King Completely Vindicated And Traducer Sent to Prison

KING GEORGE V., WHOSE ONLY WIFE IS QUEEN MARY.

Evidence in Court Completely Refutes Story of King's Morganic Marriage in Malta.

London, Feb. 1.—After brief proceedings today, a special jury before Lord Chief Justice Alverstone cleared King George of imputations against his personal character by finding Edward F. Mylius guilty of circulating a libel. Mylius was sentenced to one year's imprisonment.

Mylius was charged with distributing in England copies of the Liberator, a Paris publication, edited by Edward H. James, and in which it was alleged that His Majesty, while Prince of Wales, had contracted a morganatic marriage with the elder daughter of Admiral Sir Michael Seymour at Malta in 1890. The prosecution was conducted by Sir Rufus Isaacs, the Attorney General, assisted by Sir John A. Simon, Solicitor General, and Attorneys Rorlatt and Muir. Mylius had no counsel, looking after his own defence.

After the formalities of opening the proceedings were concluded, Mylius began his case by demanding the return of his private letters, which he asserted had been seized in violation of his legal rights. He then said: "I wish to ask whether the King is present. I demand his presence, because every accused person has the right to be confronted by his accuser, and, secondly, because in a libel action the prosecutor must be in court in order that the defendant may see him, and, thirdly, because there is no proof that the prosecutor is at present alive."

Chief Justice Alverstone replied: "That has already been the subject of an application before me, and you know perfectly well that the King cannot be here."

Of Greatest Character.

Sir Rufus then opened the prosecution. He said that the alleged libelous attack on the King's honor was intended to lower him in the esteem of right-minded citizens. The libel, he said, was of the grossest character and charged His Majesty with having contracted a shameful marriage at Malta in 1890 with the daughter of Admiral Sir Michael Seymour, by which there had been offspring; that

His Majesty had "foully abandoned" this lady in order that he might marry the Princess. Raising his voice and with a dramatic gesture, the Attorney General exclaimed: "I tell you at once that there is not the faintest vestige of truth in these slanders." He regretted that it was impossible for the King to appear in court, and concluded by stating that the suit against Mylius had not been brought to protect the monarchy, but that the protection of the court had been sought for the King as a man, a husband and a father.

Admiral Seymour testified the King never was at Malta while he and his daughters were there. The second daughter had never spoken to His Majesty, and in fact, had never seen him accept possibly at a garden party at Marlborough House after his marriage with Queen Mary. As to his eldest daughter, Sir Michael said that she might have seen Prince George when he was a cadet on the training ship Britannia in 1879. It was possible that she had seen him at court, but certainly she had never spoken to him until 1898 when the witness was commander-in-chief at Portsmouth and was visited by Prince George.

Daughter Gives Evidence.

Admiral Seymour was followed in the witness box by his daughter, Mrs. Napier. She testified that she married Capt. Napier in 1899, and had never been married previously. She had seen the King when he was a cadet on the training ship Britannia in 1879. She had seen him again at Portsmouth in 1898 and also saw him at a garden party in 1903, but did not speak to him. Her first visit to Malta was five months after King George and Queen Mary were married.

The admiral's three sons were also called, and all swore that they had never seen the King in Malta previously to 1893.

Books of the Admiralty were placed in evidence to prove that the King had not held an appointment on any ship which went to Malta between October, 1888 and July 1893.

IMPORTANT MATTERS BEFORE HEALTH BOARD

More Stringent Regulations for Lobster Plants Prepared—

Delegation Waits on Premier Propose Uniform Scale of Fees

Dr. E. O. Steeves, of Moncton, chairman of the provincial board of health and Daniel Mullin, K. C., held a conference with Hon. J. D. Hazen yesterday with regard to the dogfish reduction plant at Shippegan, which has become a public nuisance on account of the odors emanating from it. A slight addition to the equipment which would not involve any addition to the operating expenses would remedy this. The factory is operated by the Dominion government and it had been decided by the board of health to take the matter up with the minister of marine and fisheries and to endeavor to have the necessary change made. The premier approved of the course taken and assured the delegation of his support.

Dr. Steeves said that the reduction plant had been a great benefit to the North Shore fishermen. Not only did it give them a market for the dogfish which they caught, but it had helped to wipe out the dogfish to such an extent that the cod fishing was steadily improving since the factory had started. The fish are dried and cooked and make very valuable fertilizer.

The provincial board of health held two sessions at Fredericton on Tuesday, and among other things decided on some new and more stringent regulations for the lobster factories. The provincial health regulations are being revised and amended and will soon be ready for publication in their new form.

Uniform Scale of Fees.

