

CRIMINAL CASE TRIED.

King Street Shooting Before Judge and Jury To-day.

Nothing Malicious In Arrest of David Watson.

Sayer vs. Hamilton Cataract Company Settled Out of Court.

The action of Watson vs. the St. Mary's & Western Ontario Railway Company for $3,000 damages for false arrest began last night, and was concluded this morning at the Assize Court.

The argument set up by the plaintiff, Mr. David Watson, of Toronto, was that during the summer of 1907 he took up his residence at St. Mary's, being employed by John E. Webb, contractor, and engaged in building the company's lines. On August 11 the chief engineer came to him and demanded the time books of the company, which he refused, saying he had no books except those belonging to Webb. Notwithstanding this, the secretary and solicitor for the company, James W. Graham, without reasonable cause, he alleges, maliciously and falsely laid an information before J. M. Stanley, the police magistrate of St. Mary's, had him arrested and put in jail until he had provided bail at $1,000. After hearing the evidence the magistrate dismissed the charge against him, and honorably discharged him from custody. The plaintiff also claims that Graham was acting under directions of the defendant, and by reason of the arrest and prosecution he suffered great annoyance, disgrace, loss of time, credit and reputation, also considerable expense in defending himself. He therefore claimed $3,000 damages sustained thereby.

The defendant company denied having authorized or directed the arrest or imprisonment of the plaintiff, and that Graham, in arresting Watson did not act within the scope of his employment as the secretary of the company. Further, that Graham had reasonable and probable cause for believing that the plaintiff did steal the book.

Mr. T. H. Crerar, in addressing the jury, explained the circumstances surrounding the incident, which led up to the arrest of plaintiff. Watson, he said, was arrested because he would not hand over certain time books to another person in the employ of the railway company, without notice to do so from his employer. Upon his arrest he was given the books, he was arrested and marched through the streets and held in jail until $1,000 bail could be provided for. Such treatment was damaging to his reputation. The counsel for defendants might say that plaintiff was arrested after dark, and try to make light of it, but the fact remained that he was arrested and his wife was compelled to make provision for $1,000 bail before he was let out of prison.

Mr. George S. Kerr, acting for the railway company, said that the books in question were valued at very little and of no use to anyone but the company. As Graham understood the books belonged to the railway, and were of no use to plaintiff, he asked plaintiff for them, but Watson refused to give them up, and Graham had him arrested. Mr. Kerr contended that the arrest was not made maliciously, but in good faith that the plaintiff had no right to refuse to give up the books.

His lordship, in laying the case before the jury, said that the main thing to be considered was, was there an absence of reasonable cause for the action of Graham, which he believed was true? The fact that the plaintiff was innocent of the charge laid against him would not enter into the question of damages, it was not a violation of the law to provide one, even though he is not guilty, arrested the arrest was made in good faith. The whole question was, did Graham act maliciously, and if so, what damages did the plaintiff sustain by reason of the arrest and imprisonment.

The jury returned a verdict to the effect that Graham had not acted maliciously in arresting Watson.

THE LORENZO SHOOTING CASE.

The only criminal case for the assizes was next taken up, Joseph Lorenzo, an Italian, was charged with shooting at Inomas White with intent to do grievous bodily harm. Through Mr. J. O'Reilly, K. C., Lorenzo pleaded not guilty.

W. L. Ross, K. C., acting crown attorney, explained the case to the jury. The first witness, David Muford, one of the companions of White, said Tom Truscott and himself were standing in front of the Greek candy store, near the corner of King and Catharine streets, on the night in question. After prisoner had fired one shot, witness started toward him. Prisoner fired another shot, then turned and ran up Catharine street. Shortly before the occurrence, witness, Truscott and White, had been walking east on King street, but White stopped to speak to someone, and they walked on about 50 yards. The prisoner and White were about a yard apart when the shot was fired, and it was apparently fired in an upward direction. Next day when witness saw White the mark on his face was gone, but traces of powder still remained on his ear.

When cross-examined by M. J. O'Reilly, witness said White and Lorenzo had backed about 30 feet out into the road when the first shot was fired.

