Bell Island Football.

CHAMPIONS VICTORIOUS IN FIRST GAME.

Before a very large audience representing the supporters and employees of the mining companies on Bell Island, as well as hundreds of Bell Island citizens in general, the football season opened at the above mentioned place on Saturday evening when the representative teams of the two companies, the Nova Scotians and the Dominions, lined up in battle array to struggle for supremacy...

zing up field and unpretentiously George, for the blue and white, essayed a shot from the wing, beating Murphy and drawing first blood. Nova Scotias, 1; Dominion, 0. When the cheers had died away that greeted the Scotia players, the spectator was surprised to find the ball down in Scotia territory, the Dominions bringing into play the strength and vim that characterized them in the past...

down quietly to work, till George for the Scotias again tried a pretty wing shot, which Murphy, the safe Dominion tender for the past three years, saved in capital style. Dominions now took a run up field, but down came the ball once more. Trappell now made a very pretty dash, and striding up field cleared all opponents, but running so quickly he was unable to stop in shooting and the ball just went wide of the goal by a few inches. His dash was one of the prettiest pieces of play for the evening. Some fouling now seemed to be indulged in, and of course being perceived by the argus eye of Referee Higgins, several free kicks were awarded to both sides. Nothing resulted from them, however. After 20 minutes had passed by the Dominion forwards went up again, and Burnham centering, Roberts by neat work brought the ball to the goal mouth when he beat Renshaw, notching up No. 3 for the red and grey. Dominion, 3; Scotia, 1. For the remaining ten minutes both teams worked hard, the Scotias being aggressors and putting in some fine play. The Dominions seemed to keep up to their usual standard and keeping the ball clear of the danger zone. The whistle sounded, leaving last year's champions, the Dominion Iron & Steel Co.'s representatives, victors in the first game for the season of 1911. SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT. Bell Island, June 18, 1911.

Eye witnesses who were present on Harvey & Co.'s pier when Stoker James Bruin rescued another stoker named Miller from drowning, say it was an act of bravery which should not go unrewarded. Miller fell overboard at 11.30, when the ship had swung about half the length of herself from the wharf, and when the thunder storm was at its height and torrents of rain descended. When Bruin heard the cry of man overboard he unhesitatingly jumped from the Florizel's deck into the water, a distance of 40 feet, and but for his ability as a swimmer both he and the imperilled comrade might have met a watery grave. It was only when the frequent and vivid flashes of lightning lit up the surface of the water that those present could see the splendid efforts made to ensure the safety of his friend and to prevent him in his struggles from grasping him by the arms and rendering him powerless to extend aid or cause the death of both. To do this when the darkness was intense, between the flashes of lightning, was a task of great danger and difficulty. Had not Bruin acted with such promptness and skill Miller, who could not swim and was rather heavily clad, must have drowned. Bruin, who is a son of the late Const. Thomas Bruin, is a quiet, unassuming young fellow and has saved several from drowning. Our informants who were present when he so distinguished himself say that young Bruin should receive some proper recognition of his bravery, and believe that the matter should be brought to the attention of His Excellency the Governor who will, no doubt, see that he will be suitably rewarded. Bruin's grandfather, we might also observe in passing, served honourably as a soldier in the British Army.

End Bowel Misery With a 'Cascaret.'

Never any Headache, Biliousness, Indigestion, or Constipation. No more miserable days after this.

This is the day of the gentle in medicine. The cathartic pill is old-fashioned. Salts and castor oil belong to grandmothers' time. The mood of doctor and patient. Cascarets are effective, yet gentle. They don't irritate or gripe. They don't, like cathartics, waste the digestive fluids. Cascarets do only what some foods will do, what exercise does for the bowels. Their action is natural, not artificial. If you live outdoors, exercise a great deal, and avoid rich foods, you don't need them. Otherwise you do. The most helpful laxative ever devised is Cascarets. They are handy tablets, pleasant to take. Then they are convenient. The ten-cent box fits the vest pocket or the lady's purse. That is a vital point. The time to take a laxative is the minute you suspect that you need it. Don't wait till you get home; don't wait till night. One Cascaret, taken any time, makes you feel great and they cost only 10c. per box.

