MARKETS DEMORALIZED.

Chicago, April 23.—Demoralization was general to-day in the grain pits on the Board of Trade, heavy liquida-tion which caused the sensational slump tion which caused the sensational slump in wheat prices yesterday having extended to coarse grain. During the first few minutes of trading July wheat sold off to 108 7-8, which was 3-4c below the low point of the preceding session. Corn for May delivery broke more than 4 cents from the best marks previous day, declining early in the day to 67 5-8c per bushel.

and you are my tenant." She lay quite still for a few minutes, and then she said to herself: "It cannot be helped." "Miss Vane," I interrupted, "we will speak of you—never mind me. Have you hurt yourself?" I saw that all at once she had awoke to a full knowledge of where she was and what had happened.

of where she was and what had happened.

"Yes, I have injured my arm. I was sitting on one of those stones, and did not notice that those above me were loose. I moved carelessly, and one of them fell on my arm. I managed to creep to the river-side, thinking that the cold water would ease the pain."

"Will you let me see it?" I asked. She looked half timirly into my face.
"I need not trouble you," she said, shyly. "If you would go to the River Hause and tell my maid, Jane Lewis, that would be the greatest kindness you could do for me."

"My dear young lady, I am sorry to refuse you, but I cannot do any such thing; I cannot leave you here in this state. Do not be afraid of me; I am Mrs. Neville. You have been my tenant now for three years, and you know how I have respected your desire for secreey. Ask yourself, if it is my wish to intrude on you now. Let me help you, and then when there is no more left for me to hen there is no more left for me to be we can be strangers again." Her see flushed, and she looked wistfully time. from the time it was first built. Taking a deep interest in church matters, he had not failed to notice the progress of St. John. Dr. Tovell was unsparing with his compliments for the members and pastor for the unanimity of spirit shown in all the departments. He expressed himself pleased to be present in a gathering where the social spirit was so strong, and was glad to extend the greetings of his church.

a gathering where the social spirit was so strong, and was glad to extend the greetings of his church.

The Rev. D. R. Drummond said he was glad to notice the good feeling between the St. John members, and hoped success would attend their future efforts. He said anniversary time should be devoted to planning for new spirit in church life. It seemed to him that the thought should be in every member to further advance the church work; each one accepting certain responsibilities and not leaving the load for a few. There is work for everyone, as it is not what a person does, but the true-heartedness in which it is done, that counts. Mr. Drummond wished St. John success in all branches of work, and especially in the young people's organizations.

Short addresses were given by representatives of the different church organizations. Mr. A. Turnbull spoke on behalf of the Session; Mr. Benjamin Munn for the Sunday school; Mrs. J. E. Souter for the Women's Foreign Mission Society; Mr. C. Grey for the Home Mission Society; Mrs. J. H. Horning for the sudden not must came face.

"These are terrible proud words," I said, laughingly. "There is no humilation, when we are hurt and wounded, in crying to a fellow-creature for help." "I would rather creep away to suffer and die alone," she returned. "I do not like pity—it is weak. I could endure anything rather than be pitied." "My poor child, when you are as old as I am you will know how sweet the butty of those who love us is."

as I am you will know how sweet the pity of those who love us is."
"Did you like people to pity you when your husband died—to say, 'Ah! poor thing, it is very shocking—very terrible!' and shake their heads about you!
"Yes, I think that it soothed me."
"Ah!" she said, calmly, "then you have not a brave soul." I laughed aloud; I could not help it.
"I know someone who has a very proud soul; but we will talk about that another day. Your arm is badly bruised and broken; what is best to be done!" for the Sunday senoor; success of the Women's Foreign Mission Society; Mr. C. Grey for the Home Mission Society; Mrs. J. H. "Then, Lewis," she said, imperiously, I will go to my own room."