Thomas Truscott substantiated the evidence of Muford in regard to the actions of himself and companions before the shooting. The shots, two in number, following one another quickly. To him it appeared that the pistol was pointed at White.

Edward Burt, said his attention was drawn to the spot by the loud talk. Prisoner backed out in an upward direction. Next day when witness saw White the mark on his face was gone, but traces of powder still remained on his ear.

When cross-examined by M. J. O'Reilly, witness said White and Lorenzo had backed about 30 feet out into the road when the first shot was fired.

Thomas Truscott substantiated the evidence of Muford in regard to the actions of himself and companions before the shooting. The shots, two in number, following one another quickly. To him it appeared that the pistol was pointed at White.

King street to John and up John to Main street. He arrested the prisoner on Hughson street, in front of Lovering's and took him to the cells. The prisoner when locked up wanted to know if any person was with him. The witness showed the revolver he had found on prisoner. The chambers were filled with the exception of two.

Lorenzo, the prisoner, was then called for the defence. He said that, in company with two companions, he was going towards King and James streets. White asked him for a bottle of whiskey, and when he refused White said, "I'll cut your head off, you Dago." Witness said White had something in his hand, a razor or a knife. He stated that he was 18 years old and had been in the country two and a half years. He had the revolver with him because he wanted to sell it.

"Could you have got away from White?" asked Mr. Ross. "No, he was within twelve feet of me."

James Silvestro, one of the companions of Lorenzo, said he was asked by White to go with him to buy a razor. He would not give it to him White swore at him and assumed a threatening attitude.

Joseph Muford again went into the witness box and in answer to a question by Mr. Ross said he had not seen a knife in White's hand.

A number of the other witnesses were recalled, and said they had seen no knife or razor.

M. J. O'Reilly, in addressing the jury, said it must seem peculiar that no person had been able to get White to say anything about the affair. What was White following the prisoner out in the street for? If the men were as close as witnesses said, could not the prisoner have shot him. Why was the principal in the case not called?

His Lordship, in addressing the jury, said two things were necessary to be established. The first was that the firearm was discharged at White with intent to do him some grievous bodily harm. Prisoner says he fired to scare White, and did not purpose hitting him, but intended to frighten him. According to the account of one witness, White was under the influence of liquor, and asked prisoner for whiskey. After the prisoner had been taken to the cells he inquired if he had been shot, and that did not bear out his contention that he had shot only to frighten. The witness seemed to disagree as to how far from the curb the shooting took place. He asked for careful consideration of the case.

The case was left in the hands of the jury at 12:30 p. m.

The jury was locked up until 2:30 this afternoon.

SHORTENING THE COURT.

The action of Mrs. Lucy Sayer against the Hamilton Cataract Power Company for $5,000 for the death of her husband was settled out of court. S. F. Washington, K. C., acted for the plaintiff and M. J. O'Reilly, K. C., for the company.

The jury notice to do so from his employer. Upon his arrest he was given the books, he was arrested and marched through the streets and held in jail until $1,000 bail could be provided for. Such treatment was damaging to his reputation. The counsel for defendants might say that plaintiff was arrested after dark, and try to make light of it, but the fact remained that he was arrested and his wife was compelled to make provision for $1,000 bail before he was let out of prison.

Mr. George S. Kerr, acting for the railway company, said that the books in question were valued at very little and of no use to anyone but the company. TEA TABLE GOSSIP.

Mr. James Chisholm has returned from a summer's trip in England and on the continent.

The Normal School has reopened with 200 students on the roll, of which 25 are young men, the remainder ladies.

Commencing Wednesday, Sept. 30th, for the convenience of its patrons, a Radial car will leave the Terminal Station for Burlington at 5.40 p. m., until further notice.

Rev. Canon Sutherland preached at the evening service at the Anglican Church, Bullock's Corners, last Sunday night, and half of the choir of St. Mark's Church assisted at the service.

Magistrate Jelfs said this morning that it was unlikely a summons would be issued against John Sugar, 7 Rosedale avenue, where the police made a liquor raid on Saturday night, in view of the fact that the quantity seized was not very large.

PEARY AND HIS PROOFS.

Closed With Hubbard To-day - Whitney Hurrying Home.

