CATHOLIC CONSTITUTION.

In addition to the foundation principles of this Society, as found elsewhere in our report, we quote from the address of the Committee in the last report of the Society:—"The proceedings of this Society, conducted on the principles of Christian union, have been extensively useful; and the Committee have reason to conclude that such union has been in accordance with the Spirit of the Redeemer's prayer for his disciples 'That they all may be one.' Sincerely would they adopt the sentiments contained in the preface to 'The Harmony of the Confessions of the Reformed Churches.' Let us not think it much to take them for brethren whom God vouchsafeth to take for sons. There hath scarce been any age which hath seen all churches following altogether one thing in all points; so as there hath not always been some differences; and yet before cut asunder but let us kill united together that hymn to thing it is for l
