SAINT JOHN, N. B., THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 2, 1873. the 4th of July his wife went to visit a sister at Aurora, taking the children with her. On the same day Eddie, her eldest child, a boy of six while attempting to catch a ride on a freight-train, was run over, and had a leg and a foot cut off. His little sister, a child of two, was so appalled at the sight that she was thrown into brain fever and died. After returning to Chicago the crippled boy was serized with small-pox and infected the rest of the family, including Mr. Baker's mother and sister. Mrs. Baker died, and her husband, not sufficiently recovered, in attending her funeral took cold, and after six months of suffering, died a few days since. Finally, on Saturday last the elder Mrs. Baker received a despatch summoning her to the death-bed of a daughter at Elgin.

Samuel C. Shepherd, age 45, committed suicide in a room of his home in New York, on Friday afternoon last, by firing a pistol bullet into his brain. The decased was a member of the firm of Ward & Co., produce dealers, at No. 113 Wall street, was wealthy, and was not known to have had any trouble which could have prompted suicide. An inquest was held on Saturday, at which the family physician testified that Mr. Shepherd had suffered for several years past from attacks of melancholia, and doubtless had ended life while affected by this disease. The Coroner's jury rendered a verdict to this effect.