Bar Harbor, Maine, Sept. 28.—Commander Robt. E. Peary and Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard, President of the Peary Arctic Club, were again in conference today over the proofs which Commander Peary has gathered together from various sources to show that Dr. Frederick A. Cook did not reach the pole. No statement from either Commander Peary or General Hubbard was forthcoming this morning on the progress of the conference, but it was said that it would probably continue all day.

Commander Peary is anxious to make a full statement of the whole matter but this will hardly be done until the officers of the Peary Arctic Club have passed on the statement. The proofs which commander Peary will offer are of various character, some of which in a court of law would be described as direct evidence while other proofs depend entirely on process of deductions from certain given facts.

Dr. Cook's experience with Arctic expeditions and his method of keeping the records and his disposition of them in part of Harry Whitney, a stranger to him, will play no small part in Commander Peary's proof.

It is a combination of circumstances and facts which in their cumulative strength Commander Peary believes will get the ground from under Dr. Cook's claim.

Commander Peary and his wife may not return to Portland before to-morrow.

WHITNEY HURRYING HOME. St. John's Nfld., Sept. 28.—The Arctic vessel Jeannie, with Harry Whitney, the New Haven big game hunter on board, has arrived here from Greenland coast by way of Indian Harbor, Labrador.

Mr. Whitney was questioned regarding the statements made to him by Dr. Frederick A. Cook in Greenland. He said Cook arrived in Annotok in April of this year, and declared he had reached the north pole a year ago.

RYERSON.

All the Other Churches Support It In Its Work.

Last night Ryerson Methodist Church held a successful harvest home tea meeting. The church, which was tastefully decorated with all the flowers, fruits, grains and vegetables of the season, was crowded. Tea was served by the Ladies' Aid Society, after which the following assisted in the programme, in the chair: Miss Muriel Cowan, Miss G. Robinson, Mrs. Lewis, Mr. Springstead, Mr. F. Burton in vocal solos; Miss Hill and Chagnon in vocal duets; Mrs. Ernest Taylor and Mr. Walter Booth in readings. The Charlton Avenue orchestra played many selections during the evening, and they were enjoyed by all. Rev. Dr. Williamson, of Emerald Street Church, Rev. E. B. Lanecoley, of First, Rev. W. J. Smith, B. A., of Charlton Avenue, and Rev. T. R. Todd, of Kensington Avenue Church, gave addresses touching on the good fellowship which existed between the churches and Ryerson Church, contrary to a report recently circulated in a city paper, and all joined in wishing this growing congregation and its pastor every success.

The Victoria University Band will begin a series of special services in this church on Sunday evening. Bright series of songs and praise held every evening, to which all are invited.

ONLY ONE SAVED.

Rangoon, Burma, Sept. 28.—The British steamer Clan Mackintosh, belonging to the Mackintosh Navigation Co., is reported to have blown up at sea. Every man on board, with one exception, is said to have perished. The Clan Mackintosh was on her way from Rangoon to Calcutta to be fitted out with new boilers.

STREET CAR FATALITY.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 28.—Miss M. Peck, of Peterboro', died at 2 o'clock this morning at the residence of Mr. Peter Blackey, 123 Empress Crescent, as the result of a fall from a street car last evening. The car did not stop when she rose to get off and there being a rather sharp curve the swing threw Miss Peck to the pavement. The fall fractured her skull. An inquest will be held.

SIGNALLERS INSPECTED.

Only five of the eleven signalers of the 13th Regiment attended the inspection last night, the remainder being out of the city. Lieut. E. Ford, district signalling officer, was the inspecting officer, and Sgt.-Major McDonald was assistant inspector. After class drill the Morse and semaphore alphabets were gone through successfully. The men also worked successfully with the lamps.

Preserving Jars in Plenty.

The demand for preserving jars has been very heavy, and stocks throughout the city are light. We still have pint, quart and two quart sizes in Crown jars. In granulated sugar we offer nothing but the extra standard granulated, the only thoroughly reliable sugar for preserving fruit. New York wafers, soda wafers and grape fruit just received.—Peebles, Hobson & Co., Limited.
