

GLOSSARY, 467

Glowrowrum, Lady, 151, 423; her opinion of the Troils, 259
 Goffe, pirate captain, 358; lets Triptolemus escape, 376
 'Gold is ruddy,' 226
 Gow, pirate, xi
 Gray's Fatal Sisters, 452
 Green Loch, 100
 Guthrie, Mr. James, 31

HAAGEN, old soldier, 156, 372

Halcro, Claud, 123; his story of the tailor, 130; song, 'Mary,' 132; story of Dryden, 143; song, 'Harold Harfager,' 153; mediates between Cleveland and Mordaunt, 193; frames the fortune-telling rhymes, 220; his fortune told, 224; meets Minna in distress, 252; in the hut, 314; recognised by Bunce, 382; quotes Dryden, 387; cool reception of Bunce, 421

'Halcyon,' frigate, 369

Harira. See Stourburgh

'Harold Harfager,' song, 153

Hawkins, pirate boatswain, 359, 419

Helyer of Swartaster, 233

Hospitality in Zetland, 5, 134, 172

Hoy, Isle of, 202, 356; Hill of, 202, 459

INTRODUCTION, Author's, vii

'It was a ship,' 384

JARLSHOF, 2

'Jolly Mariuel of Canton,' 141

KIRKWALL, Earl's Palace, 326; fair, 331; magistrates, 306; St. Magnus's cathedral, 399

Kraken, sea-monster, 15

LAING, Malcolm, xii

Lambas lads, 341, 465

Law-ting, 202, 459

Lindsay, Lady Ann, 463

'Love wakes and weeps,' 249

Luggie, the warlock, 315, 464

MACRAWS, 295, 464

Mainland of Zetland, 1

'Mark me, for the word I speak,' 302

Marriage, reflections on, 137

'Mary,' song, 132

Maskers, at Burgh-Westra, 160

'Menseful maiden, ne'er should rise,' 255

Mertoun, Basil, 3; rents Jarlshof, 6; anger against Swertha, 10; questions Mordaunt, 65; climbs Sumburgh Head, 68; aroused by Mordaunt's absence, 262; his relations with Norna, 274; last interview with her, 436; offers his life for his son's, 442; end of, 445

Mertoun, Mordaunt, advises Swertha, 12; his education, 13; relations to Minna and Brenda, 22; resolves to go home, 24; forces his way into Stourburgh, 43; awakens Swertha, 64; questioned by his father, 65; accompanies his father up Sumburgh Head, 68; rescues Cleveland, 74; reproves Swertha, 83; visits

Cleveland, 85; hears unwelcome news, 93; warned by Norna, 101; joins Yellowleys, 111; cold reception Burgh-Westra, 121, 125; explanation from Brenda, 163; rescued by Cleveland, 180; dispute as to the box, alarm at his prolonged absence, Norna's communication to him, restored to favour with Magna T. 422; rescues the sisters, 429; story of his birth, 438; marriage, 447

Millie, Bessie, 454

Montrose, in Zetland, 156, 456

'Mother darksome, mother dread,' 222, 225, 227

'Mother, speak, and do not tarry,' 228

Mousa Castle, 463

NORNA of Fitful Head, at Stourburgh, stills the tempest, 57; at the wreck, 78; warns Mordaunt, 101; in the sister's chamber, 198; her tale, 201; tells tunes, 220; song in St. Ringan's, interview with Mertoun, 274; Magna Troil's account of her, 282; her absence, 288; visited by the Troils, 294; her story over Minna, 298; throws out the predictions, 307; claims Mordaunt as her father, 351; separates Minna and Cleveland, helps Cleveland to escape, 405; interview with Mertoun, 436; last days of, 446; spells, 464; Author on, 465, x
 Norse fragments, 15, 451; Norse rovers, 153

ODIN, promise of, 240, 462, 466

Olaus Magnus, his book, 306; quoted, 464

Oramus to St. Ronald, 62, 454

Orkney, grouse in, 331, 464; birds of prey, 356, 465

PACOLET. See Strumpfer, Nick

Peghts, or Picts, 452

Pictish burgh, 288, 463

Pirate, the novel, vii

Pirate, the. See Cleveland, Clement
 Pirates, flag of, 332, 433; council of, capture of, 435

Plantie cruive, 8, 451

Ponies, Zetland, 113

'Poor sinners whom the snake deceives,' 341

Provost of Kirkwall. See Torfe, Provost

Punch-bowl, Magnus Troil's, 141

RANZELMAN. See Ronaldson, Neil

'Robin Rover said to his crew,' 348

Ronaldson, Neil, 11, 80; gossips with Swertha, 108; interview with Mertoun, 265

SAGAS, Norse, 15, 451

St. Magnus cathedral, Kirkwall, 399

'St. Magnus control thee,' 253

St. Ninian's, ruins of, 269

St. Olla's fair, Kirkwall, 331, 341, 465

Scambester, Eric, his punch, 141; at the whale-hunt, 182

Scart, or cormorant, 25, 453