Copy for him?Memorandum for the Prime Minister:Re Personal Biographical Clippings

I have sent up to Miss Zavitske, today, the special collection of clippings prepared by Mr. Measures, covering the year 1937, under three heads:

1. Personal biographical items;
2. Cartoons;
3. Photographs.

It has taken a few days in the New Year to check for items in papers coming in from other parts, and there may still be an occasional one to be added. The collection for 1937 does not contain any items regarding the Coronation and Conference. These, together with photographs, have been assembled in special volumes for binding. Together with samples of material for covers, they have been on your table in the East Block, and I have been hoping for an opportunity to show them to you for some time past.

I have also sent up to Laurier House the beginning of the collections for 1938, corresponding to the three mentioned above. There is not a great deal of material in any of these thus far, but Mr. Measures will call for the volumes and revise them once a week.

I attach herewith a memorandum dated December the 14th, which I prepared at the time I received your letter, written from the South, regarding clippings. I went into all the matters mentioned in your letter, very carefully, at the time of its receipt, with a view to seeing that your instructions are carried out to the fullest possible extent from day to day. I had thought it would be preferable to talk the matter over with you, but there has been no opportunity thus far.
