Berlin, Sept. 21.-While the paper have devoted much space this week to reports of the festivities in Franc on the occasion of the Czar's visit to that country, the discussions on the subject were few and showed Germany to be little concerned thereby. Confidence in the Czar's peaceful intentions is so strong here that the French wooing ex-

The newspapers however take delight in pointing out that the Czar used the most measured language in replying to vinists, to the effect that the Franco-Russian alliance is devoid of any practical advantage for France and means her final renunciation of the lost provinces. The Czar's words "unreasonable principles" are here understood to be a gentle hint to France not to misinterpret the alliance in the direction of the recovery of Alsace and Lorraine. Hence the German press concludes the Czar's visit does not change the status quo and that France must be contented with the bloodless victories gained over Germany in ing the Czar's favor.

The tariff discussion grows warmer. The expressions of the champer of commerce against the bill are becoming more frequent and sharper.
