothing being burned off. She was alone at the time but managed to extinguish the flames and don't know her kitchen she walked some distance to the home of a neighbor. She was immediately rushed to the Ambler Hospital but succumbed from shock several hours after being admitted.

Mrs. Wells, who is survived by her husband, was 57 years of age.

The funeral will be held on Monday afternoon at Port Elgin upon the arrival of the Cape train.

Charleston Banned, Too Many Sore Shins

LEYTON, England, Oct. 18.—The Prince of Wales may set the pace in England for styles in wearing apparel, but not always in the matter of dancing.

When it was announced that their apparent had mastered the Charleston and that it had become his pet ballroom step, nabites of the waxed floors in Leyton took the dance. Then the Leyton Urban District Council literally put its foot down on the gyrations and branded the dance as the most dangerous caper ever conceived.

Councillor Curtis told his fellow Councillors that he had been present at a Town Hall dance and that, out of a large crowd, "two or three" had been kicked and related woes of sore shins. Mr. Curtis moved that the Council ban the Charleston from public halls under the Council's control and, being backed by Chairman Waller, it was so ordered.

BOY SLIGHTLY INJURED.

On Saturday evening an automobile driven by Miss Springer, struck a small boy named Arthur Stanton on Douglas Avenue, knocking him down. It was reported that the boy was only slightly injured.

CHURCH PARADE OF ORANGEMEN, 'PRENTICE BOYS

Parade Held in Fairville,
With Service at United Church

Under the auspices of Willis Lodge, No. 70, of the Orange Order of which William Golding is Worshipful Master, the Orange Lodges of Saint John, West Saint John, East Saint John, Fairville and Lorneville and the Prentice Boys of the district and members of the L. O. B. A. attended divine service in Fairville United church yesterday afternoon.

The L. O. B. A. members and the Prentice Boys met in Orange Hall, Fairville, and paraded to Tilton's Corner and back to the church led by the Carleton Cornet band and the members on parade wore full regalia. As they entered the church the Black Knights formed a guard of honor.

The church was filled to capacity, members standing throughout the service. The L. O. B. A. members wore regalia and occupied the front pews. They were accompanied by their honorary members, among whom was Mrs. Charles Sweet, the aged Past Provincial Mistress. Seated on the platform were Rev. H. S. Stuard, Richard Magee, past grand treasurer, British North America Lodge, David Hipwell, Past Provincial Grand Master. A collection of $13 was taken and will be given to the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage.

Mr. Strothard after extending a very cordial welcome to the organizations gave an inspiring address from Act 5: 29, "Then Peter and the Apostles answered and said, 'We ought to obey God rather than man.'" His subject was "The Positive Faith of Protestantism." He made historical references and stated that the Orange Order stood for the Bible which was the authoritative record of the revelation of the Atonement of Jesus Christ. It also stood for the ultimate authority in all life which was the individual conscience.

Appropriate hymns were sung. Purdy Cougle sang very effectively "Open the Gates of the Temple," and the choir sang with fine sympathy the anthem "O Come let us Worship." Miss Audrey McColgan, organist was the accompanist.

After the service the procession marched down Church Avenue and up McKel street where Mrs. Martha Totten, an aged friend, was serenaded. The parade then returned to the hall on Church Avenue where addresses were given by Richard Magee, David Hipwell, William Golding, the Robert Catherswood, Harry Selten, William Sillis and Stanley Howe.

Tongue-Twister Fad Has Hit England

LONDON, October 18.—Now that the crossword puzzle, which swept across England from America, leaving a trail of thumbed dictionaries in its wake, has spent its force, England has turned to Peter-Piperisms for solace. Peter-Piperisms are alliterative sentences containing at least eight, and not more than twelve words, each word of which begins with the same letter.

Since short skirts still seem stylish, silk stockings shouldn't sag," is the contribution of one alliterative expert. Another hopes "May many more manly miners migrate, marry methodical maids, make much money."

Other tongue-twisters are: "Mr. Manger, money might make Mand marry my miserable Max—Max's Mother," "Stephen, slyly stroking Sylvia's shining shingle, seemingly susses smilling Sylvia's single," and "Lilly likes licking licking liquorice."

Separation Costly For Adolphe Menjou

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—Adolphe Menjou, debonair lover of the screen, paid nearly $200,000 for freedom from his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Menjou, was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce.

Although the actor was the first to file action, Mrs. Menjou won her decree on an amended cross-complaint alleging cruelty and desertion.

Under terms of a property settlement Mrs. Menjou was awarded the Menjou mansion, cash and other assets totalling nearly $200,000.

Pending trial, Mrs. Menjou received $500 a week alimony and contended that her husband received 10 times that amount for his screen work.

The new agreement provides that Menjou pay $87,000 in weekly payments of $650.

TRAFFIC OFFICER STRUCK.

While making a turn on the corner of Sydney and Union streets at 5:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon automobile No. 5342, driven by W. J. Davis, struck Police Constable Leonard on the leg. The officer was doing traffic duty at the time. The injury was not serious.

Rosy Cheeks for Every Child!

The food your children get today is building the foundation for their future success. Their physical development depends on the choice of proper growth foods. They must have simple, wholesome meals that supply an abundance of protein, the important tissue-building element.

School authorities and physicians stress the value of hot, nourishing breakfasts. Hot oats and milk are recommended as basic food for the morning meal.

Quaker Oats and milk—a cup of each will furnish the child with 23% of his daily requirements of protein. They also supply carbohydrates, mineral salts and vitamins in balanced proportion.

If you would have rosy-cheeked boys and girls, who will become successful men and women, see that they have Quaker Oats and milk every morning.

BACHE PREDICTS ERA OF HARD TIMES

N. Y. Banker Says End of Prosperity in U. S. Is Near

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Julius S. Bache, financier, predicted an era of hard times in the United States at the annual meeting of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation. The country had had its normal share of prosperity, he said, and could not stand more than a reasonable amount of it.

Good times generally lasted from eighteen months to two years, said Mr. Bache. For the present, he explained, this normal period had come to an end and hard times were due. Reaction from prosperity in the past, he declared, had always been caused by speculation.

Mr. Bache had made an exhaustive survey of business conditions in the United States and found no signs of overproduction, except in the cotton crop, and no signs of overpurchasing. "Hand-to-mouth buying," he asserted, "is the best thing that ever happened to the United States."

There was a "reasonable amount" of business in sight through the country, he added, and conservative business men should make a fair profit.
