GOVERNMENT OF CHINA IS SAID TO BE OVERTHROWN

Rumored Chang Tsoo-Lin Has Proclaimed Monarchy

Strong Military Leader Who Was Accused of Being Tool of Japanese—General Lishun Follows Coup with Suicide.

Shanghai, Oct. 12.—General Chang Tsoo-Lin, governor of Feng-Tien, has overthrown the Peking government and proclaimed a monarchy, according to rumor current here. It has not been authenticated but Chinese officials are profoundly stirred by it.

Gen. Chang Tsoo-Lin was probably the strongest military leader during the recent Chull-Anfum conflict. He was accused of being a tool of the Japanese. It is the supposition here that the effort to restore to the throne former Emperor Hsuan-Tung, son of the Prince Chun.

General Lishun, commander of Chinese government troops in the provinces of Kiangsu and Kiangsi and leader of a powerful political clique, committed suicide at Nanking yesterday by shooting. The text of his will declared his action was due to developments at Peking and the failure of measures he had advocated for the "salvation of the nation."

Half of the general's fortune of many millions of yen were left to carry on the work of famine relief and education. His death, it is believed, will have far-reaching political results.

Peking, Oct. 12.—China is opposed to international control of Russian concessions and interests in China, as suggested by the diplomat, on the ground that this would be illegal and unprecedented and involve a breach in treaty stipulations.

Foreign office officials declared today that the transfer of Russian provinces to a third power or a group of powers could be accomplished with ease, unobtainable and calculated to entail international complications.

Dr. W. Yen, minister of foreign affairs, is authority for the statement that China does not contemplate the abrogation of the Russian treaties on the right derived from them. He said definitely that the government's assumption of the custody of Russian state property and concessions was temporary and that they would be held in trust until a recognized Russian government existed.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Lumberton to the Times reporter, "I was hungry for an apple today and went into a store to buy one."

When the feller told me the price was six cents, I nearly had a fit. Why, we got apples layin' under the trees out here for so much less than that."

"I told a feller 'em there ain't nothin' healthier than a good apple for growin' youngsters. When you get 'em in your own orchard, you can fix 'em so they'll be good for you."

"I wonder when we'll see the Lord pervides. When the Lord pervides, then the Lord pervides."

"Then apples could be got for almost nothin' an' sold so cheap any body could afford to buy 'em. Lots of 'em there ain't nothin' healthier than a good apple for growin' youngsters."

"I wonder when we'll see the Lord pervides. When the Lord pervides, then the Lord pervides."

Masked Robbers Successfully Operate in Winckler

Cut Phone and Telegraph Wires and Then Get Into Bank—Man Who Tried to Give Alarm Is Shot.

Winnipeg, Oct. 12.—(Canadian Press)—Five masked men after blowing the safe of the Union Bank at Winckler, Man., at three o'clock this morning, escaped with $19,000. W. Greifer, a blacksmith, who heard the noise in the bank and attempted to ring the town bell, was shot in the leg by one of the gang, who was outside on lookout. The five escaped passes from Winckler and Morden.

Claude Williams, teller of the bank, the only one in the building at the time, was awakened by four men who forced to open the vault, then tied him up, put him in his bed, and carried him, head and all, out of the building and left him at the door. They then blew open the safe and took all the cash. Telephone, telegraph, an electric light wires in Winckler had all been cut before the robbery was begun.

The men were masked and used only flashlights, so Williams was not able to give any description of them. When they were leading him to the station one of them said: "Our government would not give us any bonus after we had fought for you, so we're going to get ours from the Canadian government."
