It appears that Mr. L. H. Davies,

in his peregrinations through the country, has been telling the people some wonderful things. He has been Liberal policy, which he did not deign to tell his Charlottetown audience. At Dundas and other places he is reported to have told the people that he had been commissioned by Mr. Laurier to go to Washington. where he had a four hours interview of State, when an arrangement had been made between them, by which a reciprocity treaty could be negotiated between this country and the United States. Now comes the extraordinary part of the story. Mr. Hon. Mr. Gordon, Leader of the Davies gravely informed his hearers that Mr. Blaine had imposed silence on him regarding this matter for fear it would prejudice the Republican party in the eyes of the American people. He said that, on his return to Ottawa, he confided to Mr. Laurier the private understanding he and Mr. Blaine had arrived at ; but owing to the condition imposed, they had kept travagantly and wastefully spent the matter secret until the present time. Is it possible that Mr. Davies has kept locked in his bosom all these years, the knowlege of the conditions upon which reciprocity with the United States could be obtained? He has been acting very unfairly towards the other members of the Grit party, who have been laboring to show that reciprocity could be secured. Had they this information, the solution of the question would have been shorn duties of the members of the of its difficulties. The Speech which the Government framed for the opening of the session contained so little, and was so void of any intimation of positive or prospective legislative enactment, that it would have minds than those of Mr. Wise and Mr. Robertson, the mover and seconder of the address, to make a reasonable showing before the House.
