Here is Something
Of Vital Interest
To Everyone.

These Are the Best Bargains in This City To-Day.

They have been secured as news, they are printed as news; they are unpaid for by any one.
We are sure that they are extraordinary values for the money. And that is all with which we are concerned.

If you are in need of the articles quoted below, it will certainly pay you to make your shopping expedition as early as you can. The one thing every merchant finds it hard to do is to supply all of the demands for the extra good things he has to sell. So by all means shop as early as you can for these values which are published here.

This is simply another method by which this paper hopes to be a benefit to its subscribers in a commercial way, quite aside from its columns of news. It is a method by which we hope to interest more and more people in the advertising as well as the news columns of this paper.

There ought to be literally thousands of you people after these values just as quickly as you can get to them. Here they are:—

MORRIS'S DUPLICITY.

On Friday last we exposed the duplicity of Sir Edward Morris in regard to the Crane-Dubois prosecution, and yesterday we showed up his inconsistent attitude in the matter of taxation. After he left the Liberal Government Sir Edward accused Sir Robert of increasing taxation and set the accusation forth as a reason why the Liberal Government should be defeated. A few months before he left the Government he was lauding the Government in the House of Assembly for reducing the taxation $250,000, spending $300,000 in increased grants for education, lighthouses, coast service, etc., and assigned the prosperity of country to the development policy and the Bond Government.

To-day we direct attention to the duplicity of Sir Edward Morris in regard to what the Tories have dubbed the Secret Letter. It is an old chestnut now, but the Tories bring it out to serve a turn every now and again.
They made great play with it at the last election. It was used also as a reason why Bond should be defeated.

This is how it was used in one of the pamphlets widely circulated by the Morris party:—

The gravamen of the charge was that the letter was secret and "cost the Colony a million and a quarter dollars, which we need not in existence." Such was the charge made by Morris. Here is the rebuttal of it, made by E. P. Morris and C. H. Emerson in the House of Assembly in March 9th, 1903.

E. P. Morris.—There was one statement made by Mr. Watson he desired to say a few words upon. In reference to the Railway Arbitration, Mr. Watson stated that Mr. Lyttelton, one of the arbitrators, had, in giving his decision, said the Colony had been invalued about $300,000 by a letter written to the Colonial Secretary. He had to some extent been connected with the arbitration and may be considered as knowing whereof he was talking about. He would now say that no such statement had ever been made, or any other words used by Mr. Lyttelton, or any gentleman connected with the arbitration, that such an inference could be drawn. The letter so much spoken of had no influence whatever upon the arbitrators. To the man in the street and to those who knew nothing about this matter preposterous nonsense had been circulated as facts. There was nothing concealed from the people of the Colony or the Legislature, while as a matter of fact Mr. Robinson, while Colonial Secretary, had received a similar claim from Mr. Reid, but not the claim submitted to the arbitrators amounting to $2,240,000. Every statement made was absolutely without foundation and would in no way be justified or substantial. The award, $800,000 was a liability that existed if the '98 Contract had never been amended. The letter spoken about had nothing whatever to do with creating this liability.

Mr. Emerson.—There was one statement, however, made by the member for Trinity that should not be allowed to go unchallenged. That gentleman had just stated that Mr. Lyttelton, the Government Arbitrator, had said that owing to the existence of what Mr. Watson called a secret letter the Colony was obliged to pay $300,000 more than it should have been called upon to pay had that letter not been written. There was no such thing as a secret letter. He had been connected with that arbitration and had attended every meeting and could positively state that no such words were used by Mr. Lyttelton or by any other of the arbitrators. Mr.
Lyttelton did not make use of the words attributed to him by the hon. member, Mr. Watson.

tained for bait daily at Harbor Breton enthusiasm in the Protestant Hall.

Many thousands who had not been able to gain admission held a meeting around a huge bon-fire.

Bumper Crops.

Special to Evening Telegram.
WASHINGTON, To-day.
The crops generally throughout the world this year will be bumper. This is shown by figures in the cablegram received by the Department of Agriculture from the International estimate at Rome, giving the preliminary estimates of the average of production of wheat, rye, barley, oats and corn.

