FARMERSVILLE.
ITS PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE.

Manufacturing Industries.
Continuing the enumeration of our manufacturing industries, we first take up the

FARMERSVILLE CARRIAGE WORKS, which were established in 1860 by the present proprietor, D. Fisher. For a number of years previous to commencing business on his own account, Mr.
Fisher worked for the firm of Titus & Boddy, whose shop formed part of the present premises. Mr. Fisher has long been noted for the design and finish of his carriages, and the numerous orders he has received from distant towns and villages testify to the wide-spread popularity of his vehicles. During this season the works turned out a large number of carriages of all descriptions, and his show rooms to-day are well supplied with cutters and pleasure sleighs in the most modern styles. With C. Niblock as woodworker, A. Niblock as ironer, Fred.
Bristow as painter, and Wm. Stevens as trimmer, and all the work being directly under the personal supervision of the proprietor, it is fair to assume that all the work turned out reaches a high standard of finish and durability. Next door to Fisher's carriage works, is the

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING SHOP of W. H. Jacobs. The throng of horses which are daily seen at his shop prove that his proficiency in this line is known and appreciated. Judging from observation, we are within the mark in saying that fully one-half of the horse-shoeing carried on in Far-mersville is done at this shop. Crossing from Victoria to Main st., we reach the extensive

CARRIAGE WORKS
of E. Gilroy. The business has been carried on in this shop by Mr. Gilroy since 1850, and his quiet, unassuming manner and fair, honest dealing, combined with the reputation the shop has always enjoyed of doing all work "by the square and on the square," has gained for the business and its proprietor a host of friends. Always to the front in the style of his carriages, and using only the best materials, his orders are always in advance of his capabilities for turning out work. C. C.
Shack has long been identified with this shop as painter, and his well-known abilities as a carriage painter need no recommendation from us. Directly on the corner of Main and Henry sts. is the

STOVE DEPOT AND TINWARE SHOP of John H. Percival, where is shown a large collection of all the leading kinds of coal and wood stoves. The stove trade is one that has only received attention during the past year or two, and that purchasers are finding out that they can procure stoves as cheaply here as elsewhere, they are not slow to take advantage of the fact and buy their stoves where they can "drop in" and get a piece to replace a broken or worn out part, without the trouble and expense of sending to the manufacturer. Mr. Percival also carries on an extensive tinshop in connection with his stove and hardware business, and makes a specialty of tin roofing and chase factory supplies. In the same building is situated the

WATCHMAKING AND JEWELLERY shop of Fred. Clow. As a watch repairer and fine work jobber Mr. Clow excels, while his prices are always reasonable. He also keeps a supply of clocks, fine silver and gold watches, and silver-plate. He has also the agency for the celebrated Lawrence spectacles. Passing a little farther along Main st., we reach the

HARNESS-MAKING SHOP
of A. F. Wilts. Mr. Wilts has lately enlarged his shop, and having more room, has engaged more help.

and is now turning out a large quantity of harness. His work is all made by hand, and he claims to excel in the manufacture of horse collars. The store is well stocked with horse blankets, whips, bells, curry combs, and other stable requisites.

in all its branches is carried on by A.
C. Barnett in Parish's new building, directly opposite the Gamble House.
Arthur is a practical business man, and keeps only the most experienced assistants, and uses only the best stock.
For those wishing a cheaper article, Mr. Barnett keeps a supply of factory-made foot gear. The

FASHIONABLE TAILOR SHOP
of Geo. Bulford next comes under review. Mr. Bulford has carried on business in Farmersville for a number of years. Having learned his trade in "Old England," where every detail of a calling has to be thoroughly mastered before an apprentice presumes to himself, those entrusting their orders to George may be satisfied that they are going to have a perfect fit. We will next notice the

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.
The elections for this township passed off quietly, and resulted in the re-election of the old council by large majorities. The elections were somewhat complicated here as the Reformers had two candidates in the field for deputy Reeve, and two for councillors, and then to further complicate the matter the presence of Geo. P.
Wright as an Independent, whom neither party claimed, helped to make a muddle that could only be decided at the polls. The electors of the south part of the township were anxious to have a representative in the council this year, and for that purpose nominated John Hudson, of Charleston. Had it not been for the large number of men in the field, and the presence of the Independent candidate, we believe Mr. Hudson would have been elected. Never having run for councillor before, and being handicapped as he was, we think he made a fair run for the first time.

The following is the number of votes polled in the different sub-divisions.

FOR DEPUTY REEVE.

