

HELD FIRST AID TESTS IN C. P. R. OFFICE

Ambulance Teams from C. P. R. Services in Various Centres, Here in Competition Yesterday.

S. A. Gidlow, assistant secretary Canadian Branch, and general secretary of the C. P. R. Centre, St. John Ambulance Association, accompanied by Dr. H. A. Beatty who is also connected with the association, held the examinations for the branches of the organization in New Brunswick here yesterday. Teams from the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Brownville Junction, McAdam Junction and Aroostook Junction took the examinations with satisfactory results.

The Brownville Junction team, composed of C. A. Wood (capt.), W. J. Walsh, Ralph Fisher, M. Riley and W. S. Chase were awarded first place with 160 points out of a possible 217. The McAdam team composed of J. O'Neill (capt.), B. B. Herd, J. Thomas, G. Craig and F. Seeley were second with 141 points.

The Aroostook Junction team, composed of W. Grandemire (capt.), A. E. Palmer, D. S. Boone, A. R. Turner, and C. S. Gaines, were awarded third place with 135 points.

Mr. Gidlow and Dr. Beatty, who is the chief surgeon of the eastern lines of the C. P. R., seemed well satisfied with the results but deplored the fact that a larger number of teams were not present. The first aid movement, however, is daily gaining headway and they expect that within a short time hundreds of men will have been taught the proper manner to apply the necessary aid to prevent loss of life.

The tests taken up yesterday were the stretcher and individual tests. In the stretcher test it was supposed that a man had been struck by an engine and sustained a severe scalp wound over the right eye and rendered unconscious. The left arm hung limp and the left leg showed an angular deformity midway between the knee and the ankle. The different teams were taken separately and made to diagnose the case, treat it and transport the victim one mile. A stretcher and the necessary bandages were supplied.

In the individual test the students underwent an entirely different examination and were forced to apply first aid with articles of clothing or whatever they could find to use. This proved a most interesting problem as newspapers, coats and other articles

VETERAN MULE EMPLOYED IN SUBWAY KEEPS TIME FOR WORKERS

HOISTING DICK CROKER FROM THE SUBWAY

DICK CROKER AWAITING HIS CASE

In Manhattan strange things happen. The strangest so far is the animal clock, Dick Croker, the veteran mule employed in the subway. He is really the timekeeper of all subway workers. When Dick is lowered in his crate to the underworld people know that it is eight o'clock, and when Dick leaves his occupation in the subway and walks toward his crate to be hoisted up to the street the laborers drop their tools, for the veteran mule has let it be known it is five o'clock. Dick has worked twelve years in the tunnels and is the oldest animal in the service.

were quickly turned into bandages, slings and splints.

Addressed Police Chiefs.

Mr. Gidlow, who is also secretary for the western lines and honorary secretary for the Dominion of Canada, has just returned from Halifax where he addressed the meeting of the police chiefs. At the meeting he urged the necessity of policemen and firemen learning first aid. In Vancouver, Winnipeg and Toronto this is compulsory and although Mr. Gidlow is not in favor of compulsory training, he believes the policemen especially should have a thorough knowledge of this necessary art. In the above cities they are given three months to learn or are dismissed from the force.

Take for instance, said Mr. Gidlow, a man who is knocked down by a street car and sustains a broken thigh. The first man on the ground is usually a policeman, who if he does not know the proper thing to do, bundles the victim into a cab and sends him to the hospital. Now, when a man sustains a broken thigh the bone should be set before he is moved because of the danger of the jagged edge of the broken bone cutting an artery leading to death by excessive bleeding.

To prevent fatalities of this description the policemen should be able to reset the bone.

Another case, said Mr. Gidlow, when a knowledge of first aid by policemen would result in saving life, is that of a man stricken with apoplexy or kindred fits. These men are often arrested for drunkenness and found dead in their cells next morning.

When in Halifax Mr. Gidlow received a request from the Board of Management of the I. C. R. to address all their employees at a mass meeting in Moncton. He complied with this invitation with the result that now hundreds of these men are studying with beneficial results. After speaking of the different ways relief can be given, Mr. Gidlow gave the reporters a practical demonstration and in a few moments taught them to set broken bones and to stop bleeding from any part of the body.

Caught.

HOUSE BURNED AT MACE'S BAY

Frederick and Harry Mahoney Lost Property as well as Sums of Money.

The Mahoney homestead at Mace's Bay, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning last, and very little of the furniture was saved from the building. Fred Mahoney and wife resided in the homestead, and his two brothers, Harry and David, resided with him. David had been out to a dance the night before, and on Wednesday morning remained home asleep while the others were out.

About nine o'clock he was awakened by the house being full of smoke, and then he discovered that the entire roof was burning. A portion of the furniture was removed from the building, but the fire, which is supposed to have caught from a defective chimney, had such a start that nothing could be done to save the building and it was burned to the ground.

After the fire it was discovered that Harry Mahoney had lost $60 which he had left in the house, and Frederick lost the sum of $80 which had been burned up with the building.

WEDDINGS.

Pugsley-Jones.

A pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jones, of Lakeville, Queens County, on the fifteenth inst., when their daughter, Lillian Maud, was united in marriage to Calvin W. Pugsley, of Central Cambridge, Queens County. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Rowlands. Miss Helen Leckey acted as bridesmaid and the groom was supported by Charles Jones.

The wedding service was held at five o'clock in the afternoon and afterwards a supper was served, and an enjoyable evening spent by the assembled guests who were present to the number of 70 or 80. The bride looked charming in a costume of white voile over silk, carrying a large bouquet of flowers. She is a very popular young lady and the esteem in which she is held was well shown by the large number of presents she received. Mr. and Mrs. Pugsley will reside at Central Cambridge.

In the police court yesterday afternoon the case of John Travis, a youth charged with breaking, entering and stealing from Barrett & Smith on Dock street was resumed. Daniel Mullin, K. ## THE GATLIN INSTITUTE

Secures Local Building and Property.

The Gatlin Institute Co. has secured the handsome and commodious building located at 46 Crown St., Corner of King street.

This large building, which is handsome in both exterior and interior, is being well furnished and with every convenience and comfort for the short stay of three days which each patient requires to make for their wonderful liquor cure.

This is another step in the progress of this city, owing to the fact that this is the only original, reliable three-day Liquor Cure, and St. John has been selected for permanent location, being the only city east of Montreal with a branch.

It was only after careful investigation, and owing to the business the company has had in the provinces, that they decided to come to St. John. They operate under government charter, having large capital back of the business, and will undoubtedly meet with good reception by the people in this city, and throughout the Lower Provinces.

Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Service at 2.30.

BARDSLEY—In this city on the 17th inst., Lillian M., daughter of Elizabeth and the late Robert Bardsley, leaving her mother, four sisters and three brothers to mourn their sad loss.
