SHAVES HUSBAND TO BUY CHURCH CARPET

Neighbors Divided as to Who Shaved the "Self-Denial."

TRENTON, April 9.—When the new carpet is laid in Grace Baptist Church, about four yards of it will be consecrated to the fortitude of Henry Lonsdale. Every thread represents a whisker which Lonsdale submitted to a razor wielded by his wife.

Mrs. Lonsdale is a member of the Ladies' Aid Society, which planned to buy the church carpet on the self-denial plan. There is some difference of opinion on this point, the men asserting that Lonsdale shaved himself a martyr, while the women are congratulating his wife.

While other women baked bread and sewed, Mrs. Lonsdale decided she would shave her husband, and charge him 15 cents for the operation. It is not on record how Lonsdale first received the proposition, but the fact that he consented to act the victim is proof that his wife has the true religious spirit.

For four months did Lonsdale go through the shaving progress. He once believed that a shave once a day was a necessity, but under the skillful manipulation of his wife he discovered that he could get along on three shaves a week.

Only once did Mrs. Lonsdale ask: "Does the razor hurt?" He did not swear; he did not groan, but the look of anguish was enough.

TOO MANY BIRTHS, SO INSURANCE CO. QUILTS

Concern Was Chartered to Combat Race
Suicide in Boston.

BOSTON, April 9.—The American Birth Insurance Company, chartered by prominent men and women, with an idea to help in the fight against race suicide, is now in the hands of a receiver, and the president has asked the Supreme Court what he shall do with $7,000 in his custody.

The company was to pay to policy holders from $150 to $200 upon the birth of a child, and there were some births in policy holders' families before the receivership. It was chartered about two years ago.

Its originators thought the dread of poverty-pinned parents, lest additions to their families would force them to extremities, would be relieved if they could by the payment of small premiums obtain upon the birth of each child enough money to pay doctors and nurses and leave a little margin for the bank.

Too large a birth rate was the reason for this action. It exceeded the numbers upon which the experts had figured. It was decided to cease business while the company was solvent.

INSANE THROUGH GRIEF, FLINGS CHILD IN FIRE

Little Girl's Clothing Ignited While Playing
With Other Children.

GALETON, Pa., April 9.—The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farcon, an Italian family living on the South Side, was the victim of a burning accident which resulted in her death. With several other children, she was playing about a bonfire in the street, and was pushed by them toward the blazing heap.

Coming in too close contact, her clothing caught fire. The screams of the little girl were heard by several men who were working near who ran to her and tore the blazing clothing from her body.

The child's mother appeared on the scene and apparently rendered insane through the excitement picked the child up and threw her back into the fire. It is said. The little girl was so seriously burned that she died in agony a few hours later.

GRINDING SLOWLY.
"The ancient Greek and Roman deities were said to wage terrific battles among themselves."
"Yes, I've often read of the mills of the gods."