Reeve, T. K. Scovill. (acc.) Councillors

BROCKVILLE.
Mayor, G. A. Dana, by 25 majority.
Councillors—East ward, John Murray, John Stagg; South ward, D. Derbyshire, J. Culbert; Centre ward, D. W.
Downey, G. T. Bulford; West ward, A. Stagg, H. Merron; North ward, N. Cossitt, James Logan.

TORONTO.
Mayor, W. H. Howland, majority 2167. Of the aldermen the Reformers elected 21 to 15. The elections turned on the temperance question and a significant fact is that of the 21 Reformers elected 13 were pledged to reduce the number of licences, while only one Conservative sought election on the temperance ticket.

CITIZENRY.
We clip the following from the Oswego Times-Express, of the 20th Dec.
The person whose decease is thus mentioned was born, and lived until about twenty years ago, near Addison, in this county, and will no doubt be remembered by many of our readers in Addison and Farmersville. Mr. Decker was a brother of Mrs. M. Roberson and Mrs. H. Ritter of this village.
He was here in June last, on a visit to his relatives, and was then in very poor health.

"The funeral of Alonzo W. Decker was attended at one o'clock yesterday (Dec. 19th) from his late residence at the corner of Ontario and West Cayuga streets. The attendance was very large, especially from the town of Oswego made up very largely from his old neighbors and friends in that town.
Mr. Decker was born in Canada but with other members of his family came to the town of Oswego some fifteen or twenty years ago when he removed to this city where he has since resided.
Some eight or nine years since Mr.
Decker was married to Miss Martha Cushman, daughter of the late Silas Cushman of the town of Oswego. Mr.
Decker has always maintained the reputation of an industrious and honorable citizen, and the estimation in which he was held by his neighbors and those who knew him best was attested yesterday by the large number who came to his funeral. For a year or more Mr.
Decker had been in declining health, but was confined to his bed but a few days before his death. Mr. Decker, before his death, requested that Rev. J.
B. Kenyon, formerly pastor of the Oswego Centre and Southwest Oswego M. E. churches, now located at Chautaumont, should conduct his funeral services, which Mr. Kenyon kindly consented to do. His remarks yesterday were very interesting and were listened to with great attention by those who assembled on this occasion. Mr. Decker leaves a devoted and affectionate wife and one brother, Mr. James Decker and two sisters Mrs. Mary A. Dutcher and Mrs. L. Platt of this city. His remains were interred in the Rural cemetery with Messrs. Joseph Newell, Merrick Willis, John Thompson and Anthony Alakie officiating as bearers."

Owing to the ice not taking in the flat our toboggan slide is yet unopened.
Not a single vote was yet unpolled in this neighborhood on the 28th.

The Mansell fever that was reported raging so bad in the vicinity of Glen Buell, could not have been very contagious. Something stronger than "No Popery" is needed in the Conservative camp.

Our Sunday School closed on New Year's Eve for 1886 with a Christmas tree, review, recitations, readings, music and singing. Each scholar of the juvenile class was presented with a bag of confectionery and the tree was well loaded with presents from parents and friends. The Secretary's report showed an average attendance of 40 scholars. Total expenses for the year, $40.44; receipts, $47.62.

Phillipsville.
The Christmas tree in the M. E.
Church was a success, the house being well filled. The recitations, songs and dialogues by the little folks were well rendered. The receipts at the door were about $30.

Geo. Brown has his skating rink flooded at last. Five thousand pairs of water did the job.

There was a lot of whiskey floating around here last week. It is reported that a prominent man from Delta was up here with a jug full, and as a consequence several "gentlemen" got—no, I will not say drunk, for it would not be genteel to say that law-abiding citizens would be so far led astray.
Now that the whiskey has been bought and drunk, the question arises, "Who will pay the Piper?"
[Crowded out last week.]

Glen Buell.
On New Year's night our Sunday School gave a social which notwithstanding the unfavorable weather was a grand success. The proceeds were applied to the orphan debt, which was entirely wiped out. At the house the Rev. Mr. Richardson, in behalf of the congregation, presented our organist, Miss Lang, with ten dollars as a token of appreciation of her services.

Our deputy toll taker has decided owing to the unexpected (to him) turn in the elections, and the consequent prospect of hard times, to defer his intended exit from single blessedness until such time as Mansell or some other good Tory candidate may be elected for the Brockville riding.

Our east end butcher has decided to change the diet offered to his customers, from roast beef and mutton chop to rabbit and partridge pie.

twelve inches fell during that period.
