Government Cattle-Jobbing.

The Daily News betrays a singular lack of alacrity in publishing the doings of the Government as regards jobbing in Burin cattle.

For the new road around Burin District, now nearing completion, the Editor of the Daily News has words of commendation, but for the Burin cattle-jobbing he has not even a word of news. He maintains silence, just silence, and nothing more. We are somewhat surprised at the attitude of our morning contemporary. For we have read paens of praise on the Premier as the Apostle of publicity. We have waded through column after column of advertisement of the Premier's doing in the Burin District, and even gone through that fearsome concoction on the financing of the branch railways, which is to be found in the Burin Manifesto. But there appears to be strange streaks in this mission of publicity. It seems to be publicity of a sort, sandwiched with silence of another sort. There is silence, grim and determined, about the accrued cost of the Bonavista railway. There is not a word about the estimated cost of what remains to be done in connection with it. There is not even a denial of our suggestion that the Government will not come out of the completion of the Bonavista Branch at less than $20,000 a mile. There is no refutation of our estimate that the total cost of the building of the Bonavista and Trepassay branches will amount to as much as was realized out of the 1910 Railway Loan.

Again, the Government agricultural team have not a word for the public about that unadvertised sale of stocks at the Government farms. They do not tell the people how many head of cattle were sold. They have no information for the public about the place or people from whom the Government purchased the cattle. They do not tell how much was taken out of the chest to buy them, to transport them to St. John's, and to feed them. Nor have they any account to give the people, whose money they were using, how much the sales realized, and how the Government came out financially from its venture in cattle-jobbing. They have also no explanation to give the general body of farmers and other cattle buyers why they were not invited to take a part in what was doing. The Government Campaign in publicity we repeat seems to run in streaks. It is sandwiched largely with layers of silence concerning which the Government does not take the public into its confidence. But the people are all the more curious about them, and in future will be all the more inquisitive. Pepper for poultry may be an old woman's recipe for egg laying; but, the people are laying in a sufficient stock of cayenne pepper which will make the Picnic Party skip out next general election.

Easy to Tell.

"There's a married man," said a man who stood in front of a grocer's shop one Saturday night. The one to whom he pointed was standing on the corner.

"How do you know?" the man with the detective instinct was asked.

"Oh, it's easy to pick them," he replied. "There's another, and there's another." He pointed to two others who were sauntering back and forth, one young, the second grey-haired and smoking a cigar.

"So is that fellow there with the perambulator," the speaker continued. "You can't make any mistake about him. Their wives are in the shop, spending the week's allowance, and the men are waiting for them. You know the men hate shopping."

"There! Wasn't I right?" he asked as a woman came out of the shop and walked away with one of the men. After a time another woman appeared and was joined by one of the sauntering men.

Then out came the woman who belonged to the pram, and after depositing an armful of small packages at the feet of the baby that party moved on.

"How did you come to notice this?" the student of human nature was asked.

"I learned it by experience," was his answer.

Just then he lifted his hat to a woman who came out of the shop. She slipped her hand under his arm and they walked away together.

Our Ad. Readers.

OUR advertising readers are the people who are making their money go as far as it did in the olden times. They are the people who study the advertising in the "People's Paper," the Evening Telegram. They are the people who study the "spending" of money as well as the "making." The "Telegram ad. readers" are the greatest ad. readers in the city, and the "Evening Telegram" carries the greatest number of money saving ads in Newfoundland.

Preacher Who Tied Astor's Knot Resigns

Providence, R.I., November 9.—Because of the criticism resulting from his marrying Col. John Jacob Astor and Miss Madeline T. Forest at Newport on September 9, the Rev. Joseph Lambert has resigned as pastor of the Elmwood Temple (Congregational) of this city and will leave the ministry to go into business. His retirement will be considered by the church at a meeting on November 16.

"There has been a lot of unkind things said against me, especially by the ministers of this city," said Mr. Lambert. "I did not feel that I could continue in the work as I could not put the same spirit into it as before."

Dignity and Impudence

A Macnamara family story is told of an occasion when Dr. Macnamara took his little son down to the House of Commons. He was, as usual, accorded the privilege given to well-known M.P.'s of having the traffic stopped by the policeman on duty at the corner of Parliament Street.

When Dr. Macnamara and his little son—the latter greatly impressed by the policeman's attention—had crossed to the other pavement, the youngster stopped.

"Let's go back and have that done again!" he suggested.

Hang Companion to Telegraph Pole

Residents of Delorimier avenue were treated to an exhibition of real wild west life between 7 and 8 last evening when a gang of young boys swooped down on a companion and securely tied him to a telegraph pole and his companions dressed in Italian garb were dancing a war dance around him.

Ernest Demers, 19 years old, 339 Delorimier Avenue, was the victim. When a squad of police, headed by Sgt. Cabana, arrived the others made their escape, leaving Demers tied to the pole.

Sgt. Cabana said this morning that there were between two and three hundred people gathered on the street watching the performance and all the time Demers was crying to be liberated. So securely was he bound and tied to the pole that the police were unable to liberate him completely until he had been conveyed to the station.

When arraigned before Mr. Recorder Weir on a charge of creating a disturbance, Demers pleaded guilty and was allowed his liberty on suspended sentence.

Amongst the many sudden and sad deaths which took place was that of Mrs. E. Lineham, formerly Margaret Norris of Salmonier, which occurred on Nov. 6th, the result following an operation from which she never recovered. Mrs. Lineham was one who was always admired for her sweet and gentle disposition. The funeral was held from her home, 2158 Nostrand Ave., thence to the Grand Central Station, where her husband and cousin conveyed her body to her former home in Newfoundland for burial. We extend our most sincere sympathy to the husband and darling children, also to her mother, sisters and brothers.—Com. Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 11, 1911.