Attempted Suicide.

A young man named Martery, of the West End, who was arrested for drunkenness, attempted to end his life in a cell at the lockup last night. Officers Furlong and Ryan, who were in the office nearby, heard a noise and on going to Martery's cell found that he was hanging from the door with his braces around his neck. They quickly pushed open the door and cut him down. Martery soon recovered from the effects of his attempt and as he became violent Supt. Grimes, who also had come on the scene, ordered that a straight jacket be put on him. He struggled so hard that five policemen were required to control him. He was then taken to his cell and Const. Skanford was detailed specially to watch him. He remained quiet for a short time, and then when he recovered his energy he freed himself from the straight jacket and tore it in pieces. He then tried to beat out his brains against the floor. The officers put manacles on his hands and tied his feet at the ankles. At midnight, completely exhausted by his struggles, he fell asleep. He is only 21 years of age, but is the hardest prisoner that the police had to deal with.

Footballers Entertained

At Bell Island Saturday Evening. After the football game at Bell Island Saturday evening, the winners, the Dominion team, were driven to the mines and entertained at the Wabana House by some ardent supporters of the team. Besides the football team, the referee, Mr. W. J. Higgins, and Dominion staff were present, and a most enjoyable time was spent. Songs, speeches and toasts were in evidence. At midnight the gathering dispersed, wishing the team a continuation of the success with which they opened the season of 1911.

The Management of Gas Cooking Stoves

The substitution of gas cookers in place of the kitchen coal range is much favoured nowadays, and the various makers of gas stoves have brought them to a very high standard of excellence. The use of gas instead of coal for cooking purposes has many distinct advantages in localities where it is obtainable at a reasonable rate. The Advantages of Gas Cooking Stoves. 1. They are economical, providing the gas is not used carelessly. 2. They are convenient; they can be lighted and extinguished instantly, and are always ready day or night. 3. They are clean, causing no dust or smoke, and utensils are kept clean. 4. They are easily managed, even by inexperienced workers. 5. Heat can be regulated with the greatest ease and certainty. 6. Time is saved, as there are no fires to clean, coals to carry, or stoking required. 7. Stoves can be hired at reasonable rates from the gas companies, and their broken or worn parts are replaced free of charge by the company. 8. Meat cooked in a gas oven loses less in weight than if cooked in a coal range.

Smith Released.

Hy. Smith, who arrived here on the 8th inst. from Akron, Ohio, via Boston, and said he had been robbed of $150 by a man calling himself E. M. Rice, was yesterday released from the Penitentiary and is now being taken care of by the American Consul here. Several letters arrived here for Smith since his incarceration in the Penitentiary from Boston, but none referred to Rice or spoke of any pulp company. Some of them dealt with the divorce suit mentioned by the Telegram, and in which he was engaged looking up evidence for his parties concerned, and he was asked to return quickly to Boston. Smith is still an enigma to the police. He yet holds to the assertion that he was robbed by Rice.

Pope to King George.

Papal Mission Will Bear Precious Gifts to Coronation. Rome, June 10.—The Pontifical mission to the Court of St. James for the Coronation festivities will be headed by Monsignor Granito di Belmonte, late Nunzio at Vienna, who accompanied the mission on the occasion of the Victorian Golden Jubilee, and ten years later on represented Pope Leo XIII. at the Diamond Jubilee in London. The Pope attached special importance to this delegation, seeing that it is the first English Coronation ceremony since the abolition of the offensive anti-Catholic Royal oath. Mgr. di Belmonte, who is bringing a distinguished suite with him, will be created a Cardinal on his return to Rome. He will be the bearer of an autograph letter and a precious gift from His Holiness to King George.

LONDON, June 19. Thousands of Londoners are fleeing from the city to escape the hordes of sightseers from the provinces and abroad, whose capacity for Coronation festivities is so boundless that night, so far as sleep is concerned, has become a decidedly curtailed period.