Dr. Curran, Dr. Fisher and Daniel Mullin were appointed a committee to make up a uniform scale of suitable fees for physicians, nurses and guards in smallpox cases. The committee are to report at the conference of the provincial board, officials of local boards and representatives of the government. A general discussion on smallpox matters took place, and there was a lengthy discussion on the inspection of slaughter houses and the feeding of hogs from refuse matter about slaughter houses. The secretary was requested to get information in regard to how these matters are regulated in Ontario. Dr. Fisher discussed the recent proceedings of the commission on conservation, and its relation to the public health.

The appointment of standing committees as provided by the act was as follows: On education, Dr. Steeves, Daniel Mullin, K. C., and W. W. Hubbard; on food, drinks, adulterations, heating and ventilation of buildings and also school hygiene, Dr. Jones, D. Mullin and Dr. Fisher; on legislation the whole board.

A committee appointed to consult the provincial government regarding the medical inspection of teachers and pupils of the public schools submitted their report. The committee arranged to meet at St. John on Feb. 14th, when a conference will be held with the provincial government and officers of local boards of health.

Speaking of the health of the province, Dr. Steeves said that the only serious disease with which they had to cope at present is the smallpox yearly and as many of the cases seem to originate in Quebec, it is hard to stamp it out.

Better in Paris.

Paris, Feb. 1.—Edward H. James, editor of the Liberator, told a questioner that he greatly regretted that he is unable to go to England to help Mylius. Mr. James occupies two rooms near the Chamber of Deputies. One room, used as a study, is papered with prints of revolutionary scenes and propaganda pictures denouncing British rule in India. The Liberator is merely a leaflet. It has been appearing since February last.

CARPENTERS DECIDE TO INCREASE WAGE

$3.00 Day Rate Will be Asked After May 1—Active Campaign to Strengthen Union—Trade Active.

That the carpenters of the city have felt the increased cost of living and are preparing to get ready for it, was made manifest last evening at the meeting of Local 819 of the Carpenters and Joiners of America, which was held in their rooms Market building, when it was decided to ask for a wage rate of $3 per day after May 1st. The present wage is $2.50. The union also decided to hold regular fortnightly meetings during the remainder of the winter. These meetings will be open to the public and addresses on matters relating to trade unionism will be delivered. An organizer will be brought here and the matter of getting the union on an active aggressive footing thoroughly gone into.

In reference to the request for an increased wage rate a man well in touch with matters in the building trades, said last evening that the approaching summer promises to be a busy one in building circles. There is no scarcity of work for carpenters at the present time in any of the towns in the province, but Campbellton, Moncton and St. John are the three most active circles.

Sons of Temperance.

The annual meeting of the St. John district division Sons of Temperance will be held this evening in Loyalist division hall, Paradise Row. Members of the order are invited to be present. Gurney division No. 5, S. of T. will hold their regular meeting in Christ the Alpha hall, 120 Union street, this evening. Members are invited to be present.

Arillery Matters.

The following promotions in No. 5 (Carleton) Battery, 3rd New Brunswick Regiment Canadian Artillery, appeared in the regimental orders: To be corporal, Bombadier A. A. Dodge; To be bombardiers, Gunners W. B. Brennan, L. C. Harwood and E. Jennings. Application has been made on behalf of the regiment for a school for the instruction of officers and men such as has been held here in other winters. It is expected that the request will be granted and that the school will be opened some time in March.

Kings College Meeting.

On Thursday night of this week, at 8 o'clock a public meeting will be held in Trinity church school hall, in connection with Kings College, Windsor, N. S. The Bishop of Fredericton will preside and the speakers will be the Rev. Canon Powell, president of the college; the Bishop of Nova Scotia, and the city recorder, Col. J. B. M. Baxter. King's College, the oldest university in Canada, and the oldest in the British Empire, is now on the flood tide of success. Her past has been eventful. Not only was she granted a royal charter by George III. in 1827, but she has a long list of distinguished sons. Among the numerous names we find Maj. Gen. Sir John Inglis, K. C. B., one of the heroes of the Indian Mutiny; Baron Haldane, of Windsor, and A. F. Wellsford, of the 97th Regt., killed at Sebastopol, in the Crimea. A past such as Kings can boast of should give an impetus to the present and future development of the institution. The addresses on Thursday night should be of a most interesting nature. All are cordially invited to attend.

A Novelty Shower.

Miss N. Catthers was the recipient of many favors Tuesday evening as the result of a novelty shower tendered her at her home, No. 297 Wentworth street, by a number of friends in honor of an event that is to take place in April next. The shower was arranged by Miss Catthers' associates in the choir of the German street Baptist church, and they had the assistance of many other friends who joined heartily the movement to honor the popular young lady. The gifts of cut glass, china, linen, etc., were very numerous and beautiful. Needless to say the guests all spent a most enjoyable evening.