OLD TIMER HERE.—Mr. Geo.
Dodd who for years has resided at Come By Chance, arrived here yesterday on business. Mr. Dodd is an old St. John's man, is a tailor by trade, and for years conducted a large establishment on Gower Street. He is a very old man but is still "hale and hearty."

which were so successful at Toronto, will be banquetted at Smithville tomorrow night by the warrant officers and non-coms. of the four city brigades.
The commissioned officers will attend also and a number of friends of the lads. The Governor will also be

To-day being the Feast of Our Lady of Mercy the Patroness of the order of the Sisters of Mercy, the pupils attending the Mercy Convent, were given in a body with all the good nuns who teach them went to Holy Communion.

SCARLET FEVER AT LITTLE-DALE.—Scarlet Fever showed itself at Littledale this morning when it was discovered that a little five year to prevent the fever from spreading.

The health authorities cannot ac-cure for the origin of the outbreak at Littledale.

LECTURE ON TURKEY.—Next Monday night Mr. Kramrich, the Servian Consul, will lecture in the Presbyterian Hall on "Turkey in time of Peace and War." In view of the war at present raging between Italy and Turkey and the ever-recurring trouble between the Porte and the Christian States of the Ottoman Empire it should prove interesting and of object of the lecture will also commend itself to the favourable attention of the public. The proceeds are for the Marine Disasters Fund.

Fire Last Night.

At 11.55 last night an alarm of fire turned in from box 26 near Callahan & Glass factory, brought the Western & Central firemen with their apparatus to the "British House" kept by Mrs. Ledrew. A lamp exploded in one of the bedrooms on the second flat and fired the curtains which were destroyed. It is a three story house and had the fire occurred later when the rooms upstairs would have been occupied it would have been attended with great loss of life and possibly the total destruction of the building. The boarders and others present stopped the further progress of the blaze with a few buckets of water.

On Second Thought.

BY JAY E. HOUSE.
An unmarried man can go down town when he gets ready. But a married man must wait until his wife picks the ravellings off his clothes.
A widower with a houseful of children can get married any time. But a widow with a houseful of children should open her boarding house without unnecessary delay.
In every town there are men who, in the matter of being saved, give the traveling evangelist the preference over the local preacher.
When a farmer decides to take a vacation he buys an excursion ticket and goes to a new country to look at the land.
When a marriage takes place the qualifications of the husband with reference to his ability to make his wife comfortable and give her a place in society are a good deal discussed. But the qualifications of the wife with reference to making a home pleasant and happy are seldom mentioned. Nobody seems to consider that of any importance.

The baby question may be settled in that way. If it is your baby it is a precious treasure. If it isn't your baby it is a nuisance.

When a man prefaces the story which he is about to tell with the inquiry as to whether his listeners have heard it, it is considered the polite thing for the listeners to say they never have, no matter how familiar it is to them.

It can be said of every rich man that he did not make his money raising Angora goats.

When your hair starts going it doesn't say, "au revoir." It says "good bye."

The Kaiser Rampant.

We can scarcely imagine anything more hated and more detested than the type of Socialism that places the abolition of monarchy in the forefront of its programme than the speech of the Kaiser at the Brandenburg banquet," says the Star.

The German Empire is once again in the throes of a great agitation for the abolition of the food taxes. The Kaiser's people are going backward and forwards across the Swiss frontier in order to buy meat in the Republic, where it is so much cheaper than within their own borders. The consumption of horseflesh has undergone an enormous increase; and even dogs are being killed for food. The cost of doing everything in common use is rising rapidly. Yet the Kaiser can look round and tell the Brand-enburgers:—

"I think that we can be content with the conditions which prevail today."
The Emperor left the hungry people of his Empire in no doubt as to why he considered the conditions under which they hunger satisfactory he said:

Protected by an army ready for battle and by an ever-growing navy from foreign arrogance and from the onslaughts of war, the countryman is able in our ordered commonwealth to fill his land, the merchant, the manufacturer, and the artisan to follow each his business, and the labourer to be certain of his well-deserved hire.
They all can rejoice in the blessings of our civilisation."
